ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

This book would not have been possible without the help and support of many people, especially the members of my extended family.

Special thanks are due two of my aunts, Carrie Martha (Stephens) Johnson (1922-1991) and Edith Virginia (Stephens) Harris, who were of enormous help to me in collecting information concerning the Stephens family.

Thanks to my daughter, Emily Ruth Stephens, for the artistic contributions.

Mrs. LaNora Nyquist, of Vista, CA, has been especially helpful in supplying information to the author concerning the early history of the Stephens family. Many thanks to Mrs. Nyquist.

DEDICATION

This book is dedicated to my mother, Dora Lee (Jenkins) Stephens Allen, and to the memory of my father, Cecil Francis Stephens (1914-1961).

FORWARD

This book has been written mainly for the author's immediate family. It is realized that much of the information on the 20'th. century Stephens families will be of interest only to the close relatives of the author. However, this book does contain much information on many collateral and maternal families.

The author is working on a comprehensive genealogy of the STEPHENS family that descended from John and Lucretia (Gaskill) Stephens which he hopes to publish within a few years. It is hoped that readers of this book will send the author additions and corrections which might be included in future publications.

Care has been used to prepare an accurate history of the Stephens family, however, it is certain that many errors or omissions will be contained within this book. The author is sorry for any erroneous information that may be included, but assumes no liability for damages resulting from the use of the information contained herein.

CHAPTER I. JOHN and LUCRETIA (GASKILL) STEPHENS

SECTION 1.

128. John STEPHENS (1735-1787)
129. Lucretia Gaskill (1744-1785)

John, the earliest known proven progenitor of our STEPHENS clan, was born about 1735 in England.[1] John, a blacksmith sawmill operator, and large land holder on Crosswick Creek[2] in Freehold, Monmouth County, New Jersey, married[33] Lucretia Gaskill about 1760, probably in Monmouth County, New Jersey. Lucretia was born in 1744 in Burlington County, New Jersey, and is the daughter[4] of 258. Edward Gaskill and 259. Elizabeth Lippencott.[5] Lucretia died[6] by 22 August 1785 in Freehold, Monmouth Co., NJ, before her youngest son, Stacy, was seven years old.[7] John soon afterwards married his second wife, Fanny Brock.[8] However, John died in 1787, very shortly after his marriage to Fanny, and she soon remarried to Thomas Emley, Jr.[9]

John STEPHENS is listed on the 1778-1780 Tax List of Upper Freehold, Monmouth County, New Jersey.[10]

1. Many family histories, letters, and traditions indicate John came to the Colonies from England, however, no primary proof of this fact is known to this author.

10. Kenn Stryker-Rodda, Revolutionary Census of New Jersey(New Jersey: Hunterdon House, 1986).

Many members of the Gaskill family in New Jersey were Quakers,[1] but John STEPHENS was believed to belong to the Episcopal[2] Church. Thus, it appears that John STEPHENS and Lucretia Gaskill were married outside the Quaker Church, for a notation in New Jersey Quaker Genealogy[3] states that "1765, Sept. 5, Lucretia STEPHENS, dau. of Edward Gaskill, was disowned, was married contrary to the discipline and rules of the Quaker Church." The rules of the Quaker Church[4] state: "One must take their marriage vows inside of a Quaker Church, and if they do not, and do not return to the religion of their parents within five years, they are disowned by their parents and the church." From the above it is estimated that John and Lucretia were married about 1760, since they were "disowned" in 1765, supposedly five years after their marriage. A marriage date of 1760 also is congruent with the date of birth of their oldest son in 1761.

It is not known with any certainty that John STEPHENS was an American Revolutionary War Soldier. The only known possible record for John is the following taken from the Pennsylvania Archives:[5] "STEPHENS, John, clothing given by the government, Jan. 1, 1777, when he returned to Philadelphia. Shoes, 1. Breeches 1. Shirts 1. Jackets 1. Blankets 1." Another item in the same reference[6] states "Private John STEPHENS under Capt. Parr..."

The known children[7] of John and Lucretia, listen in order of birth, are 128(1) Samuel, 128(2) Edward, 128(3) Thomas, 128(4)64 James, 128(5) Apollo, 128(6) John, Jr., and 128(7) Stacy. There has been speculation of a possibility of two daughters, Lucretia and Mary,[1] in the family, but no proof has turned up and this seems unlikely.

NEW JERSEY ESTATE RECORDS

The will[2] of John STEPHENS was written 2 January 1787 and was proven in Monmouth County, New Jersey, 23 March 1787. The complete text of the will and other estate records are included at the end of this chapter, but an abstract[3] of the will is as follows:

> 2 Jan. 1787 Stephens, John, of Freehold, Monmouth Co., Blacksmith; will of. My saw mill to be sold. Son, James, land on line of John Antram, of 3 acres, when he is 21. Son, Apollo, land joining his brother, James. Son, Thomas, land along the Island meadow. Son, Edward, land along Thomas'. Son, John, also land. Son, Samuel, house I live in. Son, Stacy, rest of home place. Wife, Fanny, all she brought with her, and L10 yearly. Executors--son, Samuel and my wife, Fanny. Witnesses--John Antram, William French, Thomas Walling. Proven March 23, 1787.
> 1787, March 19. Inventory, L192.19.2, made by John Antram and Francis Shinn.

John's will and estate inventory indicates that he was a fairly wealthy man for his time, living in "the town of Upper Freehold, Monmouth Co., state of East New Jersey." He owned much land, blacksmith shop, saw mill, and much personal property. It should also be noted that John spelled his name STEPHENS on his will. His name, and that of his descendants, is found to be spelled both as STEPHENS and STEVENS in the records over the years, but presumably, John used the spelling STEPHENS.

John mentions in his will that his second wife Fanny is to have the use of two rooms in the house, the use of the kitchen, the pump, a cord of wood, etc. Fanny soon remarried and signed an indenture releasing these rights in John's house, which had been willed to Samuel. An abstract[4] of the indenture is as follows:

1. A handwritten family "history" believed to have been written by Jesse T. Stephens, Box 208, Witkes, AK, was sent by Myrtle Stephens to Mrs. Emma Loar Gaddis on 4 October 1939. This history was titled as Genealogy of the Stephens Family from First Settlement in America to Jan. 1, 1937. This three-page document has much information, some of which is known to be wrong, but also much information which has been confirmed. A copy of this letter is included at the end of chapter II.

The will of Edward Gaskill, Lucretia's father, is a very important document relating to the STEPHENS history.[1] The will, among other things, gives proof of the maiden name of Lucretia, proof of the marriage of Lucretia Gaskill to John STEPHENS, and names the children of John and Lucretia. This will also gives proof that Lucretia died before 22 August 1785. An abstract[2] of Edward Gaskill's New Jersey will is as follows:

22 August 1785. Gaskill, Edward, of Springfield, Burlington County; will of. Son, Job, 1/2 of land and plantation adjoining land of Samuel Barker; he paying L250. Son, Barzillai, L550. Son, Thomas, the other 1/2 of land and plantation; he paying L300. Grandsons, John Stevens, Jr., James Stevens, Appollo Stevens and Stacy Stevens (sons of John Stevens and Lucretia, his late wife, my dec'd daughter), each L5, when 21. Residue and remainder to the 3 sons: Barzillai, 1/2 part and Job and Thomas, each 1/4 part. Executors--sons, Job and Thomas. Witnesses--Joseph Biddle, Sarah Biddle and Stacy Biddle.
Proven Sept. 13, 1796.

Several references have indicated that Lucretia Chetfield married first Edward Gaskill who died in England, and second, married John STEPHENS. Obviously, Lucretia's maiden name was Gaskill, as proven by her father's will. The name Chetfield, does appear many times, including a family Bible[3] that was in John's son, Stacy's family. It appears that Lucretia Gaskill may have married a Mr. Chetfield first, and John STEPHENS, second.

3. Emma Loar Gaddis, Loar Genealogy. This reference contains the following statement: "Dr. Clarence Wright, a g-g-Son, said he found in his mother's possessions (Mary Lavina Stephens) a leaf out of an old Stephens Bible (supposed to be her father Stacy's.) containing this statement: Loucretia Chetfield, b in England M. Edward Gaskill, who d in England. Lucretia Gaskill m John Stephens of n. Jersey....."

There is no proof of the latter, but it would explain the known facts.[1] Many old notes and letters, including the book[2] written by Mrs. Emma Loar Gaddis, indicates that Edward Gaskill's wife was Lucretia Chitwood and that Edward and Lucretia were the parents of John's wife Lucretia Gaskill. However, this has to be wrong, since it is known that Edward Gaskill married Elizabeth Lippencott 1 August 1732, in Burlington County, New Jersey.[3]

UNPROVEN EARLY HISTORY OF STEPHENS FAMILY

Many early short histories of the John STEPHENS family written by his descendants have some details in common, but also many which are contradictory. The information given in this section should not be taken as fact, but only as interesting possibilities concerning the early ancestry of our family.

A document[4] entitled "STEPHENS HISTORY" with a notation that it was copied 13 Jan. 1954 for Stacy STEPHENS of Mt. Morris (Pennsylvania)....indicates that "Tradition has it or it has been said that in the first place three STEPHENS brothers came over from England in <the> early days before the Revolutionary War. The STEPHENS people are of English descent."

"One of these brothers settled in New Jersey, one settled in Eastern Pennsylvania and the other one migrated to Virginia. Stacy STEPHENS was  descendant of the one who settled in New Jersey."

Another document[5] entitled GENEALOGY OF THE STEPHENS FAMILY FROM FIRST SETTLEMENT IN AMERICA TO JANUARY 1, 1937, states....."John and Robert STEPHENS (Scotsmen) emigrated from England to America about the year 1720, settling in New Jersey at Jersey City. Both being married, their wives being Scotch Women. John was a farmer. Robert a machinist, who afterward became prominent in engine and ship building." This article also states that "John and his wife had eight children, six boys and two girls. Their names being John, Edward, Apollo, Stacy, Thomas, and James. The girls were Lucretia and Mary."

---

1. A page of notes entitled "Records of Henry Stephens. Luella Apt., Wayne, Pa.," with a notation at end of page "Copied by C. C. Wright," indicates that John Stephens m. Lucretia Chetfield Gaskill. These notes came from the Lillian Evans files, Greene Co., PA, and were supplied to author by Dr. A.J.W. Headlee, of Morgantown, WV. Note that this statement differs from that of Dr. Wright's in the Loar Genealogy.

2. Emma Loar Gaddis, Loar Genealogy.

3. Judith M. Olsen, Lippincott: Five Generations of the Descendants of Richard and Abigail Lippincott.

4. A document from the Lillian Evans files, received by author from Dr. A.J.W. Headlee, entitled: Stephens History, with a notation that it was copied 13 Jan. 1954 for Stacy Stephens of Mt. Morris, PA. A copy of this history is included at the end of chapter.

5. A handwritten family history believed to have been written by Jesse T. Stephens, 4 Oct. 1939.

It appears that the preceding "history" omitted John & Lucretia's oldest son, Samuel. As mentioned earlier, there appears to be no proof that John & Lucretia had any daughters who survived childhood.

Early New Jersey records[1] show that in a list of "servants imported into this Province - by William Dockwra and brought to be registered this thirteenth day of August Anno DM 1685 are as follows: John STEPHENS - Blacksmith, imported 10 Feb. 1684." It is of course not known if this John is perhaps the father or grandfather of the John STEPHENS who married Lucretia Gaskill about 1760.

Another interesting early New Jersey record[2] is as follows: 27 June 1755..."Then John Stevens Gaue in his Ear Mark for his Cattel to be Recorded as followeth acrap Cut of Each Ear and ahalf penney on the under Side of the Right Ear. Entred Pr Me John Wall Town Clerk. Recorded to Jonathan Harber." Again, there is only the possibility that this reference is to our John STEPHENS.

ANCESTRY OF LUCRETIA (GASKILL) STEPHENS

As noted earlier, Lucretia is the daughter of 258. Edward Gaskill, and 259. Elizabeth Lippencott. Edward Gaskill,IV was born 1706 and died 29 August 1796, in Burlington Co., NJ. Edward married Elizabeth Lippencott 10 August 1732 in Burlington Co., NJ. Elizabeth Lippencott was born ca. 1706 and died after 1748, in Burlington Co., NJ. It should be noted that Edward & Elizabeth descend[3] from many of the early colonial families of the United States, many of whom were prominent in history. Many of the early ancestors were Quakers and much information concerning the families can be found in Quaker records. Lucretia (Gaskill) STEPHENS is a direct descendant[4] of 2068. John Endicott,[5] who, in 1628, became the first Governor of the Massachusetts Bay Colony.[6] Other family names in the direct lines of descent include HULET, SOUTHWICK, COGAN, GOWER, and SHATTUCK.

POSSIBLE PARENTS OF JOHN STEPHENS

It is believed that (128). John STEPHENS was born in England, and that he came to the Colonies when he was quite young. Many old family "histories" indicate that John was born in England, but no proof has been found.[1] If John was born in the Colonies, or came to the colonies when quite young, he may be the son of Thomas and Mary STEPHENS of Freehold, New Jersey. The above is only speculation based on a possible fit as to location and age, among other things. Thomas STEPHENS and his wife Mary of Freehold had three children Baptized on 3 Aug. 1735: John, Mary, and Thomas. This entry came from the Record Book of the Episcopal Churches in Monmouth County, New Jersey, and is included as a part of The Parish Register of Christ Church, Shrewsbury, New Jersey.[2] The date "from 1733" is listed on the fly leaf of the book. It would seem that our 128. John STEPHENS

---

1. Jacob Stephens of New Way, Licking County, Ohio, in a letter dated 5 August 1889, to Stacy Stephens of Kansas, asks Stacy if he knows in what County in England their grandfather was born. Jacob and Stacy were both grandsons of John and Lucretia. A copy of this letter is included at the end of the chapter.

2. John E. Stillwell, M.D., Historical and Genealogical Miscellany, pages 157 and 159.

was born about 1735. It should also be noted[1] that on the same day that the children of Thomas and Mary STEPHENS were baptized, James, son of Joseph & Alice Throckmorton, was also baptized. Throckmorton is a common surname in the early history of Greene County, Pennsylvania, the same county to which five sons of John and Lucretia (Gaskill) STEPHENS emigrated.[2]

It is believed that Thomas STEPHENS, the father of John, Mary, and Thomas, is a son of Capt. Nicholas Stevens, who died 1760/63 in New Jersey, and his wife Elizabeth.[3]

Among the family histories which suggest that our John STEPHENS came from England is the family history as told by Walter Scott STEPHENS[4] of Salem, West Virginia. Walter had a muzzle loading rifle that, according to family tradition, had belonged to John who had brought the rifle with him from England. The rifle was passed along to John's son, 128(5) Apollo STEPHENS, on to his son, Henry W. STEPHENS, and on to his son, Walter Scott STEPHENS. The rifle is now (1984) in the possession of Walter's son, Raymond Eugene STEPHENS of Detroit, Michigan. Walter indicates that the rifle barrel is 41 inches long, and the rifle is 58 inches long over all.[5]

WESTWARD MIGRATION OF THE SONS OF JOHN & LUCRETIA STEPHENS

Two sons of John and Lucretia STEPHENS, 128(1) Samuel, and 128(3) Thomas, remained in the New Jersey, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania area. The other five sons, 128(2) Edward, 128(4)64 James, 128(5) Apollo, 128(6) John, Jr., and 128(7) Stacy, all emigrated[2] to Greene and Whitely Townships, Greene County, Pennsylvania during the years 1794-1796.[3]

3. L.K. Evans, Pioneer History of Greene County, Pennsylvania.

Greene County historian, Howard Leckey,[1] states that "The STEPHENS Family of Big Whitely Creek and Dunkard Creek are of New Jersey origin."

Edward and Stacy STEPHENS remained in Greene County, Pennsylvania until the end of their lives. Apollo migrated to Monroe County, Ohio, where he died. John, Jr., it is believed, also went to Ohio, exact location not known, but may have been Noble or Guernsey County, Ohio. James, after moving for a short time from Greene County to Shelby County, Indiana, moved back to Jake's Run, Monongalia County, now West Virginia, where he remained until his death. The author of this book descends from James.

In another reference to the children of John and Lucretia STEPHENS, Catherine R. (Home) STEPHENS wrote in a letter[2] dated 10 November 1935, that "We have found on the flyleaf of an old Bible in the possession of my brother Henry, the following: Samuel, son of John STEPHENS and Lucritty (?) his wife. The date the Bible was printed was 1593, but someone had written 1806 above it as though computing the age of the Book."

Dr. Alvah J. W. Headlee has estimated that John and Lucretia (Gaskill) STEPHENS probably had about 76 grandchildren, of which he names 46. In addition, he estimates that by now the direct descendants of John and Lucretia would number several hundred thousand.[3]

By the late 1800's, the grandchildren of John and Lucretia, and their descendants, were found in many states and territories of the United States, including New Jersey, New York, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, Texas, Nebraska, and Iowa.

WILL
WRITTEN BY 128. JOHN STEPHENS DATED 2 JAN. 1787
Freehold, Monmouth Co., NJ

The following is a transcription from a photocopy of the original Will #5955M, recorded 23 March 1787, in Monmouth County, New Jersey. Lib. 29, page 303.

I, John Stevens, of the Township of Upper Freehold, in the county of Monmouth, and in the State of East New Jersey, Blacksmith, being weakly of body, but of a perfect and sound mind and memory, do make and ordain this my last will and testament in form following. First of all I will that all my just debts and funeral charges be paid and satisfied as soon as conveniently can be made by my executors. Item, it is my will that my saw mill shall be sold by my executors. Beginning at the lower post of the saw mill on the East side running about a chain and a half nearly an East course to the great road then along the great road almost a South course about a chain and a half then down into the channel of the creek then down the creek to the saw mill race then up the race to the place of beginning being about two or more acres more or less. Item, I give and bequeath unto my son James STEPHENS a lott of land Beginning in the line of John Antram about half a chain West of first run next the house where I live running pretty near a South course at the first long ridge that runs through the field to the horse pasture to the ditch bank then along by the side of the new meadow near about East five chains then nearly a North course to the line of John Antrim, then along Antrim's line to the place of Beginning, be it three acres more or less to him and his Heirs lawfully begotten when he arrives at the age of twenty-one. Item, I give and bequeath to my son Apollo STEPHENS another lott of land adjoining his Brother James, lying to the Eastward, running nearly the same course to the Right-hand bar post going into the Island Meadow, then near a North course to John Antrim's line, to him and his Heirs lawfully begotten when he arrives at the age of twenty- one years. It is my will that those two lots shall be equally divided according to quantity and quality. It is my will adjoining this last lot that there shall be a rod and a half in width to be for a road, laid out for a road to John Antrim's line for the privilege of my sons that have a back part of my plantation. Item, I give and bequeath to my son Thomas Stevens a lott of land beginning in Antrim's line at the East corner of the land running partly South East to a fence running between the middle meadow and the island Meadow, then along that fence nearly a South Course nearly two chains to a Stake in that fence, then nearly a West course to the corner of that lane, then to Antrim's line, to him and his Heirs lawfully begotten when he arrives at the age of twenty-one years. Item, I give and bequeath unto my Son Edward a Lott of Land Beginning at a Stake in the fence between the Island meadow and the middle meadow, running near an East course to the upper meadow fence where the ditch runs under the fence, then a North course up the fence to John Antrim's line, then down Antrim's line towards the saw mill till it comes opposite the fence that runs between the Island meadow and middle meadow, then down that fence to the place of beginning, to him and his Heirs lawfully begotten. Item, I give and bequeath unto my son John Stevens a lott of land beginning at a Black Ash, a corner for John Antrim and running along the line of Thomas Shinn, twelve chains to a corner of Eber Decois then near a West course four chains to a stake, then nearly a North West course, making of it two chains at the line of John Antrim, then along Antrim's line to the place of beginning, to him and his Heirs lawfully begotten when he arrives at the age of twenty-one years. Item, I likewise give and bequeath unto my son John Stevens the house and land adjoining where John Steward (or Shepard ?) now lives, beginning at a gum tree by the Mill pond, then straight across the road, near an East course one chain and an half, then a South course in the field, to run that course until it comes to the Orchard, to take in two rows of Apple trees, then through the Orchard down to the Mill pond, then down the Mill pond to the place of beginning, to him and his Heirs lawfully begotten forever. Item, I give and bequeath to my son Thomas Stevens the House and Lot wherein William Fenton now lives to him and his Heirs lawfully begotten when he arrives at the age of twenty-one years. Item, I give and bequeath unto my son Samuel Stevens the house that I now live in beginning on John Antrim's line about a half chain length West of the little run next the house then running nearly South to the ditch bank at the horse pasture then along the side of the new pasture nearly about East then ten chains more or less to a Bass post then a South course up that fence to the woods near an East course to a bass post about four chains more or less then up that fence by the side of the woods near a South Course to run into the field till it comes opposite the bass to be near a West course then cross the field to the bass then near a South course to a Black Oak corner to me and Israel Woodward with all the rest of my land and improvements which I have not before willed away lying West of my Plantation to him and his Heirs lawfully begotten forever. Item, I give and bequeath to my son Stacy Stevens all the remainder part of my plantation which I have not bequeathed before lying to the South East of my plantation to him and his Heirs lawfully begotten when he arrives at the age of Twenty-one years. Item, I give unto my beloved wife Fanny STEPHENS two rooms in the house which she may choose, privilege of the kitchen and cellar and the pump during she remains my widow, likewise the goods she brought along with her, with a cow which she may choose, the cow to be kept winter and summer by my son Samuel. Samuel to cut her firewood, to haul it to the door and Samuel to have the benefit of Stacy's place until Stacy comes of age and likewise Samuel shall pay unto her ten pounds yearly out of his place and Stacy's as long as she remains my widow, and if my moveables is not sufficient to pay my debts then the Saw Mill to be sold and the overplus if any to be equally divided among my children and for the just execution hereof I do appoint my loving Son Samuel Stevens, Executor and my beloved wife Fanny Stevens Executrix of this my last Will and Testament. In Witness hereof I have set my Hand and Seal this Second Day of January Anno Domini One Thousand Seven Hundred and Eighty Seven, 1787.

NOTES

The above transcription of the will and inventory was completed from a photocopy of the original estate records of John STEPHENS which was obtained from New Jersey by Mrs. LaNora Nyquist, and kindly supplied to this author. Note that John STEPHENS signs his name as STEPHENS to the will, but that the spellings Stevens and STEPHENS are both used in the body of the will which is not in John's handwriting. The photocopy of the original inventory of the John STEPHENS estate is quite difficult to read, but was transcribed as near as possible to reflect the original spelling, etc. However, many of the above articles may be wrong due to the difficulty in reading the copy.

LETTER

To: STACY STEPHENS, Franklin County, Kansas
From: AZARIAH(?) STEPHENS, Redding, Ringgold Co., Iowa

The letter below is copied, as near as possible, to match a photocopy of a letter received from Gerald STEPHENS, Morgantown, WV, 1n 1989. Obvious misspelled words were corrected in the transcription below. The letter was written to Stacy STEPHENS, son of James & Mary Ann (Stull) STEPHENS. The letter was written by one of the children of Stacy and Elizabeth (Hatfield) STEPHENS, almost certainly son, Azariah, who was living in Ringgold Co., Iowa at the time. Both the writer and the recipient of the letter would be grandsons of John & Lucretia (Gaskill) STEPHENS. The first page of a handwritten copy of the letter was received as well as a more complete typed copy of the letter. The handwritten copy may also have been a transcription of the original, or a photocopy of the first page of the original letter.

Redding, Ringold County Iowa
April 19 th, 1889

Dear Cousin Stacy STEPHENS

Brother Wm. (Golden) sent me a letter written by you requesting me to give a (his) story of our grandfather STEPHENS.

He was all that came from England that I ever heard of; settled in New Jersey. He had six boys: John, Edward, James, Pollard, Stacy & Samuel.

Grandfather's death, as near as I can give it, was in 1780. Some where, I think, about 87 or 88.

When John, Edward, James & Pollard came to Greene County, Pennsylvania (it) was as near, (as I can tell), 1790. Stacy came in 1799. He and Pollard ran a Black Smith Shop together. The rest engaged in farming. About 1796 John went to Ohio - Pollard went to Ohio in 1799, LIcking County near Zanesville - John had 3 children - Pollard 12 - a granddaughter now lives in New Ark, Licking County Ohio. She can give you more information that I can. - Her name is Lucretia Criner - Samuel STEPHENS went to Philadelphia and died there, had 2 children there all dead - we had no Aunts, 6 Uncles - this is the nearest I can give of them -- My Father had ten children 8 boys 2 girls - John had no Children - Hiram has 4 living children, grandchildren 23, great grandchildren 17. Stacy has 5 boys living, grandchildren 19 as near as I can recollect, great Grandchildren 2 - Pollard I cant give them for they are from Va. to Oregon, Barzilla has 3 living children, grandchildren 18, great grandchildren 3 - Lucretia has 4 living children, grandchildren 13 - Israel STEPHENS has 2 children, 2 grandchildren. Eliza STEPHENS has 5 children, 21 grandchildren. Washington has 8 children, 29 grandchildren - Azariah has 6 children, 13 grandchildren, this the best that I can do for our family.

My Nephew and I undertook to gather up our grandfathers Family - I got Lost - I don't now how he has got a long with it I will write to him and see what he has done, will you please give me what you have gathered now on the STEPHENS Families and oblige your cousin. I was in Pa. four months - Saw your brother Pollard he look real well he works two hard is what ails him - has no help - he has his second wife now - they enjoy themselves very much. I think to gather I am not able to do very much now - the rest of my family are as well as common - I have three children with me yet - they see to all - we have had the finest winter I ever saw in Iowa - feed plenty - stock looks fine - grass looks as well as last year at the first of May - Oats up very nice and green - if you come to Iowa come and sea me - the Hack passes by my door from Bedford every day - the trains comes every day from Kansas City by Saint Joe and to Blocton three miles west of me.

I send my Best Respects to you all.
Yours Ever

Dear Cousins

The letter you sent your Father from Cousin Stacy STEPHENS is before me. I am Oh! to glad to hear from him and would be so pleased to see the list of names and their address. Did you receive a letter from Cousin Leroy STEPHENS Mt Pleasant, Penn. -- he was hunting up the STEPHENS, contemplating a reunion in the future. I don't know how many he heard from. Our Forefathers I don't know much about. Grandfather, Stacy S, was the youngest his parents died when he was young 8 or 10 years of age. The older brothers five in number came to Penn. in 1780 & 90 in those years, they did not all come at one time.

Father is the youngest of a large family, he has only one brother living Washington STEPHENS, Brock, Green Co. Penn. he lives in the neighborhood of your Mother relatives - he remembers more of the older ones "Uncles" than Father does - we have a Cousin Jackson STEPHENS, New Way, Licking Ohio, he is among the older cousins he can give information - he lives in the STEPHENS settlement. Great Uncle Edward S. children our relatives are scattered far and wide. When the history of the early settlers of Green Co was written they said the STEPHENS was as many as the sands on the sea shore, (it is true I think). Well I will be pleased to hear from you and your success in searching the four corners of the earth for our friend, come and visit us - we are well trusting you and family are the same - with love and kindest regards.

To: Stacy Stephens

The letter below, dated August 5, 1889, was written by Jacob STEPHENS, son of William and Catherine (Long) STEPHENS. William is the son of Edward and Hannah (Woodward) STEPHENS. Edward is the son of John and Lucretia (Gaskill) STEPHENS. Jacob was born 1812 in Greene Co., PA. The letter is addressed to Stacy STEPHENS, living in Kansas, son of James and Mary Ann (Stull) STEPHENS. James is a son of John and Lucretia (Gaskill) STEPHENS. The letter below is a transcription to duplicate as close as possible the photocopy of a typed copy of the letter received from Gerald STEPHENS, Morgantown, WV, in 1989. Obvious misspellings were corrected. The letter has words crossed out and written over so that it is very difficult to read. In many cases, it is not possible to make any "sense" of the letter because of the misspelled words, etc. However, many of the sections do impart information that may be useful.

August the 5- 1889

Dear Stacy STEPHENS and friends

I will inform you that we all well at present hoping these times find you the same. Stacy I didn't know whether you was on earth or not I haven't heard from you since 1841. I was on my way to the east with cattle - my name is Jacob STEPHENS - son of William STEPHENS - great changes has been since that time - mother has gone to her long home in June the 9-1882 - John is dead - Edward and Hannah - Cassy is dead - James is in Iowa - in Bedford, Taylor County, Iowa - I have 404 acres of land - $10,000 in money at interest and what would I been worth if I was stayed in Greene County, Pa. Stacy you would think that the hills taken a secton(?) goth(?)- but God has pro???ed every thing good - great wealth is in the hills - s?????? oils is taken out near munpis(?) Dunkard township east of montis(?) by my connections there is a ??????? to Waynesburg and one from Pittsburgh up the Monongalia to Grafton on the Virginia side - we have good crops here of every thin(?).

Where is your uncle T. STEPHENS - Washington S. STEPHENS and where is Lucretia Criner - tell her write - oldest STEPHENS you know of - Alex STEPHENS is uncle Sam STEPHENS son - give me your fathers family by name commencing at oldest - give me name & address of the oldest STEPHENS you know of - can you give our grandfathers Post office address there in New Jersey or tell me who can give his address -- the rest dead and what county our great grandfather lived in England and county seat of the county.

Stacy you wanted to find out about our grandfathers - about getting up a book - I don't think it will be done - you can see what they have done - just look at the free country that we live in - I have been on the battle ground were they fought at Trenton and Brandywine in Chester county Pennsylvania under Washington - he lived Seder(?) creek in New Jersey about 45 miles from New York - I expect that we would be fighting yet but the <powder give out the brimstone - but I think that they smell it yet if they wont give up the fish trouble.> Stacy I woud like to see you face to face - I want you to write about your brothers. I don't no whether they are a living or not. Uncle Ned died in Harrisburg in 1843 - I have been at the same tavern often - he was on his return from Philadelphia that time - he had about 5,000 thousand dollars at the time - Joseph Morris went after the money - he was buried in Harrisburg cemetery - <only see where are blood is scattered over 2/5 Mirdes(?) of America> that STEPHENS is dead - he was Samuel STEPHENS son - he went to the south so grandfather told me. Stacy do you know that we are about one-half Welch - there is a great many Welch where I live - they have a Baptist church in Zaneville Ohio - it seems that they belong to that church. Jacob STEPHENS was born November 1812.

Write to me tell me how far (you) are from Wichita, Kansas Stacy. They tell me that the mosquitoes bite there so bad that a man has to draw his shirt to fight them. I pity the ladies <on the mosquitoes and wind there ????? are a coming> back to old Licking County Ohio.

STEPHENS HISTORY
Written about 13 January 1954

The following is a partial transcription of a typewritten history of the Stacy STEPHENS family that appears to have been written by Frances Long (Mrs. Edgar) Williams of Morgantown, WV, about 13 January 1954. This history was supplied to author by Dr. A.J.W. Headlee of Morgantown, WV.

STEPHENS HISTORY

Tradition has it or it has been said that in the first place three STEPHENS brothers came over from England in early days, before the Revolutionary War. The STEPHENS people are of English descent.

On of these brothers settled in New Jersey, one settled in Eastern Pennsylvania and the other one migrated to Virginia. Stacy STEPHENS was a descendant of the one who settled in N.J. The STEPHENS family of Big Whitely and Dunkard Creek are of New Jersey origin. They are said to belong to a family which consisted of seven brothers. Two of these brothers, William and Samuel STEPHENS, are reported to have stayed in New Jersey, while the other five, Edward, Apollo, James, John and Stacy STEPHENS came west before 1800.

Evans, in his Pioneer History of Greene County, says that during the years of 1794, 1795, and 1796, Stacy STEPHENS and his four brothers migrated to Greene County. Stacy STEPHENS was born in N.J. in 1779 and died in Greene County, October 30, 1861. Got married in 1799 to Elizabeth Hatfield, also from N.J. Both are buried at Garards Fort. Stacy STEPHENS was a blacksmith, having learned his trade at Trenton, N.J. and started the first regular shop in the vicinity of Garards Fort. It stood on the forks of the road that leads to the place known as the Benson Fordyee's farm. This place is known also as Moredock's Cross Roads at the head of Frosty Run. He shod the pack horses that transported the salt and other essential supplies from Winchester, Va. to supply the demands of the early settlers of Greene County. In the year of 1800, Mr. STEPHENS bought a farm a short distance above Garard's Fort, of which one acre was then cleared. In 1813 he built the stone house, near where a Mr. Brown has a chicken farm now. In later years his son Esariah STEPHENS owned and lived in the stone house.

John STEPHENS owned the farm, later owned by Nicholas Livengood, Edward STEPHENS owned the farm later owned by Jasper Morris, James STEPHENS owned the farm later owned by Eli Rose. James also known as Shuck STEPHENS. He owned 300 acres of good land just above Newtown, in Whitely Township, known as the Shuck Hollow. Apollo and John STEPHENS removed to the state of Ohio. The STEPHENS family have been an industrious and thrifty family.

(...A listing of the descendants of Stacy and Elizabeth (Hatfield) STEPHENS follows, but is not copied for the purposes of this transcription...)

James, John, and Stacy were very common names with the STEPHENS people. Many of the STEPHENS people, Hatfield's, Morris's, Minor's, Moredock's, Roberts's, Gregg's, Lemley's, and the Long's of the Muddy Creek Section and many others of Greene County and other parts of the country are descendants of the Stacy STEPHENS, the blacksmith of the early day, who put shoes on the pack horses, which carried salt and other necessary supplies to the settlers in Greene County. Winchester, Va. was the starting place for these pioneers.

Copied 1-13-54 for Stacy STEPHENS of Mt. Morris, Pa. son of Spencer STEPHENS by Frances Long Williams (Mrs. Edgar) of Morgantown, W. Va. granddaughter of Spencer STEPHENS.

August 16, 1968 - Copies were given to Mary STEPHENS Bonebrake, David STEPHENS, and Euphan STEPHENS Judy, children of Connor STEPHENS, and grandchildren of Spencer STEPHENS. Also, Helen STEPHENS Titus daughter of Stacy STEPHENS.

CHAPTER II. JAMES and MARY ANN (STULL) STEPHENS

SECTION 1.

64. James STEPHENS (1773-1861)
65. Mary Ann Stull (1781-1857)

James, son[1] of 128. John STEPHENS and 129. Lucretia Gaskill, was born 6 September 1773 in Freehold, Monmouth County, New Jersey.[2] James, a farmer, also known as "Shuck", married[3] Mary Ann Stull 15 May 1798/99, probably in Greene County, PA. Mary Ann was born 29 November 1781 in Middletown, Frederick County, Maryland.[4] Mary Ann is the oldest child of 130. Godfrey Stull and 131. Barbara Carman.[5] James and several of his brothers migrated to Whiteley Twp., Greene Co., PA about 1796.[6] During the 1830's, James and his family moved to Shelby County, Indiana[7] for a short stay and returned about 1835/36 to Newtown, Greene Co, PA. In about 1838, James and family moved to Jakes Run (also called Days Run) in Battelle Dist., Monongalia County, Virginia (now West Virginia) where he died 8 July 1861.[8] Mary Ann died 10 May 1857 on Jakes Run.[9] Both are buried[10] in STEPHENS Cemetery, Days Run, Monongalia Co., WV.

The known children[1] of James and Mary Ann, listed in order of birth, are 64(1) Henry, 64(2) Jane, 64(3) Barbara, 64(4)32. Samuel, 64(5) Thomas, 64(6) John, 64(7) Stacy, 64(8) Apollo C., 64(9) Lydia, 64(10) Solomon, 64(11) Rebecca, and 64(12) Lucretia. Census records[2] indicate there may be two additional sons and one daughter in the family. In any event, it seems likely that the children who lived to adulthood are as listed above. Copies of several interesting letters, dated between 1882 and 1895, involving Stacy, Thomas, Apollo, Lucretia, and their families are included at the end of this chapter.

The only known New Jersey records for James consists of the 1787 will of his father 128. John STEPHENS,[3] and the 1796 will of his grandfather 158. Edward Gaskill.[4] James migrated to Greene County, Pennsylvania by 1796 because he appears on the 1797 Greene County tax list which would have been made up in the fall of 1796.[5]

CENSUS RECORDS

James and family appear on the 1800 Whiteley Twp., Greene Co, PA census listing[6] as one male 0-9 years of age, one male 26-44 yrs., one female 0-9 yrs., and one female 16-25 yrs.

James and four of his brothers lived within a few miles of Newtown (Kirby P.O.), in Whiteley Twp., Greene Co., PA. The second of two houses owned by James (or his son, Apollo) near Newtown was still standing in 1984.[7] The 1810 Whiteley Twp. census listing[8] for James consists of three males 0-9 years of age, one male 10-15 yrs., one male 16-44 yrs., two females 0-9 yrs., and one female 26-44 yrs.

The 1820 Whiteley Twp., Greene Co.,PA census listing[1] for James shows four males 0-9 yrs. of age, two males 10-15 yrs., one male 18-25 yrs., one male age 45 plus, two females 0-9 yrs., two females 16-25, and one female 26-44 yrs.

The 1830 Whiteley Twp. census listing[2] shows one male 5-9 yrs. of age, two males 15-19 yrs., two males 20-29 yrs., one male[3] 60-69 yrs., one female 5-9 yrs., one female 10-14 yrs., one female 15-19 yrs., and one female 40-49 yrs.

James is listed on the Battelle dist., Monongalia Co., Virginia census[4] in 1840 with one male 15-19 yrs. of age, one male 70-79 yrs., one female 10-14 yrs., one female 20-29 yrs., and one female 60-69.

The next census[5] in 1850 finds James and family still in Battelle Dist., Monongalia Co., VA. James and family are listed as James Stevens, age 77, farmer, born in NJ; Mary A., age 70 born in MD; Rebecca, age 26, born in PA. This listing also gives the value of James real estate as $1000.

The 1860 Monongalia Co., (W)VA, census[6] lists James STEPHENS, age 86, born in NJ, living on Jakes Run with his son-in-law Simeon Tennant, age 39, born in VA, and daughter Lucretia (STEPHENS) Tennant, age 35, born in PA.

LAND TRANSACTIONS IN PENNSYLVANIA, INDIANA, & (WEST) VIRGINIA

Among the Greene Co., PA land records for James is one record[7] dated 9 Sept. 1803, in which John STEPHENS and his wife Rachel deed 35 & 1/4 acres in Greene Co. to his brother James. The land was sold for "100 pounds, lawful money of Pennsylvania." James is listed as living in Whiteley Twp., and John as living in Deerfield, Ohio, at the time of the transaction. This land was described as being next to Edward STEPHENS, a brother of James and John.

In another Greene Co. land[1] transfer, James sold to Jacob Hatfield on 5 Oct. 1812, land in Whiteley Twp., on North Fork of Big Whiteley Creek. This was part of the land surveyed for Andrew Dye, dated 25 May 1785, called Sparrows Nest, granted by Patent 1 March 1790 , Pat. Book 16, page 172. Land was deeded to John STEPHENS and wife Rachel 11 Jan. 1796.

The tract of land[2] "Corpulency" located about one mile above Newtown in Greene Co.,PA, was patented in 1836 to James STEPHENS. This tract of land had been warranted to Henry Johnston in 1796, and was surveyed in 1816. James was known as "Shuck" STEPHENS and lived in Shuck Hollow. This farm was later owned by Eli Rose.[3] A four page writing[4] titled "STEPHENS HISTORY" states that James owned 300 acres of good land in Shuck Hollow, that was later owned by Eli Rose.

It appears that James STEPHENS lived and paid taxes in Greene Co., PA until 1834[5] when he moved to Shelby Co., Indiana. However, James returned to Greene Co. by 1836 and purchased the "Corpulency" tract.

Shelby County, Indiana land records indicate that James and Mary Ann STEPHENS moved there in 1834, but it seems they stayed there for less than one year before moving back East to Greene Co., PA.

The Shelby County land transactions were signed by James STEPHENS, and by her mark, Mary STEPHENS.

Land records are recorded for the purchase of at least three tracts of land in Shelby on 10 Dec. 1834. One record[6] is for 80 acres purchased for $80.00. Another record[7] lists two tracts of 160 acres each.

Almost immediately, James started selling his land. A deed[8] dated 7 Sept. 1835 records the sale of 160 acres for $300 to Joseph W. Swan. This deed was attested to by Thomas STEPHENS, son of James.

On 10 Oct. 1835, James and Mary STEPHENS sold three tracts of their Shelby County land. First, James sold 160 acres[9] to his son Thomas STEPHENS, with the deed attested to by Stacy (son of James) STEPHENS, and Zaccheus Bennett, who was a Justice of the Peace. Second, James sold 80 acres[1] for $450 to Jacob Ash, as attested to by Thomas (son of James) STEPHENS. Next, James sold 80 acres[2] for $450 to his son Stacy STEPHENS.

On 14 Oct. 1835, James and Mary Ann STEPHENS signed a document[3] giving their son Stacy STEPHENS the Power of Attorney, so that Stacy, acting as an agent for James, could dispose of the remainder of the Shelby County land still owned by James and Mary.

More than a year later, on 7 January 1837, Stacy, acting as an agent for his father, James STEPHENS, sold two tracts of Shelby County land. Eighty acres[4] was sold for $400 to John and Philip Young. Another tract of 160 acres[5] was sold for $400 to A. and M. Simpkins.

A deed[6] recorded on 8 September 1840, indicates a sale by Stacy, acting for James STEPHENS, to Mr. Myers a tract of 160 acres for $420. This was probably the last of the land owned by James and Mary STEPHENS in Shelby County.

A Monongalia County, (West) Virginia Deed[7] dated 6 Sept. 1838 and recorded 12 March 1839, shows that John Hansel and Margaret, his wife, of Washington County, State of Ohio, sold to James STEPHENS of Monongalia County, VA, for $450.00, a tract of land containing 200 acres by survey. This land was part of a tract of 400 acres granted to George Snider bearing date of 8 Oct. 1789 at Richmond, VA. This deed conveyed 200 acres to James STEPHENS and his heirs and assigns forever, and was witnessed by Samuel Minor and Andrew Brown, both of whom were Justices of the Peace. This tract of land was located on Days Run, also called Jakes Run.

After James wife Mary Ann died, he sold[8] his Monongalia County farm, consisting of the 200 acres on Jakes Run indicated above, on 22 March 1858, to Jacob and Simon Tennant for $2500.00. The deed was recorded on 3 Oct. 1859, and was signed by James STEPHENS. Simeon Tennant was married to Lucretia STEPHENS, and was thus a son-in-law of James. The relationship of Jacob to Simon is unknown. James made his home with Lucretia and Simeon Tennant on the family farm on Jakes Run, after he sold them his property.

Even though James indicated in his letter[1] to daughter Lydia, after the death of Mary Ann in 1857, that he intended to sell his property and live with his son Henry, the 1860 Monongalia Co. census and family history indicate that James made his home with his daughter Lucretia (STEPHENS) Tennant until his death in 1861.

MAIDEN NAME OF MARY ANN, WIFE OF JAMES STEPHENS

Unfortunately, no definite proof exists, to the authors knowledge, that Mary Ann is the daughter of Godfrey Stull. However, the total knowledge available indicates that this is the case. Some people believe that Mary Ann's maiden name is Steele, but there seems to be very little information available to support this view. In fact, it seems likely that the main confusion over the years regarding Mary Ann's maiden name revolves around interpreting the handwriting in many of the old records and manuscripts. In "longhand," especially when written carelessly, Stull and Steele look very much alike since the "u" in Stull can look very much like the "ee" in Steele. Likewise, the "ll" in Stull can look very much like the "le" in Steele.

The book, LOAR GENEALOGY[2], lists the maiden name of Mary Ann as Steele, but does not cite a source or list the names of her parents. It appears that the latter book is the main source cited by those who believe that Steele is the correct maiden name for Mary Ann. Dr. Alvah J. W. Headlee[3], a very competent genealogist and an authority on the family genealogies of the Greene Co., PA area, believes that Steele is the most likely surname for Mary Ann.

Mr. Wayne Jones[4], Houston, Texas, who has done very extensive research on the Stull family, especially the descendants of 130. Godfrey Stull, believes that there is no question but that Mary Ann is the daughter of Godfrey Stull. Among other things, Mr. Jones bases his conclusions on a Monongalia Co., VA deed[5] executed in 1827 by the heirs of Godfrey Stull, in which a James STEPHENS is listed as an heir. Strangely, the deed and related documents lists James STEPHENS, but no mention of Mary Ann STEPHENS. It is, of course, not unusual to see such strange things in many of the early nineteenth century records. The documents also list James STEPHENS as being of Monongalia Co., VA, and it is known that our James STEPHENS lived in Greene Co., PA at the time. However, some of the marriages of the daughters of James and Mary Ann took place in Monongalia Co., VA, and give the place of residence of James and Mary Ann as Monongalia Co., even though it is known that they lived in Greene Co., PA at the time. The Godfrey Stull estate sale bill[1] shows that a James STEPHENS made several purchases at the sale.

A handwritten history[2] dated Jan. 1937, and believed to have been written by Jesse T. STEPHENS, states that James STEPHENS married Mary Ann Stuhl (sic), but does not cite a source. Mrs. Grace Reisig[3], of Wisconsin, apparently did a lot of research on the STEPHENS family and at first believed that Mary Ann's maiden name was Steele, but between 1969 and 1976 became convinced that it should be Mary Ann Stull.

It should also be noted that Richard Morris[4], who was a proven son-in-law of Godfrey Stull and was named in Godfrey's estate settlement, served as a bondsman for the marriage of two daughters of James and Mary Ann STEPHENS, 64(2) Jane, and 64(3) Barbara. Richard Morris wrote a note attached to the marriage bond[5] of Jane STEPHENS to Lemuel Snodgrass as follows:

> July the 6th 1823
> Mr. Thomas P. _?_, Sir I take this opportunity to inform you that there is a young woman living with me three years by the name of Jane STEPHENS / and she is of full age and she _?_ _?_ to marry and her father lives away in Pennsylvania. I talked to the old man my self and he said that he was willing for her to marry Lemuel Snodgrass.

It is interesting to note that Jane was living with her Uncle

2. A handwritten family history believed to have been written by Jesse T. Stephens, Box 208, Witkes, AK, was sent by Myrtle Stephens to Mrs. Emma Loar Gaddis on 4 Oct. 1939. This history was titled as Genealogy of the Stephens Family from First Settlement in America to Jan. 1, 1937. A copy of this document is included at the end of this chapter.

4. Richard Morris also served as an administrator for the estate of Godfrey Stull.

Richard Morris (assuming that Mary Ann is the daughter of Godfrey Stull) at the time of her marriage.

A note attached to the marriage bond[1] of Barbara STEPHENS to Levi Arnett reads as follows:

February the ninth 1823

Mr. Nimrod Evans, sir Please to let Levy Arnett have a license to marry my Daughter Barbary STEPHENS.

This given under my hand
(signed) James STEPHENS
(signed) Richard Morriss

The above information concerning Richard Morris shows that there must have been a close family tie to James and Mary Ann STEPHENS.

Sarah (Phares) STEPHENS, wife of 64(7) Stacy STEPHENS, son of James and Mary Ann, wrote[2] a history of her family dated 14 Nov. 1898, in which she states that James married Mary Ann Stull. This was a handwritten history that may have been recopied more than once, and it would be possible to interpret the writing as either Stull or Steele with Stull appearing to be the best bet.

It should also be noted that Godfrey Stull is included on the 1797 Tax List of Greene Co, PA,[3] which means that Mary Ann Stull would most likely have been living in Greene Co. when she and James STEPHENS were married in 1798/99.

Walter Scott STEPHENS of Salem, WV, who was born in 1897, wrote[4] "I know that my father Henry STEPHENS married Barbara Stull for his first wife and she was his first cousin." Barbara was the daughter of Samuel Stull, who was a brother of Mary Ann Stull STEPHENS.

Finally, LaNora Nyquist[5], of Vista, CA, who has probably done more research and collected more information on the the STEPHENS family than any other known person, fully believes that the evidence cited fully supports the belief that Mary Ann is, in fact, a daughter of Godfrey Stull.

This writer believes, based on all the information available, that Mary Ann's maiden name is STULL, and that she is the daughter of Godfrey Stull. Perhaps someday, "smoking gun" type evidence will surface which will establish once and for all the true maiden name of Mary Ann.

STULL FAMILY[1]

The ancestry of the Stull family is unclear, but 130. Godfrey Stull, was born ca. 1735 in Germany, and died 25 December 1821 in Palatine Hollow, Monongalia County, (W)VA. He married 131. Barbara Carman, believed to be the daughter of Leonard Carman, ca. 1780, probably in Pennsylvania. Barbara was born in 1748, in Carlisle, Lancaster County, PA. After Godfrey died, Barbara married Thomas Knight, a widower, on 30 March 1824, in Monongalia County, (West) Virginia. Barbara died ca. 1844, probably in Monongalia County. Family records indicate that Godfrey served in the Revolutionary War, but no official records have been found to indicate such. Godfrey Stull died intestate and Richard Morris (his son-in-law) and Barbara Stull (his widow) were named administrators.[2] Both Godfrey and Barbara are buried on their family farm, called "Palatine Hollow," Monongalia County.[3]

LETTER WRITTEN BY 64. JAMES STEPHENS DATED 12 MAY 1857

The following is a letter sent by James to his daughter 64(9) Lydia (STEPHENS) Golding informing her of the death of her mother, 65. Mary Ann (Stull) STEPHENS. Copy of letter received from Wayne Jones, Houston, Texas, in 1986, with a notation that the original was in possession (10 April 1973) of Lydia's great-great-granddaughter, Mildred Ruth (Bellis) Leonard.

Dear Children this will inform you that I am enjoying as good health as the nature of the case will admit of. Old and frail as I am my time on Earth will not be long but I have a hope that when this mortal tenement shall be dissolved I have an house not made with hands eternal in the heavens. I will now inform you that your Dear Mother is no more after a protracted illness her happy spirit took its flight to the regions of celestial bliss on Sunday the 10 th last. I am going to dispose of all my property on the 21 st Instant and then make my home with Henry STEPHENS. As I have several letters to write to my other children these few lines will have to suffice for the present. Write as soon as possible. So no more as present but remain your affectionate...

DESCRIPTION OF LOG HOUSE
Belonging To

APOLLO STEPHENS (1813-1901)
Near Kirby, Greene Co., Pennsylvania

Note: The following description was received from Gerald STEPHENS, Morgantown, WV, 26 February 1989.

Apollo is a son of James and Mary Ann (Stull) STEPHENS. Some believe that the house actually first belonged to James STEPHENS.

Description of Log House of Apollo Stephens s/o James Stephens, about 2 mi. from Kirby, PA, on head of Shannon Run. In 1988, house was being dismantled and moved to Greensboro, PA.

House: 10 x 22 feet on outside, not counting extensions of logs at corners.

Foundation is of field stones laid up with clay and grass mixed mortar.

Each log, about 16 inches diameter, is from a barked poplar tree adzed to about 12 inches thick. Fillers, similar to a split rail, filled spaces between crooked logs before mortaring. These pieces, rails, are held in place with pegs wedged in bored holes and these rails were spliced as needed.

First floor is 6 logs high, second is 4 logs to square. It appears original house had a front and back door, and two windows on the first floor. Second floor had two small windows, one on each end, (gable). Door and window frames are held in place with wooden pegs. Inside of logs are furred out and horizontally covered with 8 in wide popular boards.

Bottom floor is laid on 6 oak logs adzed to level. Upper floor is laid on 6 poplar logs adzed to about 4 x 8 inches (very neatly). Stairway is "U" shaped, taking up about 36 sq. ft. An area of six ft. sq. placed beside chimney space, beneath the stairs, is enclosed to be used for storage. A huge chimney and fireplace on one end (shown as a door in picture) had an opening about 5 x 5 ft., and about 8 ft. wide overall, on 18 inches thick walls. The chimney had irons to hold pots mounted in chimney or fireplace. The chimney is made of field stones, mortared same as for logs. The rafters were made of saplings about 6 inches diameter. adzed to plane on one side.

Bottom floor consists of hand tongue and grooved 1 1/4 inch thick oak boards, about 12 inches wide. Upper floor same except made of popular. Several holes boarded in sleepers were probably used to push flooring together as it was being nailed with square cut nails. There are many holes at various locations in wall logs, probably used as hangers. There is no indication of walls to be used for divisions in house.

There are two dug wells, one 10 ft. from house (back door) is 15 ft. deep, with bottom consisting of a vain of coal. This well has pure "sulfur" water. The other well is 12 ft. deep and is about 150 ft. away from the house, and is more or less a wet weather well.

The present owner (1988) when shown picture of a house said to have belonged to James STEPHENS, said it looked same as Apollo's except for the basement on one end. He said that in fact, without the basement, they looked identical. The present owner had lived in this house in 1940's. All porches, etc., are held to house with wooden pegs.

All corners were inverted "V" fit and pegged. Walter Scott STEPHENS, s/o Henry, s/o Apollo, remembers visiting this house as a child. Walter was about 4 years old when Apollo died, so probably one of Apollo's children also lived there.

Note: Walter Scott Stephens of Salem, WV, grandson of Apollo, has indicated that the house described above was built (or owned) by James STEPHENS, father of Apollo. It seems most likely, however, that Apollo was the first owner of the house.

Feb. the 28th 1893

Dear Brother & family

Your letter recd. we were very glad to hear from you once more - have been wondering why you did not write - we old folks are just able to get around the house & take care & wait on ourselves - times here are about the same as with you as near as I can tell you. The winter has been very severe cold. Wheat is .75, corn .60, potatoes .60, grain & rough food is very scarce here. Bacon is from .12 to .15 cents per pound. Our children & friends as far as we know are all well. I can only study out three of our school mates that are now living. Their names are Abner Bailey, Samuel Guthery, Barbara Delany - thought of one more, Katy Haines. I am the oldest STEPHENS that I know of in Greene County that is a kin to us. Grandma says I am as strong a Baptist as she is.. Brother Thomas and I have worked hard to make a living & I am afraid he sees harder times now than he ever saw in his life before - he has been dabbling with his children till they have about dabbled him out of his living. You spoke about horses being no price - we will just have to do as we did fifty years ago - take just what we could get for them. This is the 2nd day of March. I will be 80 years old the 22nd day of this month. Maria will be 73 the 19th day of next May. You spoke about having such severe colds. The best remedy I can find - better than all the Doctor's medicine I can get - is just roast my feet completely by the fire. Tell me th age of you and your wife. Brother lets not be as dilatory in regard to writing - lets write a little oftener. Yours affectionately.

Mr. Simeon Tennant
Dear Sir:

This is to inform you that Lucretia's brother Thomas STEPHENS, died this morning at 5 o'clock. The cause of death being palsy and then turned to blood poison. He was taking sick the 20th. of this month and was almost entirely unconscious from the beginning of his sickness. He was buried at Highland. The rest of us are well as usual.

Very respectfully yours,

April the 2nd 1894

Dear Brother and Sister

I seat myself down to answer your letter which I received the 31 and was glad to hear from you all but sorrow to hear that you are not all well as common - your letter found us all well as common but not stout it is no use for us to complain for we are the youngest ones - cousin Rodney was at our house last night and stayed till this morning - he told me to tell you that he was 81 years old today and that he was well as common but not worth much - he is broke down and not stout anymore - he told us that our brother Thomas STEPHENS had took sick last Sunday with a stroke of the palsy - he hasn't swallowed a bit of anything yet on Wednesday - the last we heard from him - but he could still talk yet - he is living with his son Simeon. Now Stacy I don't get to hear from Thomas - only just as people tells me - I ain't able to go and see him and he never writes to me - it has been about 2 weeks since I heard from brother Pollard - he is well as common so that he can see around about his stuff this winter - Cain Mahalies Pritchard is alive yet and so she goes about same as well as could be expected of a woman of her age. Sally Efaw was well as common the last I heard from her so she could do her own work yet - the rest of the friends as far as we hear are all in common health - we have had the warmest winter that we have had for many a winter - we had one big snow but it did not last very long and we are having a right cool spell now - it has been so cold for the last week that people thinks that the fruit is all killed. You told me some time ago that you had a 8 acre peach orchard - is it a good orchard yet or what has become of it. I want to know what has become of your cousin Nicholas Halstead. I want to know if your son James has got any children yet or is he going to follow our example. Through I want to know if your son Enoch is single yet or not. I want to know if he is still farming for you and tending to your business for you yet - you wanted to know where John Province is now. I have not heard anything from him since just after his wife died - he got married again right away - there was hard thoughts between him and his children and he took his wife and went to the far west and took up a homestead the last account I had - he did not write to his children nor them to him so you see I have no chance of giving you any satisfaction about him - he has a daughter Unis living in Kansas - you could write to her and find out where to write to him if she is there yet - we will have to bring my letter to a close for this - perhaps I will have better news to write next time so write soon - good bye - this is from Simeon and Lucretia Tennant to Stacy and Sarah STEPHENS.

Write soon.

Stacy STEPHENS

After a long absence and neglect to write to you I embrace the present opportunity to write you a few lines to let you know that I have not entirely forgot you we are enjoying only moderate health at present. Thru the past winter I was pretty much confined to the house unable to do any thing, but have got able to work again the weather this season up to the present time has been extremely wet - our harvest has commenced - wheat crops is the best that they have been for years past but it is to be feared that the wet season will damage the wheat crops, if it continues to rain the two weeks to come as it has the two weeks past our wheat.

He is only able to get about on his crutches - my Post office is changed direct to Thomas STEPHENS, Metz, Marion County, West Virginia.

Let me hear from you soon - I will close for the present.

We still remain yours till death

GENEOLOGY OF THE STEPHENS FAMILY FROM FIRST SETTLEMENT IN AMERICA TO JANUARY 1 - 1937

The following is an exact typed copy of a handwritten three page history found in the Lillian Evans files by Dr. A.J.W. Headlee on 21 July 1982. Dr. Headlee believes this is probably the family history sent by Jessie T. STEPHENS, Box 208, Witkes, AK in 1939 to Myrtle STEPHENS, 1707 E. Washington St., Bloomington, IL, and then sent by Myrtle STEPHENS to Mrs. Gaddis on 4 Oct. 1939. Dr. Headlee sent a copy of this history to this author in September 1983, with the following warning: "ALL MIXED UP, DON'T USE UNLESS VERIFIED FROM OTHER SOURCES."

John and Robert STEPHENS (Scotsmen) emigrated from England to America about the year 1720, settling in New Jersey at Jersey City. Both being married, their wives being Scott women.

John was a farmer. Robert a machinist, who after ward became prominent in engine and ship building.

John and his wife had eight children, six boys and two girls, Their names being John, Edward, Apollo, Stacey, Thomas, and James. The girls were Lucretia and Mary.

The boys excepting James being soldiers in the Revolutionary War. James being 16 years of age was left at home with his sisters. The parents were dead.

John was killed battle.

Stacey was crippled by a bullet, the others coming back without serious wounds. After the war ended they migrated over the mountains to Greene County, Pennsylvania where they all settled and married.

Edward married a Woodward.

Mary married John Long who crossed the mountains with them.

Lucretia married Levi Morris in Pennsylvania.

James married Mary Stuhl, daughter of John Stuhl also a soldier in the Revolution, who the others married are unknown.

Apollo was a blacksmith, the rest were farmers. Apollo migrated to Ohio about 1820. Thomas also went to Ohio about 1835.

Apollo went to Zanesville. Thomas went to Chillocothe. The rest died in Pennsylvania except James who died in Monongahela, Virginia where he had made his home in his later years.
James, and wife Mary, settled on a farm two miles south of Greensburg, Pa. They had 12 children who lived to maturity. Henry, Samuel and Jane born on the first farm. HISTORY OF STACY AND SARAH (PHARES) STEPHENS
DATED 14 November 1989
WRITTEN BY SARAH STEPHENS

The following article is a transcription of a handwritten two page document signed by Sarah STEPHENS. The article appears to be a photocopy of the original, but the article may have been recopied in a handwriting other than Sarah's.

History of Stacy and Sarah

Father Phares came from England to New Jersey. My grandfather lived in New Jersey Grandfather Brown came from Ireland when a boy to South Carolina. My Father was a son of William Phares and Mother a daughter of Matthew Brown. I was born in Ohio, Hamilton Co., Crosby Township on the 5th of July 1817. My father lived there until I was eight years old. Mother died & Father moved to Shelby Co., Indiana. I lived there with my father & grandfather till I was 18 years old. Pa's father name was James STEPHENS & his mother name was Mary Ann Stull before she was married. He was born in Pennsylvania, Green Co. Sep. 4th 1811, on Whitely Creek near New Town. I was 18 and he was 22 years old when we were married. We were married on the 24th of Sept. 1835 at Matthew Brown's by John Golding. We lived there ten years - we had five children, John P., James N., Rebecca Jane, Stacy Henry, and William Thomas. Pa lost his health and we moved to Monongalia County, Virginia. We lived there three years and a half. Naomi Ann was born. Then we moved to Washington County, Ohio. We lived there twenty years - during that time Samuel M., Sarah M., Barbary L., Enoch E., and Nancy Lydia were born. We moved to Kansas in 1869. Pa died July 4, 1896. I still remain but how soon or how long it will be till I am called for I can't say.

(Signed) Sarah STEPHENS

CHAPTER III. SAMUEL and MARGARET STEPHENS

SECTION 1.

32. Samuel STEPHENS (1807-1873)
33. Margaret (1809-1884)

Samuel, son[1] of 64. James STEPHENS and 65. Mary Ann Stull, was born[2] ca. 1807 in Whiteley Township, Greene Co., PA, probably in the community of Newtown. Samuel married[3] Margaret ca. 1826 and first appears on the 1840-50-60 Monongalia Co., (W)VA census. He died[4] 16 Jan. 1873 in Tyler Co., WV, and is buried in the Alf Smith Cemetery near Middlebourne, Tyler Co., WV. Margaret died[5] 22 October 1884.

The children of Samuel and Margaret who survived childhood were, in order of birth, 32(1) Sarah (Sallie), 32(2) Permelia Jane, 32(3) Barbara Ellenor, 32(4) Henry, 32(5) Nancy Ellen, 32(6) Elizabeth, 32(7) Marion, 32(8) Martha E., 32(9)16. John Francis, and 32(10) Mary Ann. The census records indicate that there were probably two additonal daughters in the family. However, it seems likely that the latter two did not survive childhood since no record of them appears to have been passed down to the family.

MARGARET'S MAIDEN NAME

The maiden name of Margaret, and thus the names of her parents, remains elusive and confusing. Records exist to indicate four different surnames for Margaret, but none of the records are conclusive. It is possible that Margaret was married one or more times before she married Samuel, but no records are known to have surfaced to indicate that this is true. Early "family histories" indicate that Margaret's surname was STUMP.[6] This name does not seem "to fit" in terms of family names in the

6. A handwritten family history believed to have been written by Jesse T. Stephens, Box 208, Witkes, AK, was sent by Myrtle Stephens to Mrs. Gaddis on 4 Oct. 1939. This history was titled as Genealogy of the Stephens Family from First Settlement in America to Jan. 1, 1937. This three page document has much information, some of which is known to be wrong.

neighborhoods of the STEPHENS family. However, their were Eagans living in Greene Co., PA about the time Samuel would have been married. Margaret's death record[1] indicates that her "parents" name was HAGAN. The information for the record was supplied by Margaret's daughter-in-law, 17. Mary Ellen (Weekley) STEPHENS and would seem to be reliable. This name, Hagan, may be a misspelling of a name such as Eagan, Hager, etc. However, this name like the name of Stump, does not seem to fit in terms of names found in the neighborhoods of the STEPHENS family. The death record of Margaret's son, 16. John Francis STEPHENS, lists Margaret's maiden name as TENNANT.[2] The information for John's death record was given by his son 8. Marvin Francis STEPHENS. This would seem to be a good source since Marvin and his family lived on the homeplace with John until his death, and would supposedly have had a knowledge of the surname of his grandmother Margaret STEPHENS. It should be further stated that Marvin's children believed they were related to the Tennant family, but did now know the exact relationship. The death record[3] of32(5) Nancy Ellen Cross, daughter of Samuel and Margaret, lists the maiden name of Margaret as STULL. This record does not indicate who gave the information for the death record, but it may have been Nancy's son, 32(5)1 Jesse W. Watkins, with whom she was living at the time. This death record has other information which is known to be wrong, such as the listing of Nancy as a widow, when her estranged husband, John T. Cross, was still living. It seems likely that the maiden name of Margaret was confused in this case with that of Samuel's grandmother 65. Mary Ann (Stull) STEPHENS.

CENSUS RECORDS

The 1830 Greene Co., PA census record[4] for Samuel lists 1 male 20-30 years of age; 2 females under 5 yrs; 2 females 5-10 yrs; 1 female 15-20 yrs; 1 female 20-30 yrs. The name of the 15-20 year old female is unknown, but could not be a child of Samuel and Margaret. Later census records, along with other records, indicate that one of the females age 1-5 and one female age 5-10 either died before 1840, or were not the children of Samuel and Margaret. It seems likely that the latter two girls were somehow related to the female age 15-20 and perhaps all three were relatives of Samuel or Margaret.

The 1840 Monongalia Co., (W)VA census record[1] for Samuel lists 1 male 5-10 yrs.; 1 male 30-40; 2 females under 5; 2 females 5-10; 1 female 10-15; 1 female 30-40. Samuel is listed next door to his brother Thomas on this census.

The 1850 Monongalia Co., (W)VA census listing[2] for Samuel is: Samuel, age 45; Margaret 41; Barbary 18; Henry 16; Nancy 14; Elisabeth 12; Marion 9; Martha 7; John 4; Mary A. 1. This listing shows Samuel, Margaret, and daughter Barbary born in PA, with all other children born in VA.

The 1860 Monongalia Co., (W)VA census[3] lists Samuel age 53; Margaret 52; Henry 25; Nancy 23; Elizabeth 21; Marion 18; Martha 15; John 13; Jessie W. Watkins (male) 2. The record shows Samuel, Margaret, and Nancy born in PA with the others born in VA. Nancy should have been listed as Nancy Watkins as she was a widow at this time living with her parents.[4] Jesse, of course, is Nancy's son.[5] This census record indicates that Samuel and Margaret could not read or write.[6] The 1860 census record indicates real estate listed as $1800 and personal property valued at $400.

The 1870 Tyler Co., WV, Ellsworth Dist., census record[7] lists Samuel age 62; Margaret 61; and Sanford, a 13 year old white male. The identity of Sanford is unknown.[8] The record lists Samuel and Margaret born in PA and Sanford born in VA. Samuel's real estate is listed as $2000 and personal property as $400. The record does not indicate that Samuel and Margaret could not read or write. All census records indicate that Samuel was a farmer and Margaret a house keeper.

7. Tyler Co., WV Heritage & Historical Society, 1870 Census of Tyler Co., WV(Middlebourne, WV: Society, 1985), p. 35.

8. Sanford may possibly be another name or nickname for Jesse W. Watkins, Samuel's grandson, who was listed on the 1860 census with Samuel.

Samuel died 16 January 1873 as indicated on his tombstone.[1] Margaret died[2] 22 October 1884, however, Margaret has not been located on the 1880 census records.

THE MOVE TO MONONGALIA COUNTY (WEST) VIRGINIA

Census records indicate that Samuel and family moved to Battelle District, Monongalia Co., VA about 1834. They probably lived in the area known as Day's Run. However, the first deed[3] found for Samuel in Monongalia Co. is dated 1 July 1839. The deed is an indenture made between Joseph Alton and Samuel for 130 acres from a tract of 190 acres on the head of Paw Paw Creek adjoining land with Lot Lantz and others. Samuel sold his Monongalia Co. land in 1865 and 1866. This seems to date his move to Tyler Co., WV, since he purchased land in Tyler Co., WV in 1867.

On 17 June 1865, Samuel STEPHENS and wife sold to Joseph Sutton 86 acres on Paw Paw Creek.[4] This land was described as "at the head of Paw Paw Creek" and sold for $837.50, with $250.00 in hand paid, balance in payments. This deed was signed by Samuel STEPHENS and by her mark, Margaret STEPHENS. On 17 January 1866, Samuel STEPHENS and wife sold to William L. Gallaher 99 acres on Paw Paw Creek.[5] This Monongalia Co. land was sold for $962.50, $250.00 in hand paid, balance to be paid with interest in yearly payments. This land was bounded by Joseph Sutton and others. Deed was signed by Samuel STEPHENS, and by her mark, Margaret STEPHENS.

THE MOVE TO TYLER COUNTY (WEST) VIRGINIA

Tyler County, WV records[6] indicate that on 16 April 1867, Samuel STEPHENS purchased from John W. McCoy ,et .al., 116 acres and 34 acres on Muddy Creek. Purchase price was $1500, with $600.00 in hand paid with balance in payments of $250.00 per year due the first of each January, plus interest: January 1868, 1869, 1870 and 1871.

SAMUEL DISPOSES OF HIS ESTATE

It appears that Samuel may have been ill by 1871 when he sold and gave his land to his children. A further indication of an illness is the fact that he signed the land records at this time with his mark rather than his signature. These deeds are interesting in that Samuel and Margaret used the deeds to distribute their estate to their children. A Tyler Co. deed[1] dated 17 October 1871 shows Samuel and Margaret selling to son Henry STEPHENS 50 acres on Muddy Creek, this being part of the land purchased from John W. McCoy ,et. al. The selling price was $95.00 to be paid as follows: $30.00 to Sarah Efaw; $30.00 to Permelia J. Provence, the wife of Joseph Provence; $30.00 to Barbary Fox, the wife of Ambrose Fox; $2.00 to Martha E. Nichols, all to be paid one year from the time of death of the parties of the first part. Also, Henry is to pay 1/2 of all debts of the parties of the first part contracted previous to this date. Henry was to take care of his parents and give them a comfortable living, and pay expenses. He also was to pay funeral expenses and pay $5.00 to Marion STEPHENS. Samuel and Margaret both signed by their marks as witnessed by J. R. Duty. Parties of first part held lien on property to secure payment.

A Tyler Co. deed[2] dated 17 October 1871 indicates that Samuel and Margaret sold to son John F. STEPHENS, 50 acres on Muddy Creek for $100, to be paid as follows: $30.00 to Nancy E. Cross, wife of John T. Cross; $30.00 to Elizabeth Martin, wife of Dudley Martin; $30.00 to Mary A. Arnett, the wife of Absolom Arnett. Also, $5.00 to Martha E. Nichols; $5.00 to Marion STEPHENS. The above was to be paid within one year of the death of the parties of the first part. John was also to pay 1/2 of the debts of the parties of the first part contracted previous to this date. Both Samuel and Margaret signed by their marks as witnessed by J. R. Duty.

On 2 April 1872, Samuel and Margaret sold[3] to E.S.B. Nichols and Martha E. Nichols, his wife, 50 acres on Muddy Creek, being part of "that purchased from John W. McCoy, et. al." This land was sold for $550.00, and signed by Samuel and Margaret STEPHENS with their marks. This signing was witnessed by Mary E. STEPHENS and Henry STEPHENS.

THE DEATHS OF SAMUEL and MARGARET

We know that Samuel died between 2 April 1872, when he sold land to E.S.B. Nichols, and 7 Nov. 1873, when Margaret signed a deed[4] as the widow of Samuel STEPHENS. The latter deed is for a sale of land by Henry STEPHENS, his wife, and others, to Francis M. Weekley 100 acres on Muddy Creek. Margaret signed this deed as widow of Samuel. Samuel's tombstone indicates he died 16 January 1873. His tombstone was found as a loose stone, in 1984 by this author, in the Alf Smith Cemetery, near Middlebourne, Tyler Co.,WV. Samuel's tombstone was leaning up against a Weekley stone and the exact burial spot could not be determined. A tombstone could not be located for Margaret.

A census record has not been located for Margaret STEPHENS in 1880, but her daughter-in-law, Mary Ellen (Mrs. John F.) Weekley STEPHENS reported her death as 22 october 1884 in Tyler Co. Margaret's death record lists her age as 77 years and her parents as Hagens.[1]

Wills were not recorded for either Samuel or Margaret, but they had dispersed their property to their children by means of land deeds.

CHAPTER IV. JOHN FRANCIS & MARY ELLEN (WEEKLEY)STEPHENS

SECTION 1.

16. John Francis Stephens (1846-1936)
17. Mary Ellen Weekley (1851-1927)

John Francis STEPHENS and Mary Ellen Weekley were both born and lived all their lives in what is now West Virginia. John was born[1] in Battelle District, Monongalia County, (West) Virginia on 30 April 1846, the youngest son of 32. Samuel STEPHENS and 33. Margaret STEPHENS.[2] John was married[3] to Mary Ellen Weekley in Tyler County, West Virginia on 8 October 1868 by the Rev. Edgar B. Blundon. Mary Ellen was born[4] in Ellsworth District, Tyler County, (West) Virginia on Valentine's Day, 14 February 1851, the youngest child of 34. Otho Weekley and 35. Elizabeth Kemp.[5]

Both John and Mary Ellen STEPHENS died at their home on Lick Run, Walker Station, Wood County, West Virginia. Mary Ellen died[6] at the age of 75, on 9 February 1927, and John died[7] at the age of 90 on 8 November 1936. Both are buried[8] at the Mt. Carmel Church Cemetery, Walker, WV.

John and Mary Ellen were the parents of thirteen children, two of whom died in infancy.[9] All of their children were born in Tyler County, West Virginia. The children are: 16(1) Clara M., 16(2) Jesse R., 16(3) Margaret E. (Maggie), 16(4) Cora Ann, 16(5) Mary Martha (Mattie), 16(6) Florence Etta, 16(7) Essie Delrie, 16(8) Arminta May (Minnie), 16(9) Samuel Irvin,

THE WEEKLEY FAMILY

Mary Ellen's father, Otho Weekley, and her mother, Elizabeth Kemp, were married[1] 4 October 1832 in Ohio County, West Virginia by the Rev. Thomas M. Hudson, Methodist Episcopal Church. Otho was born[2] ca. 1810 in Tyler Co., WV, and died[3] 8 July 1865 in the same county. Otho was a stonemason and farmer. Elizabeth Kemp was born[4] ca. 1813 in Delaware, and died[5] 29 December 1878 in Tyler County. Otho and Elizabeth are the parents of Levi D., William W., Elmore W., George Washington, Rachel Jane Weekley Gorby Elder, Francis Marion, and Mary Ellen Weekley STEPHENS.

The names of Elizabeth Kemp's parents are unknown to this author. Otho Weekley is the son[6] of 68. Thomas Weekley, Jr., and 69. Mary Weekley. Thomas and Mary are the parents of Otho, Thomas III, Levi M., James, Mary, Charlotte, and Michael Weekley White. Thomas, Jr., was born[7] 21 January 1785 in Washington (now Greene) County, Pennsylvania, and died[8] in 1834 in Tyler County. Mary, wife of Thomas, Jr., was born[9] ca 1785 in Pennsylvania, and died after 1850, probably in Tyler County.

Thomas Weekley, Jr., is the son[10] of 136. Thomas Weekley,Sr., and 137 Rachel Weekley. Thomas, Sr., was born[11] in 1754-56 in Fredericktown, Frederick County, Maryland, and died[1] 27 November 1843 in Tyler County. Rachel Weekley was born ca. 1754 and died 24 July 1842 in Tyler County.[2] Thomas and Rachel are the parents of Thomas,Jr., James, Richard, John, Levi, Sarah Weekley Baker, Mary Weekley Anderson, and Samuel. Thomas Weekley, Sr., was a Revolutionary War[3] Soldier, serving with the Maryland Flying Camp. The pension application file for Thomas Weekley,Sr., gives much detail about his Revolutionary War Service. For example, Thomas served in the battles of York Island and White Plains, New York. He was acquainted with Generals Washington, Green, Putnam, Smallwood, and Colonels Gunby and George Stricker of the Army.

One source[4] indicates that James and Sarah Weekley of Pennsylvania are the parents of Thomas Weekley, Sr. However, this author believes this is an error and does not know the names of his parents. Additional information concerning the Weekley family will be given in a later chapter.

CIVIL WAR RECORDS

John STEPHENS did serve for a brief time in two different units of the Monongalia County Home Guards during the Civil War. Records[5] indicate that John joined at Fairmont, West Virginia, 1 October 1864, the 16'th Militia, West Virginia State Troops, Monongalia County. John served for a total of eight days with this Company commanded by Captain Emord Tennant. John also served in a unit commanded by Captain Britton. John's son 8. Marvin Francis Stephen,s knew that his father served in the Civil War.[6]

John's brother Henry also served with the Home Guards during the Civil War, serving[7] as a private in Captain Britton's Company, Monongalia County, West Virginia State Troops. Five of John's brothers-in-law served in the war: Joseph Yard

Ulysses Mason died in a rebel prison of wounds received in battle near Winchester, VA during the war.

Mary Ellen STEPHENS signed her name as a witness[6] on a "general Affidavit" given by her sister-in-law, Louise Weekley, wife of Francis Marion Weekley, for the Civil War pension application for Francis Marion Weekley. All five of Mary Ellen's brothers, Levi D. Weekley,[7] William W. Weekley,[8] Elmore W. Weekley,[9] George Washington Weekley,[10] and Francis Marion Weekley[11] served in the Civil War. One brother, George Washington Weekley died of typhoid fever during the war. In addition, John Gorby,[12] the first husband of Mary Ellen's only sister Rachel Jane, died of typhoid fever during the Civil War.

It is obvious from the above that the families of John and Mary Ellen (Weekley) STEPHENS were much affected by the Civil War. West Virginia prepared Civil War Medals for the state's Civil War Veterans. The author has in his possession the medals for William W. Weekley and Ambrose Fox.

LAND RECORDS IN TYLER AND WOOD COUNTIES, WEST VIRGINIA

Shortly after moving to Tyler County from Monongalia County, in 1867 at the age of 21, with his parents, John Francis STEPHENS met his bride-to-be and was married within a year. John and Mary Ellen established their first home on the family farm belonging to John's parents. However, the health of John's father Samuel soon failed, and in 1871 Samuel & Margaret STEPHENS divided and sold or gave their farm to their children.

There were three men with the name of John STEPHENS, all cousins, living in the same neighborhood of Tyler County.[1] John Francis STEPHENS was given the nickname "Little John," another John was called "Big John," while the third John was called "Monkey John."

A Tyler Co. deed[2] dated 17 October 1871 indicates that Samuel and Margaret sold to son John F. STEPHENS, 50 acres on Muddy Creek for $100, to be paid as follows: $30.00 to Nancy E. Cross, wife of John T. Cross; $30.00 to Elizabeth Martin, wife of Dudley Martin; $30.00 to Mary A. Arnett, the wife of Absolom Arnett. Also, $5.00 to Martha E. Nichols; $5.00 to Marion STEPHENS. The above was to be paid within one year of the death of the parties of the first part. John was also to pay 1/2 of the debts of the parties of the first part contracted previous to this date. Both Samuel and Margaret signed by their marks as witnessed by J. R. Duty.

Abstracts of additional deeds of land from Samuel and Margaret to their children may be found in Chapter III.

Many of the dates on the land records involving the land transfers from the Samuel STEPHENS farm are confusing. However, it appears that in 1873 John STEPHENS and his brother Henry each sold their respective 50 acres to John's brother-in-law, Francis Marion Weekley. A Tyler County Deed[3] dated 7 November 1873 shows that Henry STEPHENS and others sold to Francis M. Weekley 100 acres on Muddy Creek, being part of land sold to Samuel and Margaret STEPHENS by J. W. McCoy, et. al. The price of $1500.00 was to be paid $400.00 before 15 March 1874, $200 before 15 March 1875, and each year thereafter with a final payment of $100.00 before 15 March 1880. Each payment to be paid with interest. The deed was signed by Henry STEPHENS and Phoebe E., his wife; John F. STEPHENS and Mary E., his wife; Margaret STEPHENS, as the widow of Samuel STEPHENS, deceased, signed by her mark. Deed was recorded 20 September 1883.

Later, Francis Marion Weekley sold 44 acres of this same land back to John STEPHENS. A Tyler County Deed[4] indicates that Francis M. Weekley and wife Louisa sold 44 acres on Muddy Creek to John F. STEPHENS for $660.00, cash in hand. This deed was also recorded in 1883.

Within a short time, John sold the same 44 acres he had previously acquired from Francis M. Weekley. A Tyler County Deed[1] dated 5 April 1884, and recorded 9 October 1884, shows that John STEPHENS and his wife Mary E. STEPHENS sold to Charles W. Reed 44 acres on Muddy Creek for $700.00. Mr. Reed was to have possession of the land to "seed" in Fall of 1884 and full possession on 1 April 1885. John STEPHENS signed his mark to the deed, and Mary E. STEPHENS signed her name.

John and his family continued to live in Tyler County until 1895. However, no additional land deeds have been located to indicate where John and his family may have lived after 1885. It is believed that for the next few years John was "scouting" land with the intention of moving out of Tyler County. In a statement found in the Civil War Pension application[2] of John's brother-in-law, Absolom Arnett, the investigator who had been requested to obtain an affidavit from John, stated on 20 July 1887 that "John STEPHENS has left his family in Conway, Tyler County, and was in Ohio the last his family had heard from him." John did give signed statements concerning Absolom Arnett on 26 November 1887 at Conway, Tyler County. John had several cousins and other relatives living across the Ohio River from Tyler County in Monroe County, Ohio. Perhaps John considered purchasing land in Monroe County.

John made his choice for new land by 1894, in Wood County. A Wood County Deed[3] between George H. Textor and M.J. Textor, his wife, to J. F. STEPHENS, for 100 acres was dated 2 April 1894. The purchase price was $800.00, $300.00 cash in hand, and five negotiable notes for $100.00 each, payable each year for five years at 6% interest. The land was described as 100 acres of land "lying on the waters of Lick Run, a branch of Goose Creek, in the County of Wood, and State of W.Va., a part of land formerly known as the Wiles tract....". This deed was recorded at the Wood County Court Clerk's Office on 27 February 1896.

THE MOVE TO WOOD COUNTY, WEST VIRGINIA

A log house was built on the Lick Run farm in Walker District, and John, Mary Ellen, and family, moved from Tyler County in 1895. John's grandson, 4. Cecil Francis STEPHENS, the father of the author of this book, was born in this house in 1914. The log house was still standing during the 1950's. John and his son, Marvin Francis STEPHENS built a wood frame house next to the log house in 1922.

The STEPHENS family soon had fruit orchards established on the farm, in addition to their vegetable gardens. They produced large quantities of many varieties of apples. They buried many of the apples in the hay in the barns for winter use. Needless to say, the STEPHENS family grew and produced almost all of their own food. John had many bee hives and produced honey for home use and had small amounts to sell. Each spring, John would tap sugar maple trees to collect sap which was boiled down to syrup. Mary Ellen raised chickens and ducks. She sold eggs and collected feathers for pillows and feather ticks.[1]

In the early 1950's this author and his grandfather, Marvin F. STEPHENS, visited the farm and picked Rambo apples from the orchards planted many years earlier by John. Once these apples were picked, they were used to make apple butter outdoors in a large copper kettle over a wood fire. This author, his mother, his grandparents, and others took turns stirring the apple mixture most of a day before the delicious aromatic applebutter was produced.

John had a horse named Charlie that was used to pull a buggy which was the primary means of transportation for the family. "Old Charlie" was also used to pull a plow, mowing machine, farm wagon, etc. Samuel I. STEPHENS, Jr., son of Samuel Irvin, Sr., and grandson of John, remembers[2] that when he and his father traveled in the early 1920's by railroad from Parkersburg to Walker, John would meet them at Walker Station with "Old Charlie" and the buggy to take them to the farm. Apparently, Charlie was bad to bite, kick, and to run away. Once, when he was quite old, Charlie ran away while hooked to a wagon, rolled over a hillside and was killed.[3]

John traveled around the area buying furs from trappers, and roots, such as ginseng, from collectors. He could not read or write, but he could do fast math calculations in "his head." He was known to be a very fair and honest dealer. This author, who also has the initials J. F., received many times as a boy living in Walker, Wood County, mail from fur companies addressed to J.F. STEPHENS, long after John's death.

John and his son, Marvin, had a horse powered mill to extract the juice from sugar cane to be used in making molasses. They traveled around the county producing molasses for area farmers in the 1920's. John sold the mill to his son-in-law, Henry Ware, husband of Alice STEPHENS.

Mary Ellen took great pride in the exquisite quilts she hand stitched and she won many prizes for them.[4] Her granddaughter, Martha STEPHENS Johnson, has two of Mary Ellen's quilts in her possession as of 1989. Mary Ellen also had many beautiful flowers which she enjoyed cultivating in and around her yard. Mary Ellen also took great pride in her chickens and would not allow anyone else in the family to tend them. In later years when son Marvin and his wife Laura Mae made their home with John and Mary Ellen, each woman had her own chicken house with her "own" chickens. Each woman had her "call" to be used in calling together her respective chickens for feeding. The chickens, even though they all flocked together in the fields around the chicken houses, seemed to understand the sounds of the two women and would always comply, separating and going to their "masters" when they were called.[1]

THE LICK RUN FARM

John & Mary Ellen STEPHENS soon sold 25 acres of their Lick Run farm to Ida Blanch Whitehair. This land was sold[2]with a deed dated 15 October 1898 for a sum of $400.00. A copy of this deed is included later in this chapter. Ida Blanch Whitehair sold[3] this same 25 acres in ca. 1901 to Sarah (Moore) Cullum Aley. Sarah was a sister to Laura Mae(Moore) STEPHENS, daughter-in-law of John & Mary Ellen STEPHENS. Sarah Aley died in 1910, and her heirs sold[4] the land to Clarence Ophie STEPHENS, son of John and Mary Ellen.

Clarence Ophie STEPHENS sold[5] the 25 acre farm on 30 September 1916 to H. D. and Minnie Pyle. A transcription of this deed is included later in this chapter. Minnie was the daughter of John and Mary Ellen STEPHENS. Minnie (STEPHENS) Pyle was the last of the STEPHENS family to own the land, for after she died in 1940, the 25 acres were sold for taxes in the 1950's to Pearl Morris. The land was still owned[6] in 1987 by the Morris family.

John Francis STEPHENS followed the example of his father, and dispersed his property to his children during his lifetime instead of leaving a will. John and Mary Ellen deeded[7] their 75 acre farm to son Marvin Francis STEPHENS on 12 November 1926 for the sum of $1.00 "and other valuable considerations." A copy of this deed is given later in this chapter. Marvin and his family had been living with and taking care of John and Mary Ellen. Mary Ellen STEPHENS was very ill at this time with dropsy and died within three months.

The Lick Run farm was transferred to Marvin's daughter and son-in-law, Martha and John Johnson, in the late 1950's. The houses were dismantled and in 1989, the land is in the possession

THE STEPHENS FAMILY AND MT. CARMEL CHURCH AT WALKER

John STEPHENS and his family were always energetic church workers. The original Mt. Carmel Church building, in Walker District of Wood County, burned in 1910. John STEPHENS was instrumental in acquiring a new site and building a new church building. The site chosen, which is the same site in 1989, was closer to the center of the population of the area. The original Mt. Carmel Church was about two miles out the Fall Run Road from the present site.

As one of the trustees for Mt. Carmel Church, John Francis STEPHENS, et. al., received a deed[1] dated 6 April 1910 for the present site of the church from E. H. Marlow and his wife, Rosa Marlow. A copy of this deed appears later in this chapter. A wood frame church building was completed in 1910. An addition was constructed in the late 1940's or early 1950's while this author was a boy attending the church. This church was heated by a large wood burning stove in the middle of church. In the 1950's a great improvement was made when two gas heaters, one on each end of the church, were added which were fueled by "bottled gas."

John, still a trustee of Mt. Carmel Church, was deeded a one acre lot across the road from the church to be used as a "burying ground" in a deed[2] dated 28 January 1914 from Albert C. and Agnes Nichols to J. F. STEPHENS, trustee, et. al. A copy of this deed appears later in this chapter. Of course, John, Mary Ellen, and many other members of the STEPHENS family have been buried in the Mt. Carmel Church Cemetery.

Many members of the STEPHENS and related families were members of and attended Mt. Carmel Church, including the author of this book. Unfortunately, fire again struck the Mt. Carmel church and the structure built in 1910 was completely destroyed by a fire of mysterious origin in 1968.

THE LAST YEARS

Mary Ellen STEPHENS was very feeble the last few years of her life because of dropsy. She died[3] in her home at 4:00 p.m. on 9 February 1927, just five days short of her 76'th. birthday. She was buried the next day in the Mt. Carmel Church Cemetery. Her undertaker was B. F. Blackwell, a local resident.

John STEPHENS was blind in his later years, and spent much time rocking in a rocking chair in front of the fireplace. His rocking chair, which was a wedding gift to Marvin F. STEPHENS and Laura Mae Moore in 1910 from Joe and Essie (STEPHENS) Donnelly, is now (1989) in the possession of his granddaughter, Martha (STEPHENS) Johnson. John died[1] in his home at 3:30 p.m. on 8 November 1936. His son Marvin, and daughter Mary were with him when he died and would have supplied information for the death certificate and obituary. John's body was moved to the Warne Funeral Home in Parkersburg, 25 miles away, and brought back next day to the home where family members received friends. This is believed to be the first time in the neighborhood that a body was removed from the home to a funeral home for embalming and preparation for burial. The local custom had been to prepare a body while it was still in the home and having the burial service within a day of the death of a person. John was buried on 10 November 1936 in the Mt. Carmel Cemetery. John's physician was W. Russell Yeager, M.D., a friend from the community who was a family physician, practicing medicine in Parkersburg, WV, to five generations of the STEPHENS family.

CHAPTER V. MARVIN FRANCIS & LAURA MAE (MOORE) STEPHENS

SECTION 1.

8. Marvin Francis Stephens (1889-1978)
9. Laura Mae Moore (1890-1968)

Marvin Francis STEPHENS was born[1] in Frew, Ellsworth District, Tyler County, West Virginia, on Saturday, 7 September 1889, the eleventh child of 16. John Francis STEPHENS and 17. Mary Ellen Weekley.. Marvin was married[2] by the Rev. Gainer to Laura Mae Moore at the home of her parents in Walker, Wood County, West Virginia on Sunday, 30 January 1910. The wedding was witnessed[3] by Marvin's sisters, Alice and Minnie. Laura Mae was born[4] in Walker on Wednesday, 1 October 1890, the daughter of 18. Robert Cummings Moore, and 19. Margaret Cordelia Murry. Laura Mae was known as Mae to her family and friends.

Marvin and Mae were the parents of eleven children, one of whom died in infancy, 8(1) Edith Virginia, 8(2) Bernice Olive, 8(3)4 Cecil Francis, 8(4) Clara Mae, 8(5) Joseph Charles, 8(6) Naomi Pearl, 8(7) Carrie Martha, 8(8) Ruth Delarie, 8(9) George Irvin, 8(10) Ruby Louise, and 8(11) John Robert. Marvin and Mae lived[5] at 643 Harris Street, Parkersburg, Wood County, West Virginia when they were first married. Their first child, Edith was born in Parkersburg. Shortly after the birth of Edith, Marvin and his family moved back on Lick Run to live with his parents and help run the family farm. The remaining children were born on Lick Run. Joseph Charles STEPHENS died at age 14 months of pneumonia.[6]

Laura Mae died[7] at age 78, after a long illness, at Camden Clark Hospital, Parkersburg, WV, on 15 October 1968. After Mae's death, Marvin married Mabel Cordray STEPHENS, the widow of William STEPHENS (1891-1957), a distant cousin of Marvin's. William is the son of George Washington and Anna Belle (McPherson) STEPHENS. Marvin & Mabel were married in Wood County in September 1970. Marvin died[8] at his home in Walker, Wood County, WV, on 22 September 1978 at the age of 89 years. Both Marvin and Laura Mae are buried[1] in Mt. Carmel Cemetery, Walker, Wood County, WV, next to the graves of their son Joseph and Marvin's parents, John Francis and Mary Ellen (Weekley) STEPHENS.

CENSUS RECORDS

Marvin is listed at age 10 with his parents on the 1900 census[2] of Wood County, West Virginia. Laura Mae Moore is listed at age 9 with her parents on the 1900 census[3] of Ritchie County, WV. Actually the STEPHENS and Moore families were near neighbors because the county line between Wood, Ritchie, & Wirt Counties is very close to the STEPHENS farm. Marvin and Laura Mae are found as newlyweds listed on the 1910 Wood County, WV census,[4] Parkersburg District. Marvin is listed as a railroad worker on the census.

THE MOORE FAMILY

The parents of Laura Mae, Robert Cummings Moore[5] and Margaret Cordelia Murry, were married 5 April 1871 at Weston, Lewis County, West Virginia, by Rev. F. M. Hughes. Robert, the son of 36. John J. Moore and 37. Elizabeth R. Bragg, was born[6] 7 November 1846 near Natural Bridge, Rockbridge County, Virginia. John Moore and his family moved from Rockbridge County to Lewis County, (West) Virginia about 1847, shortly after Robert was born. Robert died[7] 23 October 1927 in Chester, Hancock Co., WV, and is buried in the Freeport Cemetery, Freeport, Wirt Co., WV. John J. Moore was born ca. 1809 in Virginia, probably Albemarle County, and died in April 1870 in Lewis County, WV. Elizabeth R. (Bragg) Moore was born ca. 1812 in Virginia, also probably Albemarle County, and died 1870/80 in Lewis County. John J. Moore and Elizabeth R. Bragg were married[8] 13 March 1833, in Albemarle County, VA. It is almost certain that John J. is the son of 72. Benjamin Moore, Jr., and 73. Susanna Burton;

however, no definite proof of such is known.[1] Benjamin Moore, Jr., was born about 1778 in New Jersey, the son of 144. Benjamin Moore, Sr., and 145. Martha, surname unknown. Benjamin, Jr. died in 1843 in Albemarle Co., VA. Benjamin Moore, Sr., was born ca. 1750 in Essex County, New Jersey, and moved to Albemarle County, Virginia about 1792, where he died in 1827. Martha was born 1773/84, and died by 1830 in Albemarle County.[2]

Robert's brother, William Henry Moore[3] served in the Civil War in Co. I, 3rd WV Cavalry. This author has in his possession a Civil War Medal minted for William H. Moore that was commissioned by the state of West Virginia after the Civil War for the veterans of that state. Three of Robert's brothers-in-law, Robert Pindle Flesher,[4] William H. Bragg,[5] and Henry C. Hall,[6] also served in the Civil War. Robert's brother Jeremiah B. (Jerry) Moore served in the Home Guards.

THE MURRY FAMILY

Margaret Cordelia (Murry) Moore was born[7] 15 December 1846 in Lewis County, West Virginia, the daughter of 38. John Murry, and 39. Virginia Jane, surname unknown. Margaret died[8] 22 January 1916 in Chester, Hancock Co., WV, and is buried in the Freeport Cemetery, Freeport, Wirt Co., WV. The ancestry of John and Jane Murry is not known, but John was born ca. 1802 and Jane about 1802, both in Virginia. They were married by 1828 and had children born in Goochland and Augusta Counties, Virginia, and in Randolph and Lewis Counties, (West) Virginia. John died 5 August 1854 in Lewis County, and Jane died 1864/65 in Racine, Meigs County, OH. Two of Margaret's brothers[9] were killed on the same day, 9 May 1864, during the Civil War. After Jane was widowed,

THE EARLY YEARS

Marvin started to school soon after moving to Wood County with his parents. Both Marvin and his future wife, Laura Mae Moore, attended the old Rocky Knob School at Walker, not far from the house in which he died. Mae received[4] a card from her teacher, Bessie Sprout, which was entitled "Reward of Merit, A Testimonial of Approbation Awarded to Mae Moore For Punctual Attendance, Correct Deportment, and Diligent Attention to Studies." Marvin and Laura Mae both completed the sixth grade, which was the highest grade taught at the Rocky Knob School.

Marvin was working as a brakeman on the railroad when he was married.[5] During the years 1908-1910, preceding his marriage, he sent many postcards[6] to his fiancee from many locations in West Virginia. He usually signed the cards with his initials in reverse order, i.e., "your Friend, S.F.M." After his marriage, Marvin worked at whatever job he could obtain with the railroad, construction jobs, farming, or common labor. Very often, Marvin was forced to live away from home during the week and was able to be home only on Sundays.

A few years after their marriage, Marvin and Mae moved back to Lick Run to help take care of Marvin's parents and run the family farm. John F. and Mary Ellen STEPHENS deeded[7] their farm to son Marvin and his wife Mae, on 12 November 1926. After Marvin moved his family back to the Lick Run farm, he, among other things, in the late 1920's, grew strawberries and raspberries to sell on the market. Marvin paid neighborhood children, as well as his own children, a few cents a quart for picking the berries that he sold in Parkersburg. In the 1930's when employment was very difficult to obtain, some of the neighbors also helped to pick the berries. Nellie and Carl Beha helped to pick the berries. Nellie would place her baby, Denver, on a blanket in the shade, and all the children would help to care for the child. Marvin first became interested in raising berries after a neighbor on an adjoining farm, a Frenchman by the name of Mr. Beaudrie, grew and marketed berries for several years. Marvin's children, Bernice, Cecil and Clara picked berries for Mr. Beaudrie, and Marvin took the berries to market for him. The children saved their money in separate piggy banks and spent much time looking at catalogs. Mae placed orders for her children, ordering clothes, etc., for them.

Mae was a good seamstress[1] and made about all the girls' clothes except shoes and stockings. She also made a lot of the boys' shirts. In addition, she made her own sheets, pillow cases, and quilts. Ready made clothes where a real luxury, and the family could not afford many such luxuries. Clothes had to be washed on a washboard and dried outside on lines, or around the fire in the winter. The older girls would stay home from school on wash days to help with the washing.

After the horse called Charlie, which had belonged to Marvin's father, died as a result of an accident, Marvin acquired another horse named Fritz, which he still owned when he moved to Harrison County, WV.

Much time and hard work was required to preserve the fruit and vegetables grown on the farm. A lot of jam and jellies was made from the strawberries, raspberries, and wild blackberries found on the farm. Large quantities of apple butter was made from the apples grown on the farm. Chickens, ducks, geese, and pigs were butchered to supply the family with meat.

Most of the children were only able to attend school through the eighth grade since it was very difficult for them to get to Parkersburg, 20 miles away, to attend a high school. Martha was the first of the children to go past the eighth grade; she completed the ninth grade at Parkersburg High School. Edith, Bernice and Cecil started to school at Rocky Knob, the same school that Marvin and Mae attended earlier. Later, a new school was built at Mt. Carmel, and the children attended school there. Clara was the last to complete the 8th grade at Mt. Carmel before the building was torn down and rebuilt at Walker. Pearl, Ruth and Martha completed the 8th grade at Walker School. The younger children, George, Ruby and John attended a school at Lick Run until Marvin and family moved to Haywood in the early 1940's. George, Ruby and John completed their education at Haywood.[2]

Life on the farm required that every member of the family do his share of the work. Since Cecil was the only "older boy," the older girls had to help with the outside work, working in the gardens, milking the cows, harvesting hay, feeding the pigs and chickens, etc. Of course, there was always wood and water to be carried to the house and kerosene lamps to be filled. Earning a living on the farm required good management, a lot of hard work, love and the cooperation of every member of the extended family. It was a Spartan life without many extras. However, the STEPHENS family felt that they had more than most of their neighbors and were not really aware of how people outside of the community lived. They felt very lucky for all they had.

All the children worked outside of the farm when they were old enough to do so and could obtain jobs. Edith went to work at age 16 in 1927 with the American Viscose Plant in Parkersburg when it first opened. Both Bernice and Clara started working at the Viscose plant when they reached age 16. Most of the girls did house work for various families before obtaining better paying employment. Pearl worked in restaurants. Martha and Ruth were eventually able to obtain employment with the Union Insulating Plant in 1942. Martha worked there until 1946, leaving after she was married and had a baby. Ruth worked there until the job was terminated, at which time she went into retail sales. Cecil, before he was married, worked on road construction, railroad work, or whatever was available. George eventually obtained employment with the Viscose plant and worked there several years. Ruby worked at retail sales in Clarksburg until she married and moved to Virginia.

Marvin was living at Walker and working for the Keeley Construction Co. when he applied for a Social Security Card[1] on 18 June 1937.

Marvin was already the father of four children when he registered for the World War I draft[2] on 5 June, 1917. He registered at Precinct 2, Walker, WV, and was listed as Order #44, serial #2793. He was not called to active duty during the war.

The first automobile Marvin owned was a 1921 Model T Ford. He had never driven an automobile before he purchased the car. The salesman drove the car part of the way from Parkersburg to Walker and taught Marvin how to drive. A few miles out of Parkersburg, the salesman turned the car over to Marvin and returned to Parkersburg in an escort car. Marvin, his brother-in-law, Henry Ware, and another neighbor each purchased a Model-T at a special price of $300 each. Marvin told[3] how he had to turn the Model T around and back up hills when the gasoline level became low. The gasoline flowed by gravity from the gasoline tank in the car to the motor, thus when going forward up the steep hills around Wood County, the gasoline supply was restricted. The dirt roads were bad in the Walker, Lick Run area, during the winters. It was difficult to drive a car, even a Model T, most of the time. Therefore, the family had to walk about everywhere, including to school, to church, to the grocery store, and often to their place of employment. The automobiles Marvin later owned included a 1930 or 1931 Oldsmobile, 1937 and 1938 Chevrolets, 1951 Dodge, a Ford Falcon, and a 1957 Nash Rambler. Marvin drove until the summer of 1977, a year before his death.

LEAVING THE LICK RUN FARM

In late 1941 or early 1942, at the beginning of World War II, Marvin moved his family and their Eskimo Spitz dog named Teddy to Haywood, Harrison County, West Virginia and began working in the coal mines. He worked for several different mining companies and later moved across the river from Haywood to Lumberport, WV. He "shot coal" by drilling holes in the coal, inserting dynamite, and exploding the dynamite to break up the coal so it could be moved out of the mine. Once, Marvin was not feeling well, and Mae insisted that he not report to work. That night, during the shift that Marvin would have been working, the mine exploded, killing several men.

Marvin was a member of the United Mine Workers of America, and served as Secretary/Treasurer of his local for several years.

On the evening of Friday, 23 June 1944, while living in Haywood, Marvin and Mae sat on their porch and watched[1] a monstrous tornado roar across the nearby town of Shinnston with much destruction and the loss of many lives. This author remembers visiting his grandparents and seeing the damage created by the tornado.

Marvin and Mae always planned to return to Walker when Marvin retired from the mines. However, the Lick Run farm was in an area that was isolated, not on the main road through Walker, and difficult to reach by automobile. Therefore, Marvin and Mae decided to build a new home in Walker. To this end, they purchased a six acre farm[2] in November, 1945, on Rocky Knob, Walker, Wood Co., WV, from Mrs. Vernie Race. They started building a house during vacations with the help of Marvin's brother-in-law, Henry Ware. Marvin and Mae stayed with their son Cecil when visiting in Walker. This author remembers the visits of his grandparents as very happy occasions. They very often brought small gifts for their grandchildren when they visited.

While employed by Catherine Mines in about 1947, Marvin had his foot badly crushed by coal and was on disability leave for quite some time. Marvin eventually went back to work in the mine for a short time after the foot healed. However, he soon retired on disability, as his foot was too crippled to allow him to do much work in the mines.

MOVING BACK TO WALKER, WV

After retiring from the mines on disability, Marvin and Mae moved back to Walker in 1949 to live in their partially finished house. They soon completed their house and cleared several acres of land. Marvin planted several fruit trees, and Mae planted many flowering shrubs and several flower beds.

Mae grew many beautiful flowers and worked with them until the last few years of her life. She even crawled up the short grades to reach and work with her flowers when she was too weak to walk. She also always had dozens of potted plants in which she took great pride.

Marvin planted many strawberries and raspberries and sold great quantities of the berries. As he did in earlier years, he paid the neighborhood children, including this author, a few cents a quart to pick the berries. He also tried his luck at raising Capons for the market, but did not have much success in this endeavor. He raised rabbits for quite sometime.

Once when walking through his field of strawberries, returning from squirrel hunting in 1965, Marvin killed a Wild Cat.[1] An excerpt of a newspaper article about the Wild Cat is included later in this chapter.

Marvin built a large arbor in his backyard and covered it with Morning Glory vines. This arbor was a very beautiful, shady spot for several years. He also grew beautiful roses and dahlias on the hill sides around his home.

Cecil STEPHENS built a grocery store, STEPHENS Grocery, which he owned and operated across the road from Marvin's home. Marvin spent a lot of time for several years working in the store. Marvin especially enjoyed meeting and talking with people, so the grocery store business was something he very much enjoyed.

After Marvin and Mae moved back to Walker, a STEPHENS family reunion was held each summer at their home. The reunion always attracted a large gathering of family and friends. Huge quantities of varied delicious food was always available and much enjoyed by the reunion participants. After Marvin's death, the reunion tradition has been continued each year at the STEPHENS home place by John and Martha (STEPHENS) Johnson.

A special family reunion[2] was held in 1951 or 1952 to celebrate the return of John Robert STEPHENS from Korea. Both John and his brother George served in the Korean War.

Marvin especially liked to hunt and spent much time each fall and winter hunting rabbits, squirrels and deer. Marvin had always hoped to kill a deer, but he never did so. Once he did have a deer down, but while he was standing over the deer, it jumped up and ran away! After he was no longer able to hunt, he gave his deer rifle to his great-grandson, Christopher Conrad, son of Wilma, daughter of Cecil.

Marvin sold his farm on Lick Run to his daughter Martha (STEPHENS) Johnson, and her husband John, in 1952 or 1953. In May 1959, John and Martha sold the farm to the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company.

MISCELLANEOUS

Marvin started a tradition of giving each of his grandchildren a silver dollar when they were born. He continued this tradition with his great-grandchildren until his death.

Marvin and Mae were both Republicans all their lives. Marvin always drove voters to the polls on election days and was active in Republican politics. For many years, Marvin worked as a deputy assessor in Wood County.

Whenever groups of local residents of the Walker community were petitioning various public or state agencies for services, Marvin was always in the forefront and was very often the leader of such groups. Marvin was instrumental in obtaining electricity for the community, and fought for many years to obtain telephone service. In addition, he led many a delegation of citizens meeting with the West Virginia State Road Commission in requesting that the Walker road be upgraded and paved.

Both Marvin and Mae were life long members of Mt. Carmel Church, which they had help build. Marvin was a trustee of the Church for many years, and was always a devoted worker for the Church. However, in later years, a split developed in the Mt. Carmel Church and Marvin moved his membership to Walker Church where he was a member when he died. Both Churches were formerly United Brethren, later becoming Evangelical United Brethren (EUB), and finally becoming United Methodist. Much information concerning Mt. Carmel Church is included in Chapter Three of this book. Marvin, his brother-in-law, Henry Ware, and Lonzo Hewitt, were trustees[1] of the Walker U.B. Church in Christ, when they deeded the church to new trustees and the church became the Beulah Presbyterian Church, 9 October 1929. Both Marvin and Mae were great fans of the Rev. Billy Graham. They always listened to the Billy Graham radio program from the time the program first started. In later years they enjoyed the Billy Graham television programs.

Marvin was a kind, gentle, very gregarious man. He was always ready to help a neighbor when he thought they needed help. He would take groceries to people who needed help, and transport people to Parkersburg to see physicians, etc. Mae was more introverted, but also a very kind, sweet woman, very devoted to her husband and family.

Mae, in addition to her flowers, enjoyed sewing and quilting. She had a quilting frame installed on the second floor and used the frame to complete many quilts. She also was an avid reader. She read hundreds of books, her favorite author being Grace Livingston Hill. Mae collected salt and pepper shakers, and had hundreds on shelves in her dining room. Family and friends collected salt and pepper shakers from all over the world for Mae. She was famous for her molasses and lemon cookies. One could always smell her molasses cookies when entering the house, as she always had a well-stocked cookie jar. This author also remembers the delicious boiled apple dumplings which she made often.

THE LAST YEARS

Marvin and Mae celebrated[1] their Golden Wedding (50 th.) Anniversary at their residence in January, 1960.

Mae was a near invalid for many years, suffering from acute arteriosclerosis, among other things. She was not able to much more than sit in her chair and read for the last few years of her life. Marvin did most of the "house work" and cooking for the last several years before Mae died. Mae died[2] 15 October 1968 in Camden Clark Hospital, Parkersburg, WV. Her will[3] was probated on 21 October 1968.

After the death of Mae, Marvin continued to be active working in his garden. He wrote many letters to members of his family and friends. In 1969, he took his first airplane ride with a trip to Denver, Colorado, for a long visit with his children, George, Pearl, Ruby, and their families. This was his first trip West and he talked very fondly about the visit for the rest of his life. He was very lonely, however, after the death of Mae and had a difficult time coping with living alone. Marvin wrote in a 1969 letter[4] to this author about his difficulty. "I sure have put in a lot of lonesome days here since Mom passed away, but I just try to make the best (of) it, as so many people has to go through the same thing as I have, so now I know how to feel for them as never before." In September 1970, Marvin married Mabel (Cordray) STEPHENS, the widow of William STEPHENS. Mabel and William had lived in Walker for many years.

In July 1970, Marvin deeded[5] his house and farm to his daughter and son-in-law, Martha and John Johnson, as a gift. John and Martha had lived across the road from Marvin and Laura Mae and had taken care of them for many years.

Marvin always walked with a limp after his mining accident, and his foot would swell badly and cause him a lot of pain. He suffered with a heart problem and was an invalid for the last few months of his life. He died[6] at his home in Walker, attended by his wife Mabel and his daughter Martha, on 22 September 1978. His will[7] was dated 13 January 1971, and probated 26 September 1978.

Dear Jim and Nancy

I recd your letter and was sure glad to (hear) from you and to hear you are ready to take over a real big job in NC. We are all real proud of you that you have come so far as to have (a) PhD degree. We know it was a long hard pull for you, but, you have something no one can take away from you and only hope you keep your health so you can go forward from now on.

We are also glad Nancy has done so well as to have a Master's Degree so it looks as you have something above what most people never get to in this world.

Well, I am not to well this winter. I have just stayed in house most of the time as it has rained so much and wet weather is very hard on me as by trouble has kept me feeling pretty bad. I still have emphysema, and it almost gets me down sometimes. I have stayed by self most of the time as it is hard to get anybody now days as everybody is so busy.

Bill and his wife was out to see me last Sunday a week ago. His wife seems real nice to me and I sure hope they make a real go of it and I believe they will.

Well, everybody here is well at present time and all just glad winter is about over.

I hope to do a lot of visiting this summer if my health will let me do so. I hope to go to Denver for a long visit - as I have always wanted to go out West and now I have a real excuse for going. I sure have put in a lot of lonesome days here since Mom passed away, but I just try to make the best (of) it,as so many people has to go through the same thing as I have, so now I know how to feel for them as never before.

Well, I hope you can read this as I have come to the place I can't hardy use a pen or even think or spell words right anymore, so I will close with my Love and

Very best wishes to you and Nancy when you get in your new home in N.C. and be sure and write again when you can.

HUNTING SEASON HAS ODDITIES

The following is an excerpt from an article with the title above. The article discusses several oddities which hunters had reported during the season.

Wild Cat - Marvin STEPHENS, Rocky Knob, Walker, R.F.D. came in home from squirrel hunting and literally met this cat on a part close to where there had been a mother grouse and several grouse chicks. The cat was slate gray in color and had a ringed tail. The encyclopedia said it was an old fashioned Wild Cat (two words) and made a distinction between it and the Wildcat or Bobcat and Lynx.

(A picture of Marvin holding the cat was included in the article and the caption is listed below.)

WOOD COUNTY, WEST VIRGINIA DEEDS
Deed Book 578, Page 174

M. F. STEPHENS TO JOHN L. JOHNSON AND CARRIE M. JOHNSON
Dated 27 July 1970

THIS DEED made and entered into this 27th day of July, 1970, by and between M. F. STEPHENS, widower, hereinafter designated party of the first part, and JOHN L. JOHNSON and CARRIE M. JOHNSON, husband and wife, hereinafter designated parties of the second part.

WITNESSETH: That for and in consideration of the sum of Five Dollars ($5.00) and other valuable consideration, receipt of all of which is hereby acknowledged, the party of the first part does hereby grant and convey with COVENANTS of GENERAL WARRANTY unto the said parties of the second part for and during the term of their joint lives, and upon the death of either one of them then to the survivor in fee, subject to the reservations and exceptions made herein, all of the following described real estate situate in Walker District, Wood County, West Virginia, reserving to said party of the first part the use and control of said real estate, during his lifetime:

(1) BEGINNING at a point in the center of the County Road, being a northwest corner of 49 acres and 25 poles belonging to Vernie M. Race; thence N. 25 deg. W. 300 feet to a chestnut oak; thence N. 12 1/2 deg. E. 720 feet to a hickory; thence S. 49 deg. E. 120 feet to a stake; thence S. 24 deg. E. 395 feet to a locust; thence S. 8 deg. W. 540 feet to a point in the center of the County Road; thence with the center of said road N. 87 1/2 deg. W. 204 feet to the place of beginning, containing 6 acres, be the same more or less. Excepting 1/5 of the oil and gas in and under said land as reserved by Ethel Reynolds in her deed to Vernie M. Race; and reserving unto the said Vernie M. Race, one-half of the oil and gas in and under said land. And excepting also a tract of land containing approximately 1/10 acre heretofore conveyed to Homer D. Farr by the party of the first part and wife by deed dated October 30, 1959 and recorded in the Clerk's Office of said County in Deed Book 438, Page 500.

Being the same real estate conveyed to the party of the first part and Mae STEPHENS, his wife, by Vernie M. Race by deed dated November 1, 1945, and recorded in said Clerk's Office in Deed Book 279, Page 40.

(2) BEGINNING at a point in the center of the County Road, leading from Volcano to Walker Station, at a corner of the tract of land described in the next preceding paragraph numbered 1; running thence with the line of said STEPHENS tract in 6 E. 161 feet to a sourwood; thence S. 59 1/2 E. 168 feet 59 a point in the center of the aforesaid road; thence with the center of said road S. 65 W. 180 feet to the place of beginning, containing 3/10 of an acre, be the same more or less. But there is excepted and reserved unto Ethel Reynolds, an undivided 1/5 interest of the oil and gas in and under said land, as reserved to her in the deed from Ethel Reynolds and others to Vernie Race, dated the 14th day of August, 1942, and recorded in the office of the Clerk of the County Court of Wood County, West Virginia, in Deed Book No. 270, at Pate 394. Also exception and reserving from this conveyance an undivided 3/10 interest of the oil and gas in and under said tract of land as excepted and reserved in a deed from Vernie Race to the party of the first part and wife, dated July 30, 1946 and recorded in said Clerk's Office in Deed Book 298, Page 9.

Being the same real estate conveyed to the party of the first party and Mae STEPHENS, his wife, by said deed of July 30, 1946.

Mae STEPHENS, wife of the party of the first part, died testate on October 15, 1968 and by her Last Will and Testament, probated on October 21, 1968, she devised her entire estate unto the party of the first part.

WITNESS the following signature and seal.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

MARVIN F. STEPHENS

I, Marvin F. STEPHENS, of Wood County, West Virginia, being of sound and disposing mind and memory, do hereby make, publish and declare this to be my Last Will and Testament, in the manner and form following, hereby revoking all Wills and Codicils heretofore made by me.

FIRST: I direct that all my just debts and funeral expenses be pain out of my estate as soon as practicable after the time of my decease.

SECOND: I do hereby give, devise and bequeath all of my property, real, personal and mixed, wheresoever situated, to my wife, Mabel C. STEPHENS, absolutely.

THIRD: I do hereby nominate and appoint my wife, Mabel C. STEPHENS, Executrix of this, my Last Will and Testament, and direct that the said Executrix shall not give bond. I do hereby authorize and empower my said Executrix, if, and whenever in the settlement of my estate she deems it advisable, at her discretion, to sell my real, personal and mixed property at public or private sale and to execute and deliver all deeds, instruments of transfer or other writings necessary to pass proper title thereto.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto subscribed my name and affixed my seal at Parkersburg, Wood County, West Virginia, this 13th day of January, 1971, in the presence of John S. Cather and Lydia E. Sams, whom I have requested to become attesting witnesses.

Marvin F. STEPHENS <seal>

The foregoing instrument, consisting of two typewritten pages, including this page, was subscribed, sealed, published and declared by Marvin F. STEPHENS, as and for his Last Will and Testament, in our presence and in the presence of each of us, and we, at the same time, at his request, in his presence, and in the presence of each other, hereunto subscribe our names as attesting witnesses this 13th day of January, 1971.

IN RE: LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT OF MARVIN F. STEPHENS, DECEASED.
DATE OF DEATH: SEPTEMBER 22, 1978

(PROBATE ONLY)

"A paper writing purporting to be the last Will and Testament of Marvin F. STEPHENS, deceased, a late resident of this County, bearing date the 13th day of January, 1971, was this day presented before the County Commission, for probate, and it appearing to this Commission that said paper writing is duly attested on the face thereof by an affidavit attached thereto, and being a part thereof, which states such facts under oath and properly verified as would be required of the witnesses in testifying before this Commission to establish and prove said Will; and

There appearing no person present before this Commission to object thereto, it is hereby ordered that said paper writing be admitted to probate, and recorded as the last Will and Testament of Marvin F. STEPHENS, deceased, in accordance with Chapter 41, Article 5, Section 15 of the official Code of the State of West Virginia."

LAURA MAY STEPHENS

I, Laura May STEPHENS, of the city of Walker, County of Wood, state of West Virginia, being of sound mind and memory, do hereby make, publish, and declare this to be my last will and testament, hereby revoking any will or wills heretofore made by me.

First. I direct that all my just debts and funeral expenses be fully paid and satisfied, as soon as conveniently may be, after my decease.

Second. I give, devise, and bequeath to my husband, Marvin Francis STEPHENS, all the rest, residue, and remainder of my estate, both real and personal, of every kind and description, wheresoever situate, which I may own or have the right to dispose of at the time of my decease.

In Witness Whereof, I, Laura May STEPHENS, the testator, have set my hand and seal hereto this first day of February in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and sixty-two (1962).

Laura May Stephens <seal>

Signed, sealed, published and declared as and for her last will and testament by Laura May STEPHENS, the above named testator, in the presence of us, who at her request and in the presence of her and of each other, have subscribed our names hereto as witnesses on the day and year last aforesaid.

IN THE OFFICE OF THE CLERK OF THE COUNTY COURT OF WOOD COUNTY, WEST VIRGINIA
MONDAY, OCTOBER 21st, 1968

IN RE: LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT OF LAURA MAY STEPHENS, DECEASED. DATE OF DEATH: OCTOBER 15th. 1968.

"A paper writing purporting to be the last Will and Testament of Laura May STEPHENS, deceased, a late resident of this County, bearing date on the 1st day of February, 1962, was this day presented before the County

Clerk for probate; and said writing being witness thereto, Who, after first being duly sworn, testified that the signature of the second subscribing witness to said paper writing was her signature, and that she had signed said paper writing as a subscribing witness at the request of and in the presence of James F. STEPHENS, the first subscribing witness, all present together, and that the said Laura May STEPHENS, the Testatrix, signed and acknowledged said paper writing as and for her last Will and Testament in her presence, and in the presence of James F. STEPHENS, the first subscribing witness, all present together, and ...

In the absence of James F. STEPHENS, the first subscribing witness to said paper writing, the said Martha Johnson further testified that the signature of the first subscribing witness is the signature of and in the proper handwriting of James F. STEPHENS, and that the said James F. STEPHENS signed said paper writing as a subscribing witness at the request of and in the presence of Laura May STEPHENS, the Testatrix, and in her presence, all present at the same time; and...

That to the best of her knowledge and belief the said Laura May STEPHENS, the Testatrix was, at the time of signing said paper writing, of sound and disposing mind and memory, and that she know of no reason why said paper writing should not be admitted to probate.

It is therefore, ORDERED that the said paper writing, be, and the same is hereby, admitted to probate and recorded as the last Will and Testament of the said Laura May STEPHENS, deceased."

CHAPTER VI. CECIL FRANCIS & DORA LEE (JENKINS) STEPHENS

SECTION 1.

4. Cecil Francis Stephens (1914-1961))
5. Dora Lee Jenkins (1918-)

Cecil Francis STEPHENS was born[1] on Lick Run, Walker District, Wood County, West Virginia, in a log house on Friday, 20 March 1914. He was the oldest son of 8. Marvin Francis STEPHENS, and 9. Laura Mae Moore. Cecil was married[2] by the Reverend E. Ray Cole to Dora Lee Jenkins, in Parkersburg, Wood County, West Virginia, at 1:00 p.m. on Saturday, 16 April 1938, in the parsonage of the Seventh Street United Brethren Church. The wedding was witnessed by Mrs. E. Ray Cole and Dora's sister, Nellie B. (Jenkins) Moore. Dora is the daughter of 10. Samuel (Bud) Jasper Jenkins, and 11. Rosetta Mary Hyde, and was born[3] on Friday, 12 April 1918, in Walker, Wood County, West Virginia. Cecil was nicknamed "Apple Bill" by his family, and Dora was known as "Fiddle" and/or "Doe" by her family.

Cecil and Dora were the parents of four children, 4(1)2 James (Jim) Francis, 4(2) Wilma Lee, 4(3) William (Bill) Joseph, and 4(4) Norma (Sis) Jean. Jim was born in his Jenkins grandparents log house in Walker. The other children were all born in Parkersburg, West Virginia; Wilma in the home of Dora's sister Nellie, Bill and Norma in Camden Clark Memorial Hospital.

Cecil was killed[4] instantly in a tragic timbering accident on Oak Ridge, Walker District, Wood County, West Virginia, on Saturday, 29 July 1961. His funeral was at Mt. Carmel Church on 1 August 1961 and he was buried in Mt. Carmel Cemetery in Walker. Cecil was issued[5] Social Security # 705-12-5329.

Four years after the death of Cecil, Dora married[6] Holly Allen in Parkersburg, WV, on 18 January 1965. Holly was born[7] 11 October 1918, in Millstone, Calhoun County, WV. He is the son of James Filden Allen and Almira Bailey. Holly died after a long illness on 3 May 1985, in Camden Clark Memorial Hospital, Parkersburg, WV. Holly was buried on 3 May 1985 in Sturm Cemetery, near Millstone, WV. Holly's first wife was Vera Hathaway.

William Joseph STEPHENS, the second son of Cecil and Dora, died at his home in Belpre, Ohio on 19 January 1990. He was buried at the Evergreen Memorial Cemetery in Belpre, OH.

THE JENKINS FAMILY

Dora's parents, Samuel (Bud) Jasper Jenkins and Rosetta Mary Hyde, were married[1] by the Rev. S. Scollay Moore, Rector of Trinity Church, in Parkersburg, WV, on 6 September 1907. The marriage was witnessed[2] by Samuel's brother, Thomas N. Jenkins, and by Rosetta's father, Amos S. Hyde. Samuel, the son of 20. Samuel J. Jenkins, Sr., and 21. Elcie Jane Johnson, was born 23 March 1883 in Ritchie County, West Virginia. Rosetta was born 22 May 1891 in Braxton County, West Virginia, daughter of, 22. Amos Sylvester (Vest) Hyde and 23. Lavila Jane Davis. Samuel and Rosetta lived all their lives in the Ritchie and Wood Counties, WV area, except a short time when they lived in Harrison County, WV, while Samuel worked in the mines and in a zinc factory. Samuel died[3] 11 June 1961, and Rosetta died[4] 17 October 1979, both in Parkersburg, WV. Both are buried in the Mt. Carmel Cemetery, Walker, WV.

Samuel J. Jenkins, Sr., son of 40. John Jenkins and 41. Nancy Jackson,was born[5] 15 March 1831 in what is now Ritchie County, West Virginia. Samuel Jenkins, Sr., and Elcie Johnson were married[6] 07 March 1865 in Ritchie Co., WV, after Samuel returned from the Civil War. Samuel served in Co. K, 10th WV Infantry. He was badly wounded[7] on 9 April 1865 at Appomattox Court House, Virginia, the day and place that Lee surrendered to Grant. Elcie Johnson was born in May 1851 in Upshur County, WV, the daughter of 42. Thomas Nashville Johnson, Sr., and 43. Alpha Jane Marshall. Samuel died 21 January 1901, and Elcie died[8] 7 August 1928, both in Eatons, Wood County, WV. Both are buried in the Mt. Olive Cemetery, Eatons, WV.

Very little documented information is known about John and Nancy (Jackson) Jenkins. John Jenkins was born[9] before 1794 in what is now West Virginia and probably died[1] 1847/48 in Ritchie County. John and Nancy were married by 1815. Nancy was born[2] ca. 1800 in Harrison County, WV. After Nancy was widowed, she married[3] William Bravo on 15 April 1855 in Ritchie County. Nancy was apparently widowed again by 1860, when she is listed in the household of her son Madison on the 1860 Ritchie County census.[4] Nancy probably died between 1860 and 1870, as she is not found on 1870 census.

THE HYDE FAMILY

Amos Sylvester (Vest) Hyde, son of 44. Peter Hyde and 45. Margaret Ann Stout, was born 5 April 1859 in Jarvisville, Harrison County, WV. Amos and Lavila Jane Davis were married[5] 22 November 1880 in Doddridge Co., WV. Lavila was born in Oxford, Doddridge Co., WV, on 7 August 1859, the daughter of 46. William Elkanah Davis and 47. Anna Willis. Amos died[6] 15 January 1949 in Drakes, Perry County, Ohio, and Lavila died[7] 6 November 1943 in Parkersburg, WV. Both are buried in Mt. Carmel Cemetery, Walker, WV.

Peter Hyde is the son of 88. Daniel Hyde and 89. Mary Richards. Daniel is the son of 176. James Hyde, Jr. and 177. Catherine Hardman. James Hyde, Jr. is the son of 392. James Hyde, Sr. and 393. Sarah -?-.

PRE-MARRIAGE YEARS

Cecil began his education at Rocky Knob School, which was the same school that his parents attended. After a new school was built at Mt. Carmel, he attended it, but was not always able to attend on a regular basis. Cecil was awarded an Elementary School Diploma[8] on 15 April 1930 by his teacher, Mrs. Spence. The diploma "Certifies that Cecil Francis STEPHENS has completed the Course of Study prescribed by the Board of Education for the Public Schools of West Virginia, including the subjects of reading, orthography, penmanship, arithmetic, English grammar, United States and West Virginia History, geography, civil government, elementary agriculture, physiology and hygiene." The diploma was signed by H. A. Langfitt, County Superintendent; W.W. McPeek, President Board of Education; M. Jetta Spence, Teacher. In order to attend high school, it would have been necessary for Cecil to board in Parkersburg, 20 miles away, which was not a possibility for him.

Dora started to school, and completed her first year, while her parents were living in Harrison Co., WV. Her family was living in Roberts, in housing owned by the mine company, at the time. Many of the houses looked alike, so Dora's mother tied a ribbon to a post outside the house so Dora would be able to recognize the house when she returned home from school. Before Dora finished her first year in school, her family moved to Ziesing, when her father took a job in the zinc factory. Thus, she finished the first grade in Ziesing. She later attended the Mt. Carmel school, but only had the opportunity to complete the first four grades. Dora also had Mrs. Spence as a teacher. Dora's father helped build the Mt. Carmel School.

After completing the eighth grade at the age of 16, Cecil worked at whatever type of job he was able to find, such as farm labor, carpenter work, road construction, railroad labor, etc. Of course, Cecil always helped with the work on the family farm. An enormous amount of work was required to take care of the farm animals, grow gardens, cut firewood, etc. Cecil's father grew a lot of berries which required a lot of work by all members of the family. The family had an apple orchard which supplied large quantities of apples. Apples were buried under straw in the barns to keep them during the Winter. Cecil was always very fond of apples. When he went to the barn to do chores, he would come back eating apples and would have his pockets stuffed with apples. He was given the nickname of "Apple Bill" by his family.[1]

Cecil always grew popcorn, and would always keep a supply of dry popcorn in the attic of the house.

One of Cecil's favorite activities, as a boy and young man, was swimming in the local swimming "holes" in Walker Creek and in Lick Run. One of Cecil's best friends was his first cousin, Samuel (Sam) I. STEPHENS, Jr., son of Samuel Irvin STEPHENS, Sr. Sam lived in Parkersburg, but he visited the farm quite often, and always spent a big part of his summer vacations on the farm. Sometimes Cecil would drive his father's Model T and he and Sam[2] would go to Walker Station to swim in a popular "swimming hole" in Walker Creek. At other times Cecil and Sam would go swimming in the "waist deep swimming hole" on Lick Run.

Cecil enjoyed hunting very much, and spent a lot of time hunting rabbits, squirrels, groundhogs, quail, and pheasants. Cecil and Sam, along with another cousin, Don Skeens, would sometimes go rabbit hunting by digging rabbits out of their burrows with a mattock.

1. Personal communication from Martha (Stephens) Johnson, dated Jan., 1989.

2. Personal letter from Samuel I. Stephens, Jr., Titusville, FL, dated 10 February 1989.

Once Cecil and Sam went rabbit hunting on the hill close to Lick Run school, out of season, and they ran "smack" into a game warden. They hid for awhile, then ran to the house and hid their guns. About 30 minutes after the boys arrived at their house, they observed the game warden drive by the house in his green pick-up truck.[1]

Another one of Cecil's best friends as a young man, was Russell Beha, of Walker.

Before her marriage, Dora helped with the work on the family farm, and did housework for people in the community. She had many unusual pets, such as a pig, which acted like a pet dog, and two groundhogs. Dora raised the pig from the time it was first born by hand feeding it with a bottle. She kept the pig for two years by which time it became a large pig weighing several hundred pounds. She sold the pig to Ed Huber who hauled the pig in a wagon to his farm about three miles away. The next day the pig came walking back to the Jenkins home! Dora once killed a fox with a rock, and sold the fur. Dora learned at a very early age to play several musical instruments, such as the organ, piano, guitar, and violin. Samuel Jenkins, Dora's father, was a great violin player and he played at many dances in the community. Samuel also called square dances. Dora and her brother Dencil performed at such dances by playing a violin together. Dora would note, and Dencil would use the bow. Samuel purchased a new violin, and gave his old violin, which had belonged to his father, to Dora. This old violin,[2] built in the 1800's, had a broken neck in later years, but was repaired.

Cecil and Dora attended the Mt. Carmel church, along with other members of their families.

NEWLYWEDS

When Cecil and Dora were first married they lived with their respective parents while Cecil completed the construction of their three-room house on Freeport Ridge, Walker District, Wood County, WV. They moved[3] into the house in September, 1938. The house was on a 28 acre farm[4] which Cecil had purchased, before he was married, from John Wilcox in 1937. Wilcox had purchased the land from a Frenchman, Mr. Beaudrie. The house was located between the Wildman home and the home of Dora's grandparents, Amos and Lavila Hyde. Cecil and Dora were living in this house when their first child, Jim, was born. However, Jim was born in the home of Dora's parents. The attending physician was Dr. Holmes Blair. Cecil worked for a construction company that was building a bridge across Walker Creek on Route 47. This bridge is on Rt. 47 just before the Walker Road intersection. The construction job did not last long, and since this was the"great depression" period, jobs were very hard to secure. Cecil was not able to locate another job immediately, so he purchased two bay horses, Pat and Molly, and starting cutting timber, trying to make the payments on his farm loan. It soon became obvious that he was not going to be able to make the payments, so he sold the farm. The horses were sold to Cecil's uncle, Dallas Lee, who lived in Walker. Later, Dallas Lee sold his farm along with the horses to Faud Haught. This author remembers the horses on the Haught farm. Recently, the Haught's gave this author the horse yoke that Cecil had used with Pat and Molly. Cecil owned a 1932 Model A Ford coupe when he was first married.

THE EARLY YEARS[1]

After Cecil and Dora sold their 28 acre farm, they moved, in late 1940 or early 1941, to the Ellen DeGoines house on Lick Run, which was up the creek, not far from where Cecil's parents lived. Wilma Lee, their second child, was born while they were living in the DeGoines house. Wilma was born in the home of Nellie (Jenkins) Mead, in Parkersburg, WV. Dr. Russell Yeager was the attending physician. Nellie Beha, who was later to marry Dale Huber, Cecil's cousin, stayed with Dora before Wilma's birth, to help with the house work. Once when Nellie was staying with the family, Jim, who was less than two years old, got away from the house and walked up to a footbridge across a small stream and fell off into the water. He was not hurt, but gave everyone a good scare.

When daughter Wilma was three months old, in the fall of 1941, Cecil and Dora moved into their third home, a house and small farm rented from Ralph Nulter. This house was located in Walker next to the farm that Cecil and Dora would eventually purchase four years later. This house was also next door to the farm owned by uncle and aunt, Dallas and Cora (STEPHENS) Lee. Cecil was working with the railroad when they moved to the Nulter house. One of the interesting features about the house was that it had natural gas lamps installed. During their three year stay in the Nulter house, their third child, William Joseph, was born. Cecil and Dora had pigs, cows, and chickens, and grew big gardens. They had a milk cow named Red. Dora learned to drive a car on this farm, but did not obtain a driver's permit. Cecil now had a Model-A Ford car, and an Indiana truck. After Cecil was laid off from his railroad job, he briefly cut pulp wood. Cecil cut some pulp wood on the neighboring Dallas Lee farm. This author remembers Dora preparing picnic baskets and taking her children, Jim and Wilma, to the area on the Lee farm where her husband would be working and having picnic lunches with Cecil. They owned a dog, a brown and white mixed Airedale-shepherd, named Perky.

After Dallas and Cora Lee sold their farm and moved to Parkersburg, Cecil would occasionally on Sundays, take his family and the daughter and son-in-law of Dallas and Cora, Clara and John Wilcox, to Parkersburg to visit the Lee's. He would drive John Wilcox's car, a Terraplane, since John did not drive. One Sunday while driving on Route 47 on the way to Parkersburg, Jim, at about age 4, somehow got the back door of the car open, while the car was moving, and fell out of the car. Dora was able to grab Wilma to keep her from falling out, but was too late to grab Jim. When Dora looked back, Jim was on his feet running as fast as he could towards the car. They drove on to Parkersburg to the home of Uncle Dallas and Aunt Cora, and called Dr. Yeager. Dr. Yeager examined Jim and could not find any problems, other than some abrasions on his head and legs. Dr. Yeager made a second visit that day to examine Jim, but decided that he (Jim) was not hurt.

In 1944, at the height of World War II, Cecil obtained a job with Libby-Owens in Parkersburg. By now there was a shortage of about everything because of the War, especially automobiles, automobile parts and supplies, and gasoline. Cecil was not able to obtain needed gasoline or tires to drive to his job, so they were forced to move to Parkersburg in the fall of 1944. They moved to their fourth home, a house on Avery Street one house away from the home of Edith (STEPHENS) Harris, Cecil's sister. Cecil's job was to paint inside airplane fuel tanks, among other things. He came home sick every night and had a difficult time working, and after about a year had to quit the job. While living in Parkersburg, Cecil was called for the World War II draft, but did not pass his physical examination because of a slightly deformed spine.

Dora's brother, Clyde Jenkins, Cecil's future brother-in-law John Johnson, and his brother-in-law Sam Gray, all served in WW II. This author remembers both John Johnson and Clyde Jenkins coming home after the War. Later, Cecil's two living brothers, George and John both served in Korea during the Korean War.

THE MOVE BACK TO WALKER

While Cecil and his family were living in Parkersburg, Oscar Bays, who owned a neighboring farm to the Nulter house, died of tuberculosis. Cecil soon purchased the 70 1/4 acre farm[1] from Oscar's widow, Ruth (Soles) Bays, on 14 March 1945. The house on the farm had really been started as a barn, and had only been partially completed as a house. Much work was required before Cecil and his family could move into it.

In the spring of 1945, Cecil, Dora and their three children moved to Walker Station, into their fifth house, a house owned by Mrs. Vernie Race. The house was only a few hundred yards from the Walker General Store owned by Cecil's cousins, John and Clara (Lee) Wilcox. The post office and railroad depot was also in the same building as the store. The postmaster was Hazen DeVaughn, who lived next door to Cecil and family. Cecil and family lived in this house for one year while getting the house on their farm ready for occupancy. While living in the Race house, their son, Jim, started to school for his first grade at the two room Walker

School, which bordered their backyard. Jim's first grade teacher was Beryl (Mrs. Andy) Swearingen.

Adjacent to one side of the house and lot owned by Mrs. Race was an old building called the Lodge Hall that was used as a community building. The building belonged to the International Brotherhood of Odd Fellows, but the organization was no longer active in the community. This author remembers attending functions such as "pie socials" in the building. This building was demolished in about 1947.

After moving back to Walker, Cecil purchased a GMC truck and started cutting mining props and hauling them to the mines in Marion and Harrison Counties. At the same time he worked on his new farm, renovating the house and clearing the farm of brush, and planting some crops.

Very soon after moving back to Walker, Cecil purchased a three year old, very large, black colt, named Bob, which Cecil still owned when he died in 1961. This author remembers being very excited when Cecil, on his way to the farm, stopped at the house so his family could see the horse in the back of a truck. "Old Bob" was a very strong, independent, horse. He was used in situations where a team of horses would normally be used. "Old Bob" was a very eccentric horse and had many unusual habits. For example, after being guided once from the woods where he would be working to the sawmill site or wood yard, he would make the succeeding trips by himself. All that was necessary was for a logger to attach the horse to a log and tell him to go. He would start dragging the log to the proper site, stopping to rest occasionally on his way. Bystanders were often startled to see the horse arrive at a site with a log, but without an attendant. Sometimes they were fearful as to what might have happened to the logger.

The former occupant of the house on the farm, Oscar Bays, had died in the house of tuberculosis. One of the first things that Cecil and Dora did was to remove all the old clothes, etc., from the house and place fumigating candles in the house to kill any possible tuberculosis bacteria that they thought might still be present. The house was renovated with the help of Cecil's father, Marvin, and his Uncle, Henry Ware. Fences were built to contain the horse and two cows. A shallow water well was cleaned and the hand pump[1] was repaired, to supply water for the house.

THE MOVE TO THE FARM

After school was out in the spring of 1946, Cecil moved his family to the farm. This was the sixth move that Cecil and Dora had made in the eight years of their marriage. The delay in moving to the farm had been partially due to the fact that Cecil was trying to get electricity connected to the house. This proved to be impossible for quite some time because of the shortage of supplies and the backlog of orders that had developed because of the War. Cecil continued to work long hours cutting and hauling mining props, in addition to working on the farm.

1. This original hand pump is now in possession of this author.

Life was difficult, living the first year or two in the house without electricity. A gasoline motor was attached to the washing machine; kerosene lamps and a battery-operated radio were used. Natural gas was used for cooking and for partially heating the house. The natural gas supply in Walker was very limited and in very cold weather the pressure would be so low that it would be very difficult to keep a burner lit on the cook stove. A coal/wood stove in the living room supplied most of the heat in the winter time. An ice box was used in warm weather to store perishable foods. Water was carried from a well and from a spring about a hundred yards down the hill from the house. After about two years, the Monongalia Power Company agreed to connect electricity to the house. This required setting several poles to run electricity from the main line. Dora's brother-in-law, Delford Mead, wired the house. After electricity was connected to the house, one of the first purchases made was a refrigerator.

A few years after moving on the farm, a water well was drilled close to the back door of the house. The well was 80 feet deep and was probably the best well in Walker. The well never went dry, or decreased its output of water. Water was taken from the well with a hand drawn 10-quart water bailer attached to a rope. It was several years before an electric pump was connected to the well and water pumped into the house. It was always difficult in the Walker area to "strike" water when drilling wells. Most people made heavy use of cisterns and springs. During dry summers when just about every other well in Walker would go dry, this well would still produce a copious supply of good cool, water. The well was drilled by Bob Jones, who lived on Oak Ridge above Walker Station. Bob used a divining rod (a small forked tree branch) which he claimed located the good supply of underground water and marked the spot to drill the well.

In 1947, Cecil and Dora's last child, Norma Jean was born. The attending physician was Dr. Russell Yeager, whose family had owned the STEPHENS farm at one time. Soon after Norma Jean was born, Dora had to have surgery, so Dora's sister, Lula (Jenkins) Layman kept and cared for Norma Jean at her house. Cecil's sister, Ruby, moved into the house temporarily and cared for the older children and kept house.

Dora was sick several times when her children were small and had to be hospitalized several times. Once, Dora and two of the children, Jim and Wilma, all were seriously ill with scarlet fever. Wilma was in the first grade, Jim in the third. Both missed several weeks of school. Wilma missed so much school that it was impossible for her to make up the work and had to repeat the first grade. Dora was hospitalized twice before recovering from the disease. Once when Dora was in the hospital, Cecil's Aunt Alice (STEPHENS) Ware moved in to care for the family. This author still can remember the delicious king-size biscuits Aunt Alice made.

Soon after moving to the farm, a basement was dug out under the house. A corn crib and chicken house were built by Uncle Henry Ware. Cecil and son Jim spent the winter months for the first few years cutting and clearing brush on the farm preparing fields to be plowed and for pasture lands. Most of the meat used by the family came from animals raised on the farm, such as, pigs, chickens, rabbits, and cattle. At least two hogs and one cow were butchered each fall around Thanksgiving.

The animal butchering usually took place under a very large hickory tree on the upper end of the farm. The large limbs of the tree were used to hang the carcasses of the animals to be cleaned and "dressed." Dora's father, Samuel Jenkins, and sometimes Cecil's father, Marvin, helped in the butchering. Very often, Marvin STEPHENS and John Johnson would butcher hogs at the same time. The men worked together butchering all their hogs the same day helping each other in the process. Butchering day involved a lot of hard work for every member of the family. The day was started by heating several barrels of water over open fires to be used to scald the hogs after they were killed, so the hair could be easily scraped from their skins. After the hogs were dipped in the hot water, and the hair removed from their skins, the carcasses were hung from tree limbs so they could be cleaned, and cut into pieces. Next, the fat was stripped from the meat and heated to render lard. A lot of the meat, especially the shoulders, was cut into small pieces and ground into sausage meat which was fried and canned, or in later years, frozen. Most of the carcasses was used in some way. The heads were used to make mincemeat and souse, the legs and feet were pickled. The livers, hearts, backbone, and spareribs were used as fresh meat. The sides were cured for bacon, and the hams and some of the shoulders were cured with salt. To start the curing process, the sides, hams, and shoulders were immediately covered with salt and allowed to drain for several days. Next, the meat to be cured was covered with a mixture of salt, pepper, and brown sugar, and wrapped in coarse cloth and hung to cure. A lot of work to be sure, but it was hard to beat the taste of fried ham and bacon that had been prepared in this way.

A couple years after moving to the farm, Cecil starting growing several acres of strawberries and raspberries to sell as a cash crop. This also required a lot of hard work on the part of the whole family. The berry plants had to be planted, hoed, fertilized, pruned, and the blooms removed the first year. Finally, the berries had to be picked which was a "back-breaking" job. Cecil paid his children and several neighbor children 5 to 10 cents per quart to pick the berries. A lot of the berries were used to make jam, jellies, and pies for the family.

For several years, Cecil grew several acres of popcorn which the family would shell from the cobs during the winter evenings to sell the popcorn on the market.

Dora would work hard every summer canning large quantities of vegetables and fruit grown on the farm, or purchased for that purpose. Usually, she would can a minimum of one hundred jars (quarts or 1/2 gallons) of whatever she was processing. She canned green beans, corn, peaches, tomatoes, tomato juice, pickles, apples, apple sauce, plums, beets, grape juice, and rhubarb. She also made and canned many jars of jams, jellies, apple butter, catsup, and various mixtures of relishes. She also canned chickens, beef, and sausage patties. She prepared large stone jars of pickles, sauerkraut, pickled corn, and pickled beans. She also dried beans and apples to be stored for later use.

Many black walnut, white walnut (butternut), and hickory trees grew on the farm. In addition, there were many hazelnut bushes on the farm. The children would collect and remove the hulls from large quantities of the nuts. Jim sold several bushels of black walnuts each year.

Potatoes and apples were stored in bins in the basement for later use. White corn was grown to be ground into corn meal for use by the family. Earl DeVaughn ground the corn on a per share basis. Some of the yellow corn was chopped to be used as food by the animals on the farm. The family made use of a lot of eggs and milk products produced on the farm. Dora sold cream. She made lots of cottage cheese and butter. Butter was produced by several methods, such as with a large churn and dasher, shaking cream in a large jar until the butter developed, and with a "crank type" two gallon churn. Dora did most of the milking for the first two or three years after moving to the farm.

When Jim was about 9 or 10 years old, he started milking the cows, and continued such until he graduated from high school. During high school years he would have to milk at 5:00 a.m with the use of a kerosene lantern. There were several other chores such as feeding the cows, horse, pigs, and chickens, before going to school. For a few years a goat was also milked. Two of the milk cows were named Star and Bonnie.

A lot of the work on the farm was done with the use of "Old Bob" and sometimes with a second horse which Cecil would purchase from time to time. Most of the cutting of hay and plowing was performed by neighbors who owned large farm tractors. When wheat was grown, a grain thrasher would come through the community sometime during the summer to thrash out the wheat and bale the straw. In the early 1950's, a David Bradley Tiller,[1] sold by Sears, was purchased to use on the farm. This garden tiller was used extensively to cultivate the vegetable gardens, however, the horse and plow was still used to cultivate the large fields of corn. The large lawn was mowed by a push mower until the first gasoline mower was purchased in 1956. Weeds along the fence rows and roadside were mowed with a hand scythe by Cecil and Jim, and later also by Bill.

The family had several different dogs over the years. Perky, the mixed Airedale-shepherd dog that Dora and Cecil had from the time of their marriage, lived for several years on the farm. Cecil's uncle and aunt, Dallas and Cora Lee, had given Perkey to him. They had a small brown dog named Peggy, Beagles named Bob and Rex, a mixed collie/shepherd named Jeff, and an English Spaniel. After Cecil died, Dora had a Beagle named Sadie, and a Cocker Spaniel named Penney.

Cecil continued to be self-employed in various aspects of the timbering business. He cut mining props and hauled them to the mines, leaving between 2 and 3:00 a.m. in order to arrive at the mines when they opened for business. He would haul a load of coal back each day to sell to the neighbors. For several years he worked in partnership with his brother-in-law, Granville Layman, in the sawmill business. They cut timber and produced lumber, crosscut railroad ties, and mining bars. Cecil also continued to cut and sell pulpwood, and in later years this was his primary means of employment.

1. This tiller is now owned and is still used by this author.

Cecil enjoyed hunting rabbits, squirrels, quail, and deer. Deer hunting was not permitted in Wood County until sometime in the late 1950's, but prior to that time, Cecil would very often go to Tucker County, WV and spend several days hunting deer during the "deer season." Cecil killed one deer, a ten-point buck, in Tucker County.

For about one year in 1949/50, Dora's Uncle Ashford Jenkins, who had never married, lived with the STEPHENS family and worked with Cecil cutting pulpwood.

INDIAN ARTIFACTS

One of the interesting discoveries on the farm was the large number of flint arrows, spears, and other flint and stone tools made and used by the American Indians. These were unearthed over the years when the ground was plowed. Much of the farm had never been cultivated until cleared and plowed by Cecil. When new ground was plowed, the children literally filled coffee cans with flint arrows, etc. Most of the collected artifacts were lost over the years. However, this author still has one large flint spear[1] point which was unearthed in about 1953 on the farm.

EXPLORING FOR OIL

The farm was bordered on one length by Walker Creek with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad running along on the opposite side of the creek. The other long length of the farm was bordered by the Walker Road. The railroad and the road crossed to mark the borders of the farm. Just across the creek, perhaps a thousand feet from the farm, there were several producing oil wells. These wells had been drilled many years before Cecil purchased his farm. An eight inch oil pipeline crossed the STEPHENS farm and the oil that was pumped from the wells across the creek was fed into the line. Four or five wells were drilled for oil on the farm several years before it was purchased by Cecil. None of the wells had produced enough oil or gas to make them cost effective, so they all had been sealed. Several wells had been drilled for oil in various locations around Walker, but none of them (except the wells across the creek from the farm) produced oil in sufficient quantities to be useful. Of course, the STEPHENS farm was located only a few miles from the famous Volcano Oil Field which still produced oil. Every land owner in Walker dreamed of getting rich someday from a backyard oil well. Several oil companies purchased oil leases in the area. Cecil and his family were very excited when a driller, Mr. Horner, decided to drill an oil well on the farm in the late 1940's. While the well was being drilled, Cecil and/or Jim would visit the well every day to get a progress report. Unfortunately, however, as in the case of the wells drilled previously on the farm, traces of oil and gas were discovered, but not enough to make a well a producer; thus, the well was sealed.

Over the years, other oil companies and drillers considered drilling additional wells, but never did so.

A seam of bituminous coal about 30 inches deep ran along the hillside opposite Walker Creek. The former owner of the farm, Oscar Bays, mined the coal to use for heating his home.

STEPHENS GROCERY

It had always been a dream of Cecil's to have his own grocery store. In 1950, Cecil purchased a lot[1] across the road from his father, and in 1951, constructed a small building to be used as a grocery store. The grocery store did a good business, but not good enough that Cecil could spend full time working in the store and quit his timber business. Cecil's father, Marvin STEPHENS, and his sister, Martha (STEPHENS) Johnson, spent a lot of time working in the store. Jim also spent a lot of time working in the store, especially in the summers. This author especially remembers working in the store and listening on the radio to the Army-McCarthy Hearings, and to the Republican and Democratic Conventions of 1952. Cecil would usually spend one day each week going to Parkersburg to take eggs to market that his patrons had sold to the store during the week, and to purchase wholesale produce and other supplies. In the first year or two that the store was open, Cecil also had to haul the milk and other dairy supplies from Parkersburg for the store. Faud Haught, who was a foreman at Storks Bakery, brought bread from Parkersburg late each evening after he finished his shift. He would leave the bread in his car and Cecil or Marvin would pick up the bread early in the morning and take it to the store. Later, both Parkersburg Dairy and Storks Bakery delivered to the store. Wholesale groceries were first delivered by Kinney's Wholesale Groceries and later by Parkersburg Grocery Company.

In 1951, Cecil built living quarters onto the store building and completed a full basement under the store and house. In 1952, Cecil purchased a small sliver of land[2] adjacent to his lot from John L. and Martha (STEPHENS) Johnson to extend the frontage of the store property slightly. Cecil and Dora moved for the seventh time when they moved into the house attached to the store building in 1951 or 1952. This move was a mistake; both Cecil and Dora were soon sorry that they had moved from the farm. After moving from the farm, Cecil sold[3] the farm to Clyde E. Modesitt, on 6 November 1952. Cecil also sold the horse "Old Bob" to a man on Progress Ridge, but he soon learned that the new owner was mean to the horse. After about one month, Cecil bought "Old Bob" back, never to sell him again.

It soon became clear that STEPHENS Grocery was never going to do sufficient business so Cecil could quit his timbering business and devote full time to the store. The community was just too small to support such an endeavor. Therefore, in about 1954 or 1955, Cecil closed the store, but he and his family continued to live in the building until the summer of 1956. Cecil soon negotiated with Clyde Modesitt to buy back the farm.

RETURNING TO THE FARM

Cecil purchased the farm[1] back from Clyde E. Modesitt on 7 May 1956. In the summer of 1956, after adding two new bedrooms to the house, Cecil and Dora made their eighth move and returned to their beloved farm. This would be the last move they would make together. The whole family was happy to be back on the farm.

After the move back to the farm, Cecil was busier than ever with his pulpwood business and spent less time farming. There was a big demand for the wood, and soon the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company made plans to open a wood yard at Walker. After the yard was opened, wood could be sold by the truck load, instead of by the railroad car load, which had been the case earlier. Cecil was able to extend his business, buy a second truck, and hire additional workers to help produce the pulpwood.

Cecil soon had a water well drilled in a meadow above the house and started making plans eventually to build a new house, but, this never came about.

Dora's parents continued to live on their farm which could not have, because of the location, telephones, electricity or natural gas. Her father, Samuel Jenkins had a small stroke in about 1955, from which he seemed to recover completely. On Christmas day, 1956, Cecil, Dora, and all their children visited with Dora's parents. Samuel was not feeling well, but refused to allow anyone to take him to see a physician. The weather was very bad at the time, and the ground was covered with a deep snow. It was necessary to walk the last two miles to get to the Jenkins home. Everyone was quite worried about Samuel, so the next day, Jim walked back to check on his grandparents. He found that Samuel had a stroke and was only semi-conscious. Jim walked back to the main road and drove to the nearest phone and called an ambulance. In addition, Jim located a neighbor with a team of horses and a sled. To get Samuel to the hospital, it was necessary to place him on a mattress on the horse-drawn sled and haul him two miles to the waiting ambulance. Samuel had refused to move from the farm, but after he was able to leave the hospital, the family decided that he could not possibly be taken back to the farm. Therefore, Samuel and Rosetta Jenkins were moved into the house that was part of what had been STEPHENS Grocery. When Samuel was released from the hospital he was taken to his new home against his will. He was never again to see his farm. Samuel never recovered from the stroke and was a bed patient until he died in 1961.

Dora's brother Clyde made his home with Samuel and Rosetta Jenkins, but he worked away on the railroad, and was home only on weekends. In December 1957, Clyde purchased[2] the store property from Cecil and Dora.

EDUCATION

Jim, the oldest child of Cecil and Dora, graduated with an eighth grade diploma from Walker Grade School in 1953 with the highest high school entrance scores of his class of five boys and seven girls. Eventually, all four of the children would graduate from the two-room (later, three-room) school.

To attend Parkersburg High School, which was about 25 miles away, it was necessary to ride two buses. The first bus took the children from Walker to Kanawha Station, where they boarded a second bus which took the children on to the high school. Jim graduated from Parkersburg High School in 1957, and later all of his siblings would also be graduated from the same school.

In the fall of 1957, Jim entered West Virginia University, the first of his family to attend college. Jim rented an apartment at 9 Grant Ave., in Morgantown, WV, which was shared with his roommate, Kendall Cain, from Cairo, Ritchie Co., WV. Kendall's father was also in the pulpwood business. Cecil and Dora took Jim to Morgantown in a two-ton truck loaded with boxes of canned food and supplies to last him for several months. Jim had very little money, so it was necessary to take as much of his food from home as possible. Almost immediately, Jim found a job working at Cosmopolitan Lunch and worked there during his freshman year. Eventually, Jim graduated from West Virginia University with a B.S. degree in Chemistry, and later from Marshall University with an M.S. degree in Chemistry, and still later from The University of Tennessee with a Doctor of Philosophy degree in Chemistry. Jim eventually became a chemistry professor, and later an associate dean, at St. Andrews Presbyterian College in Laurinburg, NC. Thus, in one generation, the family bridged the gap from an eighth grade education to the highest college degree awarded!

None of Jim's siblings attended college, but his sister, Wilma, married a college graduate, Virgil Leroy Conrad, who was graduated with a B.A. degree in education from Alderson-Broaddus College, Philippi, WV. Later, Virgil received a Master of Science degree in Public Administration from West Virginia University.

MOTOR VEHICLES

The first car Cecil owned was a 1932 Model A Ford coupe. Later he owned a 1930's model Chevrolet. During most of his adult life, Cecil owned one or more large trucks to be used in hauling mining props, pulpwood, lumber, etc. He, at various times owned a 1920's or 1930's Indiana truck, a 1948 International truck, a 1950 or 1951 Dodge truck, and a 1956 or 1957 Chevrolet truck. At the time of his death in 1961, he owned two large trucks, a 1960 special equipped GMC and a 1959 Chevrolet. Sometimes in the early years, Cecil would own only a large truck, so the truck would also serve as the family car. Jim and Wilma would ride on the bed of the truck to church, etc. He purchased a new blue 1949 Chevrolet pickup. Cecil purchased a 1941 green and white Dodge car from his brother John in about 1950. Later, he purchased a used blue 1951 Dodge car, which was the car Jim learned to drive and in 1956, took his driver's exam in. The last car Cecil was to purchase was a new 1959 green, 2-door, Chevrolet Belair, which he still owned at the time of his death. Cecil also had purchased just before his death, a large 1961 John Deere tractor with an end-loader and blade to use in the woods to build roads and pull logs. Cecil also owned three chain saws at the time of his death.

THE DEATH OF CECIL

The year 1961 was a tragic year for the Cecil STEPHENS family. Son Jim spent 97 days during the fall and winter of 1960-61 in the West Virginia University hospital with a serious illness. The weather was very harsh during the winter of 1960-61. Cecil and his crew were not able to work much producing pulpwood; thus, he was having a tough time financially. Dora's father died in June 1961 after a long illness. Dora spent several weeks in the hospital in July 1961 with a kidney problem. Cecil was killed,[1] at age 47, by a falling tree on 29 July 1961.

Cecil would buy tracts of standing timber and then hire several men to help harvest the pulpwood. After the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company opened a wood yard at Walker for the purpose of buying pulpwood, Cecil expanded his operation by buying a second truck and employing additional men. During the last year of his life, his[2] ledgers show that he employed the following men: Rila Heldreth, Andy Spears, Jack McCray, Carl Saloons, Clarence Allen, Howard DeGoines, Lee Settles, James Modesitt, Roy Trembly, Bud Spears, Walter Swearingen, Kermit Farr, James Anderson, Ralph Ware, and Harold McClung. Usually, he had five men working full time at any one time. Rila Heldreth, Andy Spears, and Jack McCray had worked full-time for several years for Cecil. Usually two additional men from the list above were employed on any given day. Cecil's ledgers also show, for example, that his gross sales for pulpwood for June, 1961, was $4,460.78.

Usually, Cecil and his men did not work on Saturdays, except when they were making up for days missed because of bad weather. On Saturday, 29 July 1961, two of Cecil's men, Rila Heldreth and Andy Spears, along with Cecil's son, Bill, went to work cutting pulpwood from a tract of timber on Oak Ridge, above Walker Station. Cecil went to Parkersburg to pay bills, see his tax accountant, and take care of other business. He had not intended to work in the woods that day. However, when he returned to Walker from Parkersburg that day shortly after lunch, he decided to stop by the timber tract and see how his men were doing. Cecil still had on his street clothes, not his heavy duty work clothes, but he noticed a tree on the ground below a bank where the other men were working that he wanted to saw in pieces for some reason. He grabbed a chain saw, started the engine of the saw, and began to saw the tree while Rila, Andy, and Bill were sawing down a tree on a bank above him. The tree that the men were cutting down was partially dead and it suddenly snapped off and started falling in the opposite direction from where the men were trying to direct the tree. The tree headed directly for Cecil with the men yelling at him. However, Cecil would not have been able to hear the warnings over the noise of his chain saw. He probably never saw the tree which hit him squarely, crushed his head, killing him instantly.

In the confusion that followed, it took quite some time for Cecil's son Bill to retrieve the car keys from Cecil's pocket, drive to Walker Store, and call an ambulance. After the ambulance arrived, it took some time to carry the body from the woods to the ambulance. Meanwhile, Cecil's father, Marvin, got word of the accident and arrived at the edge of the woods on Oak Ridge just in time to see the ambulance go by with a sheet over Cecil's body. Marvin collapsed with an apparent mild heart attack. Cecil was declared dead on arrival at Camden Clark Memorial Hospital.

About two p.m. that afternoon, Dora's brother, Dencil, called her son Jim who was attending the summer session at West Virginia University, Morgantown. One of Jim's roommates, Gary McKown, drove Jim back to Walker that afternoon.

Cecil's funeral[1] was conducted at Mt. Carmel E.U.B. church on Tuesday, August 1, 1961, at 2:00 p.m., by the Rev. Lonnie Armentrout. Burial was in the Mt. Carmel Cemetery, across the road from the church. Funeral arrangements were by Shaver & Co., Funeral Home. Pallbearers were: Okey Jenkins, Dencil Jenkins, Rev. Howard Jenkins, Howard Jenkins, Jr., Robert Jenkins, G. W. Layman, William Caplinger, and Delford Mead, Jr. Two of the hymns sung at the funeral were long time favorites of Cecil, "Precious Memories," and "Further Along." It was necessary to delay the funeral for a day because one of Cecil's brothers was traveling between Ohio and Colorado and could not be immediately located. A very large crowd attended the funeral, probably one of the largest groups of people ever to be assembled at Mt. Carmel Church, where Cecil had been a long time member.

In February 1957, Cecil's son Jim typed a will for Cecil following a format of a sample will in a typing textbook. This simple will was dated 13 February 1957, and was probated[2] on 5 August 1961. The will bequeathed Cecil's entire estate to his wife, Dora. The will did not specify an Executor, so the County Court appointed Cecil's son, Jim, as Administrator, C.T.A., of the estate, with Marvin F. STEPHENS serving as security for Jim. Attorney Jack L. Miller served as attorney for the estate, and Daniel B. Douglass was appointed by the County Court as Commissioner of Accounts. The final settlement of the estate was ordered on 26 June 1962.

DORA MOVES TO MORGANTOWN, WV

Jim was not able to return to the summer session at West Virginia University after Cecil died. It would only be about one month after Cecil's funeral until the fall semester would begin at West Virginia University. A quick decision would have to be made as to what family arrangements would have to be made for the immediate future. Dora was now a widow at age 43, Jim was now 22 years old, Wilma was 20, Bill 17, and Norma Jean 14. Bill would be in the 12'th grade, and Norma Jean in the 10th grade. Dr. Russell Yeager, the long time physician for the STEPHENS family, was concerned that Dora, who was in poor health, was going to have a "nervous break-down" if immediate intervention was not made. Dr. Yeager recommended, that if possible, Dora be moved away from the farm, at least temporarily. It was soon decided that Jim would return to West Virginia University for the fall semester and that his family would move to Morgantown with him.

Earlier in the summer before Cecil died, he had retired his horse, "Old Bob," from the woods and turned him loose to roam in the pastures of the farm. At age 20, the horse was too old to continue working full-time in the woods as a logging horse. "Old Bob" was thought of as part of the family and it was very important to the STEPHENS family that he be well taken care of during his remaining years. Mr. Virgil L. Conrad, had a need for a horse to help haul logs for firewood to his house from the nearby woods. It soon became obvious "Old Bob" would have a good home with the Conrad family, so the horse was given to Mr. Conrad on a "permanent loan." The horse lived the rest of his life on the Conrad farm.

A furnished house was rented on Highland Ave. in Morgantown and Dora, Jim, Wilma, Bill, and Norma Jean, all moved to Morgantown before the end of August 1961. A married University student and his wife were living in the basement apartment of the house. Bill began his senior year at a Morgantown High School, and Norma Jean entered the eighth grade. Wilma obtained a job with the West Virginia University Medical Center, and Jim began his classes at the University. Dora took care of the family. This was a very difficult period for the STEPHENS family, but it was made easier by the support and frequent visits of the Virgil Conrad family.

The Conrad family, consisting of Virgil Lee, wife Ruby, sons Troy, and Virgil Leroy, and daughter, Sue, had a few months before Cecil's death moved from Randolph Co., WV, to the Walker farm they had just purchased from Dora's Aunt, Fannie Hyde. The Conrads were also members of Mt. Carmel Church. Bill STEPHENS was soon dating Sue Conrad. As soon as Ruby and Sue heard of Cecil's death, they visited with Dora and were ever present the next several days and weeks lending support and comfort to Dora and the family. Dora and Ruby became very good friends, as did Jim and Virgil Leroy. Leroy had just graduated from college and was looking for a job. Virgil Lee, and son Troy still worked in Randolph County, and commuted to and from Walker. After the STEPHENS family moved to Morgantown, the Conrad family visited with them just about every weekend. Instead of going to Walker, Virgil, and Troy would travel to Morgantown, as would Ruby, Leroy, and Sue. The Conrad family was very supportive of the STEPHENS family and their visits were especially important for Dora's state of mind. Virgil Leroy Conrad soon started dating Wilma, and they were married the following summer. Meanwhile, Leroy began his career in Social Services when he was hired by the Ritchie County Department of Social Services. Bill and Sue continued to date, but that relationship never developed.

Norma Jean adjusted to her new school and did very well. However, Bill had witnessed the death of his father and remained deeply troubled. He had always been a very good student, but he did not like the school in Morgantown and did not do well in his classes. He really wanted to be graduated from Parkersburg, High School. Thus, in the spring of 1962, Bill withdrew from school in Morgantown. He purchased a 1953 Ford car and returned to Walker to wait the return of the rest of the family.

DORA AND FAMILY RETURNS TO WALKER

During the nine months Dora and family lived in Morgantown, the farm house in Walker was completely renovated. A bathroom was installed for the first time, a hot water tank was installed, new porches were built, cedar shingle siding was added, a gas furnace was installed, etc.

In late May, 1962, after Jim finished the semester, and Norma Jean was out of school, Dora and family moved back to the farm in Walker. Jim spent the summer painting and working on the house. Dora was busy planning the reception for the impending July marriage of Wilma. After their marriage, Wilma and Leroy moved to Cairo, Ritchie County, WV. In September, 1962, Bill and Norma Jean returned to Parkersburg High School, and Jim returned to Morgantown to complete his final year at West Virginia University.

HOLLY ALLEN

Dora Lee (Jenkins) STEPHENS married[1] a widower, Holly Allen, on 18 January 1965 in Parkersburg, Wood County, West Virginia. Holly and Dora continued living on Dora's farm.

Holly Allen was born[2] 11 October 1918 in Millstone, Calhoun County, West Virginia, the son of James Filden Allen and Almira Bailey.

Holly first married Vera Hathaway and moved to Wood County, West Virginia. Holly and Vera had two sons, Dale Allen and Clinton D. Allen. Vera died and Holly raised his two sons alone.

Holly worked for many years for the West Virginia State Road Commission, but was forced to retire early on medical disability. Even though Holly suffered for many years with myasthenia gravis, a rare, very severe, muscular disorder, he was a master wood craftsman. His family have many beautiful pieces of his hand crafted wood products. Holly designed and built many of his own tools and farm implements. He once built a wood splitter from a hay baler. A local newspaper[1] ran an article, including pictures, featuring Holly and his invention.

Holly died[2] at age 66, after a long illness, on 30 April 1985 in Camden Clark Memorial Hospital, Parkersburg, West Virginia. His funeral was conducted on Friday, 3 May 1985, at 9:30 a.m., at the Leavitt Funeral Home, Parkersburg, WV, by the Rev. Parker Hinzman and the Rev. Billy Sams. He was buried in the Sturm Cemetery, near Millstone, Calhoun County, WV.[3]

THE LAST FAMILY REUNION ON THE FARM AT WALKER

On Sunday, 28 July 1985, all members of Dora's family met for one last family reunion on the family farm at Walker, WV. It was a happy time for the family in that they were all able to get together, but it was sad knowing that the farm would soon have to be sold. The reunion was attended by Jim and Nancy (Harman) STEPHENS, and daughter Emily; Virgil Leroy and Wilma (STEPHENS) Conrad, and sons Christopher and David; Bill and Barbara (Leach) STEPHENS; Eddie and Norma Jean (STEPHENS) Nichols, daughter Tina, and son Eddie, Jr. Norma Jean's daughter, Tina (Nichols) Shaw also had her son David Shaw at the reunion. A total of fifteen family members were in attendance. In addition, Leroy's mother and brother, Ruby and Troy Conrad, attended the reunion.

DORA LEAVES THE FARM

In the winter before Holly Allen's death, Dora suffered a stroke from which she did not fully recover. It soon became clear that Dora, now a widow for the second time and in poor health, could not continue living alone for another winter in Walker on the farm. Thus, in September, 1985, Dora moved from the farm for the last time and went to live in Vienna, WV, in Pleasant View Towers, on 9th and 13th Streets. The contents of the farm house, tools, farm implements, etc. were sold at public auction[4] on Saturday, 21 September 1985, by Auctioneer R. P. "Sonny" Haynes.

The farm was placed on the market to be sold[5] by the Parkersburg Realty Company on 27 July 1985. The farm was sold[6] in June 1987 to Joe Galloway, a life-long resident of Walker. Joe rebuilt the house and moved in during the fall of 1989.

After about a year, in December, 1986, Dora moved to Marietta, Georgia, to be near her daughter and son-in-law, Wilma and Virgil Leroy Conrad. Dora moved into Sterling Crest Apartments. In March, 1987, Dora suffered her second, more serious stroke, which resulted in one side being partially paralyzed which affected her speech. After a long, difficult, rehabilitation period, she lived several months with her daughter Wilma, and almost completely recovered from her stroke. In February, 1989, Dora moved back into Sterling Crest Apartments, where she is still living in January, 1990.

In January, 1990, Dora has a total of five grandchildren, and two great-grandsons, David and Duane Shaw, the sons of granddaughter, Tina (Nichols) Shaw.

WILMA LEE STEPHENS CONRAD

Wilma Lee STEPHENS was born in Parkersburg, West Virginia on 23 July 1941. She completed her education at Walker Grade School, and Parkersburg High School.

After graduating from high school, Wilma worked as a salesperson for the G. C. Murphy Co. until she moved to Morgantown, WV, with her family after Cecil died. While in Morgantown, Wilma worked at the West Virginia University Hospital.

Wilma married Virgil Leroy Conrad on 8 July 1962 in Walker, WV, at the old Mt. Carmel Church. The marriage ceremony was performed by Virgil Leroy's brother-in-law, the Rev. Parker Hinzman. Wilma was "given away" by her brother, Jim. Leroy was born in Randolph Co., WV, the son of Virgil Lee Conrad and Ruby Elizabeth Jones.

Virgil Leroy Conrad graduated from Alderson-Broaddus College, Philippi, WV, with a B.A. degree. He graduated from West Virginia University with a M.S. degree in Public Administration. Leroy worked with the social services department in several West Virginia counties. He eventually became a deputy director of social services in West Virginia, and later, director of social services for the state of South Carolina. Leroy has worked in Washington, D.C. as a Deputy Administrator for the Family Nutrition Programs, Food and Nutrition Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture. He is now, in 1990, the Regional Administrator for the Southern Region of the Food and Nutrition Service, U.S. Dept. of Agriculture, Atlanta, Georgia.

Wilma and Leroy live (1990) in Marietta, Georgia. They have two sons, Christopher Leroy and David Ray. Christopher was born 3 February 1964 in Parkersburg, WV. David was born 29 December 1968 in Charleston, WV. Christopher graduated from Kennesaw College in 1989 and entered law school in the fall of 1990. David graduated with honors from Georgia Tech University in 1991.

WILLIAM (BILL) JOSEPH STEPHENS

William (Bill) Joseph STEPHENS, the second son of Cecil and Dora, was born on Friday, 4 August 1944, at 3:30 a.m., in Parkersburg, Wood County, West Virginia.

After graduating from Parkersburg High School, Bill joined the U.S. Army and served three years, most of the time in Korea.

On Valentine's Day, 14 February 1969, Bill married[1] Barbara Leach of Belpre, Ohio. Barbara is the daughter of John Samuel Leach and Minnie Catherine Simmons.

Before going to the Army, Bill worked at Stork's Bakery in Parkersburg. After returning from the Army, he began working in 1968 at Remington-Rand in Marietta, and was on medical leave when he died. The Remington-Rand plant changed ownership and was renamed several times over the years. The plant was known as Kardex in 1989.

In November, 1986, after being quite ill for several weeks, Bill had surgery in which his diseased spleen was removed. After several weeks, Bill still was ill and he was sent to The Cleveland Clinic, Cleveland, OH, for medical tests. It was then discovered that he had a brain tumor, which was surgically removed in March 1987. The tumor was benign, but Bill suffered complications during and following the surgery, including suffering several strokes. He spent several months at the Cleveland Clinic, and later at the Rehabilitation Center at Ohio State University. Even though Bill spent many weeks at the rehabilitation center undergoing painful physical and psychological therapy, he only had a partial recovery. For almost three years Bill struggled courageously at his home in Belpre, OH, with the undaunted help of this wife Barbara, to regain his health. He lost his struggle when he died at his home on Friday, 19 January 1990.[2]

Bill's funeral was conducted at Leavitt Funeral Home, Belpre, OH, on 22 January 1990, by the Rev. Lawrence Conger and the Rev. John Longfellow. Burial was at the Evergreen Memorial Cemetery, Belpre, Ohio.

NORMA JEAN (SIS) STEPHENS NICHOLS

Norma Jean (Sis) STEPHENS was born in Parkersburg, WV on 21 February 1947. She attended Walker School, one year at a high school in Monongalia County, WV, and graduated from Parkersburg High School. After graduating from high school, Sis married Eddie Duane Nichols in Parkersburg, WV, on 10 July 1966. Eddie is the son of Bert Webster Nichols and Alta Mae Heck.

Eddie retired from the Navy after twenty years in the service. He and sis are now divorced, and he lives in Walker, WV.

Sis and Eddie are the parents of daughter Tina Nichols Shaw, and son, Eddie STEPHENS Nichols.

Tina married Mr. Shaw, and is the mother of two sons, David and Duane. She is now divorced. and is living in Virginia Beach, VA, where she is now taking courses at a junior college.

Sis married William Leroy (Bo) Dean, 23 Nov. 1991 in Marietta, GA. Sis and Bo (1991) live in Florida.

Sis was, before her second marriage, a vice president of Sovran Bank, Virginia Beach, VA.

Man Killed by Falling Tree
Walker Resident is Victim

Cecil Francis STEPHENS, 47, of Rt. 3, Walker, was dead on arrival yesterday afternoon at Candem-Clark Memorial hospital after being struck in the head by a tree during a pulp wood operation near Walker, it was learned at the hospital.

A member of the family said STEPHENS had several men employed on the operation in which pulp wood was cut and sold to the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Co. yard at Walker.

State Police said a dead tree broke in two while being cut down and struck STEPHENS.

The family spokesman said STEPHENS was using a power saw to cut wood, while employees were cutting down the tree on a bank above him. They shouted to him when the tree started falling but apparently the noise of the saw drowned out their warning shouts and STEPHENS looked up just as the tree struck him.

The accident occurred about a half mile off the Oak Grove Rd. A Shaver ambulance was summoned and was taken to within 1,000 yards of the accident scene. A stretcher was used to carry STEPHENS to the ambulance. He was rushed to the hospital where medical personnel said he had suffered a fractured skull.

Dr. Richard W. Corbitt, Wood county coroner, was notified and permission was given to remove the body to Shaver and Co. funeral home where arrangements for services and burial were incomplete last night.

The victim was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin F. STEPHENS of Walker, Rt. 3. He was married to Mrs. Dora Lee STEPHENS. A son, James Francis STEPHENS is a student at West Virginia University and arrived home last evening after being notified of the accident. Another son, William Joseph STEPHENS, 16, was working on the timber project when the accident occurred.

Other survivors include two daughters, Miss Wilma Lee STEPHENS and Miss Norma Jean STEPHENS , both at home. Two brothers, John R. STEPHENS of Cleveland, O., and George I. STEPHENS, Denver, Colo.; seven sisters, Mrs. Cecil Harris, Parkersburg; Mrs. William Johnson,

CECIL FRANCIS STEPHENS

I, Cecil Francis STEPHENS, of the city of Walker, county of Wood, and the state of West Virginia, being of sound mind and memory, do hereby make, publish, and declare this to by my last will and testament, hereby revoking any will or wills heretofore made by me.

First. I direct that all my just debts and funeral expenses be fully paid and satisfied, as soon as possible or conveniently may be, after my decease.

Second. I give, devise, and bequeath to my wife, Dora Lee STEPHENS, all the rest, residue, and remainder of my estate, both real and personal, of every kind and description, wheresoever situate, which I may own or have the right to dispose of at the time of my decease.

In Witness Whereof, I, Cecil Francis STEPHENS, the testator, have set my hand and seal hereto this thirteenth day of February in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fifty-seven (1957).

Cecil Francis STEPHENS <seal>

Signed, sealed, published and declared as and for his last will and testament by Cecil Francis STEPHENS, the above-named testator, in the presence of us, who, at his request and in the presence of him and of each other, have subscribed our names hereto as witnesses on the day and year last aforesaid.

At a regular session of the County Court, continued and held for the County of Wood, at the Court House thereof, on Saturday, the 5th day of August, 1961, Present, Malcolm B. Louden, President of said Court, and J. Lloyd Amos, Commissioner.

IN RE: LAST WILL & TESTAMENT OF CECIL FRANCIS STEPHENS, DECEASED.

"A paper writing purporting to be the last Will and Testament of Cecil Francis STEPHENS, deceased, a late resident of this County, bearing date the 13th day of February, 1957, was this day presented in open Court for probate; and said writing being duly proven by the oaths of Earl H. DeVaughn, and Geraldine Beha, the two subscribing witnesses thereto, who after first being duly sworn, testified that the signatures of the subscribing witnesses to said writing were their signatures, and that they had signed said paper writing as subscribing witnesses at the request of, and in the presence of Cecil Francis STEPHENS, the Testator, and in the presence of each other, all present together, and that the said Cecil Francis STEPHENS, the Testator, signed and acknowledged said paper writing as and for his last Will and Testament in their presence, all present together, and that to the best of their knowledge and belief the said Cecil Francis STEPHENS, the Testator, was, at the time of signing said paper writing, of sound and disposing mind and memory, and that they knew of no reason why said paper writing should not be admitted to probate.

It is therefore, ordered that the said writing be, and the same is hereby, admitted to probate and recorded as the last Will and Testament of Cecil Francis STEPHENS, deceased."

RETIRED LOCAL MAN DESIGNS MACHINES
Inventions Save Time, Energy

By: Nick Scala, Sentinel Reporter

When 61-year old Holly Allen was forced to retire two years ago with a nerve and muscle disease which created a 100 per cent disability, he found himself with quite a bit of time to spend on his 71 acres of property in the Rocky Knob Community near Walker. But his disability failed to dim his creativity and productivity.

Instead, Allen utilized his spare time by putting the gears in his head in motion to create a string of designs for time and work saving machinery and equipment that may have definite patent potential.

Allen feels the most pride for his conversion of a 1950 model Massey-Harris hay baler into a very functional wood splitter. The idea came to him as he viewed the unused hay baler on his neighbor's property and assessed the striking power on the plunger head of the 4,500 pound machine. According to Allen, the head that had been used to bale the hay delivered a striking force of 2,000 pounds.

"I figured you could make a pretty good wood splitter out of that thing," recalled Allen. The wheels of action were literally put in motion. After purchasing the baler from his neighbor for $5, he first sold the unnecessary parts for junk and scrap, attached a 1963 Datsun automobile motor to replace the engine on the baler and made the necessary modifications to create a wood splitter.

He affixed a steel guard rail beam to the plunger head, removed the baler chamber and placed them as receptacles to catch the split wood, and affixed two razor sharp steel wedges at the base of the creation to split the wood as 2,000 pounds were forced against it.

"I always watched what the other man was doing," says the inventor who was born and raised in a blacksmith shop in Calhoun County and never finished his public school education. Pointing to his head, Allen added "It all stays up there like a book."

Allen estimates that his modified wood splitter has so far split 20 cords of wood for his open fireplace at his home on Walker Creek Road. He says that once he adds several safety protections to the machine, he plans to show his invention at county fairs and arts and crafts shows.

The disease that afflicts Allen is known as myasthenia gravis, which affects the muscle and nerve systems. While it totally disabled him physically, he has not allowed it to keep his mind idle since his forced retirement from the Wood County Department of Highways in 1977.

"I've just been settin' around without much to do. I have plenty of time now, and I try to find the best ways to put it to use." In addition to the wood splitter, Allen has designed and created a four-headed wrench and a safety patent for ladders. He is still waiting to hear from the hardware companies which he informed of his innovations.

CHAPTER VII. JAMES FRANCIS & NANCY RUTH (HARMAN) STEPHENS

SECTION 1.

2. James Francis STEPHENS (1939-)
3. Nancy Ruth Harman (1943-)

James (Jim) Francis STEPHENS was born[1] in Walker, Wood County, West Virginia, in the 18'th. century log house home of his Jenkins grandparents, on Wednesday, 2 August 1939, at 2:25 a.m. The attending physician was Dr. Holmes Blair. He is the oldest child of 4. Cecil Francis STEPHENS, and 5. Dora Lee Jenkins. James was married[2] on Thursday, 6 July 1967 to Nancy Ruth Harman, by Dr. Charles A. Trentham,[3] at the First Baptist Church in Knoxville, Knox County, Tennessee. A Knox County, TN marriage license was issued to Jim and Nancy on 20 June 1967. Nancy, the daughter of 6. Samuel Garnet Harman, and 7.Ruth Evangeline Hale, was born at 6:05 p.m., Tuesday, 23 November 1943, in Richlands, Tazewell County, Virginia. Nancy was born[4] in the Clinch Valley Clinic Hospital, with Dr. N. G. Patterson, the attending Physician.

Jim and Nancy are the parents of one daughter, 1. Emily Ruth STEPHENS, born[5] at 2:03 p.m., Monday, 18 September 1972 in Laurinburg, Scotland County, North Carolina, at Scotland Memorial Hospital. The attending physician was Dr. Ben S. Tatum. Emily was 20 inches long at birth, and weighed seven pounds, two ounces.

THE HARMAN FAMILY

Nancy's parents, Samuel Garnet Harman and Ruth Evangeline Hale, were married[6] in Kingsport, Sullivan County, Tennessee, on 6 November 1941, by the Rev. R. H. Black. Samuel was born in Blackford, Russell County, Virginia, on 5 March 1916, the son of 12. Grover Cleveland Harman, and 13. Lula Mae Robinson. Samuel died[7] on 7 February 1985, at Duke University Hospital, Durham, Durham County, North Carolina. He served in the Army during World War II. Ruth was born[1] in Gardner, Russell County, Virginia, on 4 January 1919, the daughter of 14. Samuel Earl Hale, and 15. Lucy Jane Barrett. Grover C. Harman and Lula Mae Robinson, both residents of Russell Co., VA, were married[2] 1 December 1913, in Bristol, Sullivan County, Tennessee, by the Rev. A. H. Burroughs.

Grover Cleveland Harman is the son of 24. Daniel Boone Harman, and 25. Mary L. Alley of Tazewell Co., VA. Daniel is the son of 48. Elias Vance Harman and 49. Sarah (Sally) McGuire. Elias is the son of 96. Mathias Harman, Jr. and 97. Nancy Vance. Mathias, Jr., is the son of 192. Mathias (Ticy) Harman, Sr., and 193. Lydia Skaggs. Mathias, Sr., is the son of 384. Heinrich Adam Harman, and 385. Louisa Katrina. Heinrich was born ca. 1700 in Germany and migrated to Pennsylvania about 1726, and a few years later on to Virginia. Heinrich Adam Harman and his family were early settlers in the Tazewell County, Southwestern Virginia area, where he and his sons were well-known Indian fighters of their time. The Harman family history is well-documented in two books, the first[3] by John Newton Harman, Sr., and the second[4] by John William Harman. Family-group-sheets for the Harman families above are included in a later section of this chapter.

THE HALE FAMILY

The Hale family, from which Ruth Evangeline (Hale) Harman descends, moved from Franklin Co., VA and settled in Russell Co., VA in the early 1800's. Ruth's parents, 14. Samuel Earl Hale, and 15. Lucy Jane Barrett, were married[5] 26 September 1899, in Bristol, Sullivan County, Tennessee. Both were residents of Russell Co., VA at the time of their marriage.

Samuel E. Hale is the son of 28. John Thomas Hale, and 29. Martha J. Compton. John T. Hale is the son of 56. Jonathan S. Hale, the first of the Hale family in Russell Co., VA, and 57. Mary (Polly) Cockran. Jonathan is the son of 112. Thomas Hale, and 113. Rachel Sheridan. Thomas, born ca 1753, served in the Revolutionary War with a South Carolina Unit. He died 1838/42, probably in Franklin Co., VA. Thomas is believed to be the son[6] of 224. Benjamin HALE. Family-group-sheets for the Hale families above are included in a later section of this chapter.

EDUCATION - JAMES

James Francis STEPHENS began school in 1945 at the two-room Walker School, where he completed the first eight grades, graduating with an eight-grade certificate in 1953. Jim's first teacher was Beryl (Mrs. Andy) Swearingen. His later teacher's at Walker School, Goldie Beha, Mr. Golf, Edna Steele, Scott Stewart, Bert Stallings, and Mr. E. Byrd. The Walker School building was very primate by todays standards. It was a two-room school in 1945, but later a third room and a kitchen was added. The building was heated by pot-bellied coal stoves in each room. Water was obtained from a water well on the premises with a hand pump. Teams of two boys each, were assigned each week, to carry water, bring in coal, and carry out the garbage. County music, art, and physical education teachers visited the school periodically to give supplemental instruction. Usually, a teacher at Walker School would be responsible for teaching all subjects to students in several different grade levels!

One of the memorable events that occurred while Jim was in grade school was when the School Patrol went on a trip, by train, to Washington, D.C., when he was in the seventh grade.

Jim completed grades nine through twelve at Parkersburg High School, where he graduated on 23 May 1957. There were 550 students in his graduating class. Jim entered high school with the intention of entering the industrial shop section, specifically, electrical shop, for the final two years and becoming an electrician. However, his electricity teacher in the 10th. grade, Mr. Murl L. Boyles, encouraged him to take the college preparatory courses and consider going to college. Mr. Boyles was instrumental in convincing Jim that he could find "some way" to go to college even thought this seemed to be impossible, financially, at the time. Jim took extra courses during his last two years and in most of his classes, he made the highest grades. He was on the "honor roll" for every six-weeks grading period during the last three years of high school. While in high school, Jim served as president of his home room and served as a member of the Student Council. He was also a member of the Junior Academy of Science and was a student assistant to Mr. Boyles. One of the highlights of Jim's senior year was when the junior and senior classes had a party on the Excursion Steamer, "Avalon." The Avalon was the last paddle boat steamer on the Ohio River.

The Walker school bus, two different buses numbered 17, was driven by Virgil Swearingen[1] for the twelve years Jim was in secondary school, and for many years afterward. During the high school years, Mr. Emory Gimmer, in bus number 21, met the Walker bus at Kanawha Station to take the students on to the high school.

In the fall of 1957, Jim entered West Virginia University, Morgantown, WV, majoring in chemistry, and completing minors in physics and mathematics. Before leaving for college the first time, the Youth Fellowship at Mt. Carmel Church held a "pound party" for Jim, in which church members contributed food staples for Jim's use in college. Jim's father took him for his first semester at Morgantown, to an apartment on 9 Grant Ave., which he shared with Kendall Cain of Cairo, WV, in a two-ton truck loaded with many boxes of canned goods from the farm, and other food supplies. Money was very scarce, so it was necessary to take as much food from home as possible. Jim was not able to attend college continuously because of a serious illness, the death of his father, and other problems. He graduated from West Virginia University 3 June 1963 with a Bachelor of Science Degree in chemistry.

Jim entered Marshall University, Huntington, WV, in the fall of 1976. He graduated from Marshall with a Master of Science Degree in chemistry on 17 August 1965. He did research in inorganic chemistry under the direction of Dr. M. R. Chakrabarty. His master's thesis[1] was entitled "The Kinetics of the Electron Reactions Between Iron(II) Ion and the 8-Quinolinol Complexes of Iron(III)." While at Marshall, he was a graduate teaching assistant. Jim had two publications, in chemical journals, as result of his research at Marshall. One article described some special electronic equipment[2] he designed to be used in the research, and the second described some of the results of the research.[3]

In September 1965, Jim entered The University of Tennessee, Knoxville, Tennessee, to begin work on a doctorate. While at Tennessee, Jim was a teaching assistant, and during his last year was awarded the Dupont Teaching Fellowship, the highest teaching award at Tennessee. He did research in inorganic chemistry under the direction of Dr. George K. Schweitzer,[4] Professor of Inorganic Chemistry. Jim's dissertation[5] was titled: "Proton Magnetic Resonance Studies of Cation Hydration Numbers in Aqueous Solution." This research was described in two publications in

EDUCATION - NANCY

Nancy Ruth Harman STEPHENS began school in Hollidaysburg, PA, where she finished the first two grades at Hillcrest Elementary School. Her first grade teacher was Mrs. Wise. Nancy's second grade Report Card indicates that all of her grades were either outstanding or very good, and that her teacher was Mary A. Keiper. The card also indicates that at the beginning of her second grade, Nancy was 47 inches tall and weighed 55 pounds. Her family then moved to Mill Creek, West Virginia, where she finished the third and fourth grades at Mill Creek Elementary School. The next move her family made was to Norton, Virginia where she finished the fifth, sixth, and seventh grades at Norton Elementary School. Nancy had her Aunt Claudine (Hale) Ball as a sixth grade teacher. Her family then moved a few miles away to Cleveland, Virginia, where she completed the eighth and ninth grades at Cleveland High School.

Nancy's family then made a move back to Norton, Virginia, which was the final move for her parents. Nancy's mother is still living at Norton in 1990. Nancy completed her secondary education at J. I. Burton High, where she graduated in May, 1961, second in her class.

Nancy was on the honor roll all through secondary school. While in high school she served as president of her freshman class, vice-president of her junior class, and business manager of her senior class. She was a member of the Student Council and of Tri-Hi-Y, a girl's service club. She was also on the year book staff during her junior and senior years.

In the fall of 1961, Nancy began college at Clinch Valley College, Wise, Virginia. She then transferred to Emory and Henry College, Emory, Virginia, where she graduated with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Chemistry, in May, 1965. She was on the Dean's list most of the time she was attending Clinch Valley and Emory and Henry Colleges.

In September, 1965, Nancy began her studies towards a Master of Science degree in chemistry at The University of Tennessee, Knoxville. Nancy was a graduate teaching assistant at Tennessee and her office was in the same room as her future husband. This office was in the Old Music Annex which was used as an office area for chemistry and psychology teaching assistants. Nancy did her research in analytical chemistry under the direction of Dr. A. D. Melaven. Nancy's master's thesis[1] was entitled: "Atomic Absorption Studies: The Detection and Estimation of Rhenium and the Determination of Rhenium, Potassium, and Silver in Rhenium Metal Ash." After completing her M.S. degree, Nancy was employed as a research chemist at the Oak Ridge National Laboratories, Oak Ridge, Tennessee, where she worked until Jim completed his Ph.D. degree.

PRE-COLLEGE YEARS

Before leaving home for college, Jim had lived all but about one year of his live in Walker, West Virginia. Living on a farm meant there was always a lot of hard work to do. From the time Jim's family moved to the farm in 1946, just as Jim completed the first grade, he always had farm chores to do, such as feeding and caring for the animals, milking the cows and/or goats, planting and caring for fields of berries, corn, garden vegetables, etc. In his teenage years, he very often worked on Saturdays, school holidays, and during summer vacations with his father in the timbering business cutting pulpwood, white oak stave blocks, and timber to be sawed into lumber. Jim worked some Saturdays at the Walker General Store for John Wilcox, as a clerk and "gofer," when he was about ten years old. When working in the woods, he was very often assigned the task of logging with the horse "Old Bob." After his father opened a grocery store in Walker, STEPHENS Grocery, Jim spent much time working in it during non school hours. For several years Jim sold GRIT magazines (a weekly) in Walker and the surrounding area. He rode his bicycle over an area covering several miles from Hannah to Eatons. From time to time he also sold within the community such items as garden seeds, greeting cards, Cloverine Salve, and religious motto plaques. Jim also worked for two families in Walker by staying nights and helping with the chores while the man of the family worked away during the week. First, he stayed with the Blackwell family, and later with the Dale Huber family. While in High School, he would work during the noon lunch break at a restaurant near the school owned by his aunts, Edith (STEPHENS) Harris and Pearl (STEPHENS) Gray. He worked in exchange for his lunch. During the summer after graduating from high school, he worked at Krogers as a cashier and stock clerk.

Jim had a workshop-lab from the time his family first moved to the farm, first in the basement of the house and later in a separate building which Jim built. In his workshop-lab he tinkered with electronics, and conducted chemical experiments. He repaired electrical appliances for neighbors. He had amateur radio equipment which he constructed with the help of his Uncle Dencle Jenkins, who was a "ham" radio operator. Jim learned to wire houses for electrical service with the aid of his Uncle John Johnson.

Jim had a darkroom in which he pursued one of hobbies, photography, by developing his own black and white photographs. Another hobby was taxidermy.

Jim was active in the Walker 4-H Club from the time he was ten years old until he went to college. He was president of the club for several years. Some of his 4-H projects included growing raspberries and various electronic projects. He won several first and second prize awards for his projects at the Wood County Fair. He attended the 4-H camp at Butcher's Bend, Wood County, two different summers.

While living at Walker, Jim was active in the affairs of Mt. Carmel EUB Church, where he was president of the youth fellowship during his high school years. He attended the EUB Youth Church Camp at Buckhannon, West Virginia, two different summers, including the first summer that the camp was open. He was one of the group that named the camp EvUnBreth Acres. While returning from the camp in June 1950, he was caught in the great floods that hit that summer in the Ritchie, Doddridge County area. The pastor of the Walker-Cairo circuit, Rev. Gillespie, had returned the camp participants from his churches from the camp to his home (parsonage) at Cairo on Saturday afternoon. Cecil STEPHENS was to drive to Cairo on Sunday to pick up the Walker children. However, the flash floods hit early on a Sunday morning, and everyone had to retreat to the surrounding hills. No one in the area of the parsonage was hurt, but many houses and bridges were washed away.

Pets Jim had on the farm included dogs, cats, bantam chickens, a groundhog, two squirrels, domestic rabbits, and hamsters. He raised rabbits and hamsters to sell. He purchased a pair of registered "golden-bear" hamsters from a firm in Alabama when the golden hamster was still a rarity in the United States. He raised several litters of hamsters from this pair and sold them in the Walker area.

Nancy was a member of the Girls Scouts, and attended Scout camps during her youth. She always spent a large part of each summer staying with her Hale grandparents on their farm at Honaker, Russell Co., VA. Nancy worked as a babysitter for neighborhood families during her teenage years. She was active in the Norton Methodist Church.

THE COLLEGE YEARS

When Jim started to college in 1957, he only had sufficient funds to pay his tuition, buy books, and to pay his apartment rent and other expenses until about November. Without a job, he would not have been able to complete the first semester. Therefore it was necessary that he find a job immediately. Before the end of his first week in Morgantown, with the help of a friend from Parkersburg, Edna (Mrs. Murl L.) Boyles, he was hired by Cosmopolitan Lunch, as a waiter and short-order cook, in Morgantown. The owner and manager of the restaurant was a second generation Greek, John Pompadapolis. Mrs. Boyles was employed with the Employment Security Agency in Parkersburg. She was able to make contacts with her counterparts in Morgantown, who helped Jim locate a scarce job. Jim worked at Cosmopolitan Lunch for one or two hours each weekday during the lunch period, and each weekday evening from about nine to twelve midnight. He worked from eight to fourteen hours on Saturdays. On Sundays, he opened the restaurant at twelve noon, and closed at nine p.m., usually running the restaurant by himself. After his first year at Morgantown, he was employed by the Chemistry Department as a laboratory assistant. He also had a summer job each summer to help with his college expenses. The first two summers, while he was in college, he worked for the Carborundum Metals Company, a producer of Zirconium, near Parkersburg, WV. He purchased a 1950 Mercury automobile during the first summer (1958) he worked at the factory to use as transportation to and from his job. Carborundum did not hire summer employees in succeeding summers, so he worked for a short time at Storks Bakery in Parkersburg. The remainder of the time he worked with his father producing pulp wood.

The first financial aid Jim received was a $700.00 loan for the 1961-62 year, from the newly established National Defense Student Loan fund. He was able to secure an $800.00 loan from the same source for the following year.

The summer after graduating from West Virginia University, he worked with the Materials and Testing Division of the West Virginia State Road Commission, as a materials tester. He was assigned to a unit working with a section of Interstate 77 being built in Wood County between Route 47, and Route 50. This job ended when Jim enrolled at Marshall University in September, 1963.

During the Spring and Summer of his first year at Marshall, Jim worked full-time as a shift chemist at the Novamont Corporation, a producer of polypropylene, at Kenova, West Virginia. He was also a graduate teaching assistant in chemistry while at Marshall University.

While at The University of Tennessee, Knoxville, TN, Jim worked as a teaching assistant, and as a Dupont Teaching Fellow. He also worked part-time as the chemistry tutor for the University football and basketball teams.

Nancy was employed as a chemistry laboratory assistant while she was a student at Emory and Henry College. During the summers she was employed as a laboratory technician by the Tennessee Eastman Co., in Kingsport, TN. While at The University of Tennessee, Knoxville, she was employed as a graduate teaching assistant.

Jim and Nancy lived at 3700 Sutherland Ave., Knoxville, TN, after they were married, in married student apartments rented by the University.

EMPLOYMENT AFTER COLLEGE

Nancy completed her M.S. degree at Tennessee in 1967, and was employed as a Research Chemist at the Oak Ridge National Laboratories, Oak Ridge, TN. She worked at Oak Ridge while Jim completed his dissertation for his Ph.D. degree, and until they moved to North Carolina. While at the Oak Ridge Laboratories, Nancy worked on various projects involving nuclear chemistry. One project involved working with the isotope, Gold-198, used in surface labeling of sand. She published an article[1] on this work, and received a patent[2] on the technique used in the labeling.

Jim and Nancy moved to Laurinburg, NC on 8 March 1969, so Jim could begin his employment as an Assistant Professor of Chemistry, on 15 March 1969, at St. Andrews Presbyterian College. During the first year in Laurinburg, they rented a house on Hooper Drive. During the first spring in Laurinburg, Nancy worked full-time as a substitute chemistry teacher at Scotland High School, filling in for a teacher who was on medical leave.

Nancy was employed as a chemistry and science teacher at McColl High School, McColl, SC, in 1969-70. She was employed as a chemistry and physics teacher at Scotland High School, Laurinburg, NC in 1970, and is still (1990) employed in that position. In 1982, Nancy was selected[3] as Scotland County Teacher of the Year. Nancy taught her daughter, Emily, chemistry in 1988-89.

Jim continued his Hydration Number research at St. Andrews Presbyterian College and received several research grants[4] to support his work and the work of several of his students.[5] He published[6] the results of some of this research he directed in a chemical journal.

In addition to his position as a chemistry professor, Jim was appointed[7] College Registrar[8] at St. Andrews in 1974. In addition, he was appointed[9] to a new position as Associate Dean for Academic Affairs at St. Andrews in 1977. Dr. STEPHENS had additional responsibilities assigned to him from time-to-time, including: Director of the Winter Term, Director of the Summer Term, Director of Institutional Research, coordinator of various special enrollment[1] enhancement programs, and Administrator in charge of Computer Services at St. Andrews.

At the present time (1990) Jim is still a chemistry professor, registrar, and associate dean at St. Andrews. In addition, he is now Director of the 1990 St. Andrews Self-Study Project, preparing for St. Andrews application for reaffirmation of accreditation by The Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. Nancy is (1990) a committee chairperson for a similar project at Scotland High School.

MISCELLANEOUS

In the spring of 1970, Jim and Nancy purchased and moved into, a home on Debra Drive, Laurinburg. In 1978, they purchased a two-story, Williamsburg style, home on Pineview Drive, Laurinburg, where they are still living in 1990.

Jim's first automobile was a 1950 Mercury. Later, after his father's death, he drove a 1959 Chevrolet that had belonged to his father. The first car that Jim and Nancy purchased was a 1967 Oldsmobile Supreme. They had the car for only a few months when it was stolen, never to be recovered. Next, they purchased a 1968 Oldsmobile Cutlass. After moving to Laurinburg, Jim purchased a used 1961(?) Falcon to use as a second car, to supplement his bicycle which he rode most of the time to work for the first year or two in Laurinburg. In 1971 they purchased a large Ford station wagon. In January, 1972, Jim purchased a 1972 Ford Pinto, which he used until 1984 as a second car. In 1975, Jim and Nancy traded in their Ford wagon and purchased a 1975 Chevrolet Nova. Next, they traded in the Nova for a 1982 Pontiac J-2000 sedan. In 1984, Jim sold the Pinto and purchased a used 1982 Ford Escort. Finally, in 1987, they traded the Pontiac for a 1987 Nissan Stanza High-Wagon. A 1989 bright red Ford Escort was purchased in January, 1989, as a car to be used by daughter, Emily.

As a child, Nancy had a large yellow-striped cat named Tom, and a black Cocker Spaniel dog named Mickey. Jim's childhood pets are listed in a previous chapter.

Jim and Nancy's first pet was a Siamese cat, named Sadie, which they purchased in 1969. Next, after Emily was born, they purchased a black and brown miniature dachshund, named Schulz. In the summer before Emily began her first grade in school, the family was given a Calico kitten which was named Rascal. One Easter Sunday, Emily received a white rabbit, which she named Thumper. Thumper lived for several years in family's back yard, which was fenced in by a chain link fence. In the summer of 1988, Emily was given, by their neighbors, Kevin and Julie Britt, a two year old black and white miniature Pekingese dog named Prissie Sue.

Jim and Nancy had always enjoyed going to the North Carolina beaches for recreation after moving to Laurinburg. They usually rented a house at least once each summer. In February, 1981, they purchased a lot and a mobile home at Hurricane Haven, on the Intercostal Waterway, at Holden Beach, North Carolina. This vacation property was much enjoyed by the STEPHENS family and by Emily's friends over the years.

A biography of Jim appears in the 1984-85 edition of Who's Who in Frontier Science and Technology.[1]

The next chapter of this book will supply information concerning, Emily, the only child of Jim and Nancy STEPHENS.

Nancy Stephens Is Scotland County Teacher Of The Year

Scotland High School science teacher Nancy STEPHENS has been selected as Scotland County's Teacher of the Year.

Mrs. STEPHENS was selected from 10 Teacher of the Year nominees from Scotland County's public schools. She was eligible for the countywide honor after being voted teacher of the year at Scotland High School by other teachers there.

She was one of three finalists interviewed by the Scotland County Teacher of the Year selection committee Wednesday afternoon and was informed of her selection that night.

"I am very honored," she said moments after receiving the news. "I am very proud and appreciative of my colleagues' confidence in me. I will try to represent the county to the best of my ability."

Mrs. STEPHENS is the wife of Dr. James F. STEPHENS, associate dean of academics at St. Andrews Presbyterian College. Their daughter, Emily, is a fifth-grader at Washington Park Middle School.

Mrs. STEPHENS has been a teacher at Scotland High School for 13 years. She teaches biology and physics.

She graduated with a B.S. degree in chemistry from Emory and Henry College in 1965 and received a masters in chemistry from the University of Tennessee in 1967.

While working as a research chemist at Oak Ridge National Laboratory in Oak Ridge, Tennessee, she developed a method for labeling sand with radioactive gold and currently holds a patent on the process.

She entered the teaching profession, in her words "through the back door." After moving to Laurinburg with her husband, she taught for a year at McColl High School. She spent summers becoming properly certified and began teaching at Scotland High in 1970.

In a statement of her philosophy, Mrs. STEPHENS said, "It is my belief that a person cannot live intelligently in our society without at least a layman's understanding of science and its impact. My main goal is to help my students to develop scientific attitudes and questioning, observing, open-mindedness and suspending judgment. I try to accomplish this my motivating, inspiring, cajoling, challenging and even forcing students to do things in such a way that they can learn."

Teacher of the year selections at 11 of Scotland County's 14 public schools were: Penny Myers Craner, Carver Middle; Winniford "Tink" Ward, I. Ellis Johnson Middle; Brenda Blount, East Laurinburg Primary; Betty Jean Horne Thomas, Central Primary; Nancy Wilcox, Children's Center; Phyllis Dunn Leviner, South Scotland Primary; Juanita Perkins, Laura Hill Primary; Myrtle Ware, Covington Street Primary; Dorothy Cathcart, North Laurinburg; Suma K. Brooks, Shaw Middle; and Mrs. STEPHENS.

Washington Park Middle, Pate-Gardner Primary and Wagram Primary did not select teachers of the year.

(Note: Nancy teaches chemistry and physics, not biology as stated in the article. A picture of Nancy was also included with the article.)

RESEARCH SUPPORTED BY GRANT

Dr. James F. STEPHENS, assistant professor of chemistry at St. Andrews Presbyterian College, has received a $3366 Frederick Cottrell grant in aid from the Research Corporation. The grant will support a research program that Dr. STEPHENS now has underway at the Laurinburg campus.

The program is entitled "Determination of Hydration Numbers in Aqueous Solution by Means of Nuclear Magnetic Resonance." The program will be conducted in St. Andrews' new muti-million dollar Science Center with the use (of) the Nuclear Magnetic Resonance Spectrometer. St. Andrews is one of a very few undergraduate schools in the nation to have such a piece of equipment for students to use.

Two undergraduate students will assist Dr. STEPHENS in his study. One student has been named and is assisting Dr. STEPHENS now. He is Walter Lee Wright, a senior from Raleigh.

The grant will be used to support these two students this summer in addition to providing the necessary materials for the study.

COLLEGE NAMES DR. STEPHENS AS REGISTRAR

Dr. James F. STEPHENS, Parkersburg native and now assistant professor of chemistry at St. Andrews Presbyterian College, will become registrar of the college on June 1. His appointment was announced by Dean Victor C. Arnold.

Dr. STEPHENS, who joined the St. Andrews faculty in 1969, will continue to teach advanced courses in the chemistry program at the Laurinburg, N.C. college where some 700 men and women are enrolled. As registrar he will be responsible for registration and student records, degree requirement information and counseling, and student information data.

A graduate of West Virginia University, STEPHENS earned his master's at Marshall University and his Ph.D. at the University of Tennessee. His special interests are nuclear magnetic resonance and hydration numbers. St. Andrews is located at Laurinburg, NC.

ASSOCIATE DEAN NAMED AT COLLEGE

Dr. James F. STEPHENS, registrar at St. Andrews Presbyterian College since 1974, has been appointed associate dean for academic affairs, it is announced today by President A. P. Perkinson, Jr.

"Dr. STEPHENS will continue as registrar," says President Perkinson, "but will also move to give greater support to Dean Ronald Crossley in the administration of the academic program.

A chemist by training, Dr. STEPHENS came to St. Andrews in 1969 upon completion of his doctorate at the University of Tennessee. He is a native of Parkersburg, W.Va., is a graduate of West Virginia University and earned his master's degree at Marshall University.

As an assistant professor of chemistry, Dr. STEPHENS continues to teach a little bit, his special fields of interest being nuclear magnetic resonance and hydration numbers.

An associate dean, Dr. STEPHENS will give particular attention to the students and their academic programs.

CHAPTER VIII. EMILY RUTH STEPHENS

SECTION 1.

1. Emily Ruth STEPHENS (1972-)

Emily Ruth STEPHENS was born[1] at 2:03 p.m., on Monday, 18 September 1972, in the Scotland Memorial Hospital, Laurinburg, NC. At birth, Emily was twenty inches long and weighed seven pounds, two ounces. The attending physician was Dr. Ben Tatum. Emily is the daughter of 2. James Francis STEPHENS, and 3. Nancy Ruth Harman.

Emily's grandmother, Ruth Harman, carried her home from the hospital and stayed with the family for two weeks to help take care of Emily. Ruth Harman took her first airplane ride when she flew from Johnson City, TN into the Fayetteville, NC Airport the day after Emily was born.

When Emily was about five months old, her mother, Nancy, resumed her teaching position at Scotland High School. Mrs. Lillie Bell Wright was hired to take care of Emily in the STEPHENS home. Lillie took care of Emily for almost six years, staying with her until Emily began the first grade.

SECONDARY EDUCATION

Emily began her formal education by attending kindergarten at the Trinity Presbyterian Church Kindergarten program in Laurinburg. Emily's teachers were Mrs. Nancy Lea and Mrs. Connie Hunt.

Emily completed all of her public school education in Scotland County, her first four grades at South Scotland Primary School. Her teachers for the first four years, in order, were Mrs. Sarah Busko, Mrs. Lynn McDougald, Mrs. Virgil, and Mrs. Ginny Decker. When Emily was in the fourth grade, her father served as a volunteer reading assistant for Mrs. Decker. Emily's principals at South Scotland were Mr. Gilmore and Mr. Tommy Clark. Emily's father drove her to school each day and she was picked up at the end of the day by Mrs. Harling who returned her to Jean Harling's Playschool, where she was picked up by her mother later in the afternoon.

Grades five and six were completed at the Washington Park Middle School. Sycamore Lane, a new middle school, opened in the county and Emily completed her seventh and eighth grades in the new school. Emily rode a bus most of the time while in middle school.

Emily completed grades nine through twelve at Scotland High School where her mother teaches chemistry and physics. Emily, in the eleventh grade, had her mother for chemistry and was able, with a lot of hard work, to earn a grade of "A" for each six-weeks grading period.

SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

While in the fifth grade, Emily was a candidate for Valentine Queen.[1] While attending Sycamore Lane, Emily was inducted into The National Junior Beta Club. A major event for Emily, when she was in the sixth grade, was winning the first prize in the fifth-sixth grade category of the annual science fair, held on 15 March 1984. The next week, she competed in the county science fair, and won first place in the Junior Division.[2] Emily's project involved the rate of adsorption of various dyes in a variety of fibers. Emily created a cartoon strip for the school newspaper, called Google Eyes. Emily also served on the yearbook staff while at Sycamore Lane. An ad Emily created for a local music store, Music Master, was published in the local paper.[3] Emily was on the honor roll most of the time she was in middle school. In the seventh grade, she won the "Most Improved Girl" Physical Education Award. Emily was in the band, playing a clarinet, all the time she was in middle school and participated in several school band concerts.

Emily continued in the band during her first year at (ninth grade) Scotland High School. She participated in a Scotland High School Band Concert on 21 May 1987. Beginning with the tenth grade, Emily was on the girls' varsity tennis team, and no longer participated in the band.

She earned varsity letters in tennis during each of her last three years at the high school. The girls' tennis team was the Southeastern 4-A Conference Champion four years in a row, including each of the years Emily played.[4]

Emily was inducted into the National Junior Honor Society on 29 April 1987, and into the National Honor Society on 2 November 1988. She was a Junior Marshal[5] for the 7 June 1989 Scotland High School graduation. A new academic honors program called "Top Scot Award" was started during Emily's senior year in high school and she was a member for each of the grading periods. Emily also received a Chamber of Commerce "Academic Achievement Award" each year that the awards were given.

While in High School, Emily was a member of the Anchor Club, Drafting Club, and the Art Club. She was also a member of the publications staff while in the tenth grade.

At the end of the 1988-89 academic year, on 6 June 1989, Emily was awarded a certificate of "Perfect Attendance."

During Emily's junior and senior years, she attended the Junior-Senior Proms with John Alcini.

During Emily's senior year she went skiing for the first time when she went on a long weekend outing to Banner Elk, North Carolina, with her Drafting Club. She also went to the Bahamas in the Spring of 1990 on a senior trip.

AWARDS FOR ARTISTIC ACHIEVEMENT

From a very early age, Emily had a flair for drawing and painting. She was very creative and won many awards and honors during her school years. She had a drawing in one of her high school publications, Phoenix - A Magazine of the Fine Arts.[1]

Emily won[2] third place for her tenth grade entry in the Annual Design-An-Ad Contest sponsored by The Laurinburg Exchange. She was the first place winner[3] for her eleventh grade entry in the Art Ad contest. She also had a winning ad[4] during her senior year.

Emily received Scotland County Schools Art Awards for Artistic Achievement on 23 May 1988 and on 12 May 1987. She received the Scotland County North Carolina Association of Educator's (NCAE) 1989 Outstanding Contribution Award for her entry in the Minority Affairs Arts Contest.

Along with some other seniors, Emily won[5] top honors for designing a theme poster for the "Just Say No to Drugs" campaign. Her picture also appeared in the local paper[6] showing her preparing decorations for a Scottish Celebration.

Several of Emily's art works were chosen to be framed and displayed in the Administrative Offices at Scotland High School.

The above are only examples of the many types of commendations Emily received, as a student, for her art work.

MISCELLANEOUS

From the time Emily was in the first grade until she was in high school, Emily took weekly dance lessons and participated each spring in a dance recital.

Emily attended Day Camps for several summers at St. Andrews Presbyterian College. While attending these camps, she became an excellent swimmer and earned her American Red Cross life saving card.

During one of her summer vacations, Emily attended a Tennis Workshop sponsored by the Scotland County Parks and Recreation Department. Her picture appeared in the local paper when the paper did an article concerning the workshop.[1]

Emily's pets included a calico cat named Rascal, a white rabbit named Thumper, a dachshund named Schulz, and a black and white miniature Pekingese named Prissie Su. Emily also had for a short time a baby guinea fowl which she hatched from an egg given to her by her great-uncle, John Johnson, of Walker, WV. The egg was hatched in an incubator borrowed from Scotland High School. The guinea saw only humans after hatching and was imprinted to the extent that it would follow a person around just like a baby guinea would normally follow its mother. When Emily sang to the baby guinea, the bird closed its eyes and stretched out on the floor in such a position that it appeared to be dead. When she stopped singing, the bird would jump up and start chirping loudly.

From Middle School on, Emily's best friend has been Wendy Stone, the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Richard Stone. Rev. Stone is a Methodist minister, and it was a sad time for Emily and Wendy when the Stones moved from Laurinburg to serve a church in Wendell, NC. However, the two girls have been able to get together often and have spent some vacation time together each summer.

One of the big moments in Emily's life was when she received her North Carolina Drivers' License on 19 September 1988. Her parents purchased a new, bright red, 1989 Ford Escort for her to drive.

Emily was chosen as a candidate[2] for Scotland High School's 1989 Homecoming Queen.

Emily worked for several families as a baby sitter during her high school years, and worked at the Laurinburg Winn-Dixie store during the summer after graduating from high school.

FROM HIGH SCHOOL TO COLLEGE

At the Senior Awards Program at Scotland High School, Emily was awarded the Senior Art Award as the outstanding art student, and received the Laurinburg Lioness Club Scholarship.[3] She was also designated as a "North Carolina Scholar."

Emily graduated from Scotland High School on 9 June 1990. She entered Queens College, Charlotte, NC, in September 1990 to major in Art and Education. Emily chose Queens after considering, and visiting, several other colleges. She is a Dean's List student at Queens.

Laurinburg, NC 28352

Dear Mr. & Mrs. STEPHENS

Emily has been elected to membership in the Scotland High School Chapter of the National Honor Society.

This national organization, founded in 1929, is sponsored by the National Association of Secondary School Principals. Its purpose is to recognize and promote scholarship, citizenship, service, leadership, and character among qualifying students.

We feel that membership in the society will be meaningful to your child, and that her contribution, together with that of the other members, will be beneficial to our school and community.

You are invited to an induction ceremony to be held in the Halbert M. Jones Library on Wednesday, November 2, 1988, at seven-thirty o'clock in the evening.

Yours truly,

SCOTLAND HIGH TENNIS TEAM EDGES PINECREST HIGH, 5-4

After what Scotland High girls' head coach Bob Ormsby called "a lousy performance" in single's play, the Lady Scots made up for it in double's play en route to a 5-4 win over Southeastern 4-A Conference rival Pinecrest Tuesday at the Scotland Tennis Center.

Coach Ormsby's team, 3-2, lost four of its six single's matches, including the No. 4, No.5 and No. 6 positions. Cayce McCall, playing at No. 2, defeated Cindy Harman in straight sets 6-3, 6-0, while Mary James, playing at No. 3, blanked Heather Gardner 6-0, 6-0 to improve to 5-0 on the season.

Trailing 4-2 going into double's competition, the teams of McCall-James, Jennifer Pratt-Ashley Wright and Heidi Steinbrink-Emily Stephens all came through with wins. McCall-James won 8-2, Pratt-Wright won 8-0, and Steinbrink-Stephens won 8-5.

"I've been coaching tennis for seven years," said coach Ormsby, "and this is the first time our team has ever lost at four, five and six.

"Our single's play overall was very lousy. We were in all six single's match, but the Pinecrest girls just outplayed us. We went into double's play needing to win all three, and by-golly the girls did it.

"The girls played with a lot of heart. A lot of teams will quit after getting beat 4-2 in singles...but our girls didn't. Mary James and Cayce McCall played excellent singles and doubles. Jennifer Pratt and Ashley Wright also looked good in doubles.

"Heidi Steinbrink and Emily Stephens have really been a great surprise at No. 3 doubles...these girls are seniors and starting for the first time. They really won a big match at No. 3 doubles."

The Scotland High varsity girls' tennis team returns to action Thursday at home against Lumberton. Match time is 4 p.m.
